Quiet Zone, due to safety and liability concerns.

During the celebration, Councilman and three time Mayor, Antonio "Tony" Cartagena, said to the community members that since 2005 and earlier, he worked on gathering information relative to the Quiet Zone initiative. Cartagena said he spear-

Volunteers honored

held at the LA Royal Vista Country Club this year, is hosted by the Walnut Sheriff Booster Club, which holds annual fundraisers to support the volunteers, explorers, and reserve deputies.

"By your volunteerism, if you place it into numbers, you have donated over $280,000 worth of service," said the evening's host, Gil Rivera, of www.sellyourcasa.com. A number so large, that it amazed the crowd. Rivera is also a board member on the Sheriff Booster Club.

Those who were honored were: Station Volunteer of the Year - Tim Boktor; Walnut Volunteer of the Year - Lynda Woodstra; Diamond Bar Volunteer of the Year - Jorge Torres; Rowland Heights Volunteer of the Year - Frank Duquite; Reserve Deputy of the Year - Ed Boktor; Explorer of the Year - Philine Tran; and Disaster Communications Services Volunteer of the Year - Joe Almada.

"Our annual fundraising efforts support the many items that are NOT on the LA County Sheriff's budget," said Booster Club President Dr. Jeffry Lowe, a Chiropractor at Lowe's Chiropractic in Diamond Bar. "Our next fundraiser is our annual Variety Show, next Sat., May 4 at Walnut High School, beginning at 6 pm. If you cannot attend, at least purchase a ticket. 100% goes towards the station. The site for our ticket website is <http://www.seatyourself.biz/sheriff>."

The money raised goes towards Sheriff Reserve Officers needs, Volunteer supplies, and Explorer fees and costs, according to Dr. Lowe.

Designing Your Own Life

By NANCY STOOPS

Why do you let everybody run your life? Why do you feel you have no choices and that life can't ever get better? What is it that seems to keep you stuck? How many times have you asked yourself these questions? Let's see if we can answer some of questions. I think we let others run our lives because we feel we don't know how to and out of fear, we allow others to run things for us. In terms of feeling we have no choices I think it's just a bad habit of limiting our expectations and not having faith in ourselves.

I believe we stay stuck because we get comfortable even if we are miserable. It also takes a lot of energy to change and many times we don't want to put forth that kind of energy. The alternative is to do nothing and to just stay stuck. We ask ourselves the same questions over and over and at the time we tell ourselves that this time we will finally change. I believe people mean it at the time they say it, but then they get lazy when it comes to actually doing the work involved to get to where they want to.

Please stop assigning blame to everybody else and everything else because you are only reason why you don't have the life you want. We all have things that get in our way of our journeys, but it's also up to us to overcome that adversity that literally stops us dead in our tracks. I get so tired of people telling me they can't when I know they can if they could try harder and fight for the life they want. People are always putting off having the life they want by telling themselves once they get though this or that life will improve and be what they want it to be. The truth is that all they are really putting off is life!

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DR AKIYOSHI,

I have a car detailing business, and I mostly get paid in cash. I think this makes me a target for my friends and family to always ask me to borrow small amounts of money. It's just $40.00 here, and $100.00 there. Very rarely does anyone pay me back. I don't really need the money back, but I feel they are taking advantage of me. I don't want to start a big fight either.

Matt

Hi Matt,
I know exactly how you can handle this without starting a big fight. Let them know you are happy to do a personal favor for them by giving them a little cash. Then ask what sort of personal favor you may expect in return. Ask if they'd be willing to help you out on their day off if you get in a bind and become overly booked with your detailing business. Ask them if perhaps they are willing to do your grocery shopping, or if they'd be willing to deliver lunch to you when you are too busy to take a break. You get my drift. You will be amazed how many people will look shocked when you require the relationship to be a two way street. The real "takers" will stop bothering you. They're usually not very interested in doing their part. Have fun with this!

Golf Fore The Kids

By MARK HOPPER

I started playing golf after I got married. My father-in-law was a good golfer and I thought it would be a good way to spend time with him.

I wasn't very good and I know he would get impatient with me at times. I would hit the golf ball all over the course and often had a hard time finding it. He would say, "Hurry up. The people behind us are waiting!"

My golfing skills began to slowly improve. My goal was to eventually beat my father-in-law. It took a while, but I finally did, after he was 70 years old!

Now that I have son-in-laws of my own, I know that their goal is to beat me in a round of golf. But, I am doing all I can to make sure that they don't!

If you enjoy golf, let me invite you to the annual "Golf Fore The Kids" fund raising tournament on Monday, May 13th at the beautiful Western Hills Golf Club in Chino Hills.

This annual event is co-sponsored by the Walnut Valley Rotary Club and the Diamond Bar Community Foundation. Together these two groups raise money to help provide activities and scholarships for youth in our community.

The entry fee is $150 per person and includes golf, a nice lunch and other goodies. It also includes a "hole-in-one" contest for a new car! This is a fund raising event and it will be a lot of fun!

If you would like to participate, please feel welcome to contact me at my email address or check out the Diamond Bar Community Foundation website. Better yet, why not invite some friends or business associates to play with you?

You can help kids in our community and enjoy a great day with friends on the golf course too! Every one is a winner!

New Walnut Captain Jeff Scroggin

San Gabriel Valley.

"I'm looking forward to working with the communities of Walnut, Diamond Bar, and Rowland Heights," said Captain Scroggin. "It's very challenging and diverse, but I'm looking forward to helping keep this community safe."

Captain Scroggin received his Masters Degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati, and achieved his Bachelors Degree locally, from Cal Poly Pomona, where he majored in Business Management.

"Our main focus will be to reach out and try to get more volunteers," said Captain Scroggin. "We need to continue great partnerships and enhance patrols. Utilizing our station volunteers to do "vacation checks" on our residential properties can greatly decrease burglaries and free up Deputy time to patrol high traffic areas."

The Captain has encouraged those who are interested in serving our community to call the station at (909) 595-2264 and ask about becoming a volunteer. His team plan includes working closely with the community to ensure its safety and focus on crime prevention issues.

"Our biggest problems in our area has been theft and burglaries," Captain Scroggin said. "We encourage everyone to report suspicious people and get a hold of us as quickly as possible. Lets deter individuals from even THINKING of coming into our community and committing crime."

The Captain also noted that "bedroom communities such as ours are targeted for what criminals perceive to be in our homes. So if you see someone suspicious, act quickly."

"Public safety is our number one concern," Captain Scroggin added. "We can mold our mission with public trust to continue to keep this a safe and great place to live."

According to the City of Walnut, the Walnut Sheriff's Station serves the cities of Walnut, Diamond Bar, and unincorporated areas of Rowland Heights and Covina. The Sheriff's personnel provide a number of programs and services to keep Walnut a safe community. Programs serving Walnut include Bike Patrol, Volunteers on Patrol, Neighborhood Watch, and Substance Abuse Narcotics Education and many others.

felony count of using a minor for distribution of obscene matter with prior convictions for possession of child pornography and using a minor to create pornography, one felony count of using a minor for commercial sex acts, and one misdemeanor count of oral copulation of a minor.

Phernambucq has prison prior convictions for using a minor to create pornography in 2006 and unlawful sexual intercourse with a minor three years younger than the defendant in 2003 and became a lifetime registered sex offender based on those prior convictions.

In December 2012, Phernambucq met 17-year-old John Doe on Facebook.

Prior to the sexual assault, Phernambucq told the victim he was a pornography director and wanted to hire him to be in his pornographic film.

On or about Jan. 23, 2013, Phernambucq met John Doe at an abandoned house in Anaheim. Phernambucq ordered the victim to undress and created child pornography by videotaping sexual acts and orally copulating John Doe. The victim became uncomfortable and left.

Upon learning that Phernambucq is a registered sex offender, John Doe told his family about the sexual assault, who then contacted the Anaheim Police Department to report the crime.

Quiet zone established in City of Walnut

headed and advocated the then Assistant Manager Tony Ramos, City Manager Jeff Parker, colleagues in the City Council, and others connected with the City of Industry to lobby with then former Mayor Dave Perez and members of their council.

In the same year of 2005, with the assistance of Union Pacific Railroad, California Public Utilities Commission, the City of Industry, the City of Walnut and County of Los Angeles began to develop a program of improvements at each of the crossings. The City of Industry pledged to fund, build and complete the project to enhance Walnut's quality of life. Cartagena said that the City of Walnut enjoyed the relationships and was pleased and truly grateful for the neighboring city's efforts.

When Cartagena assumed his role as mayor in 2006, he said Quiet Zone was one of his top mayoral goal priorities. Newly appointed City Manager Rob Wishner and Senior Management Analyst Chuck Robinson, as well as the rest of the council including Mary Su, continued to lobby with City of Industry and other agencies connected with the Quiet Zone project.

During the last two years, Rob Wishner, Mayor Mary Su and Cartagena had met with members of Industry's City Council to lobby heavily on the completion of the project and provide any assistance including getting some assistance from state legislators, the County of Los Angeles, and U.S Representatives. The great news finally came about the Notice of Establishment of the New Quiet Zone last month. Cartagena said that effective April 22, 2013, the routine sounding of train horns at crossings will be restricted within the Quiet Zone area.

"So far today, 3 freight trains passed by within the quiet zone area in Walnut and no blasting of horns occurred," said Cartagena.

Recap Of Local Crime Last Week

STAFF REPORTS

Southern California - There has been a lot of crime happening in the surrounding area this past week. Here is a recap of all the crime that went on.

On April 18, Police and bomb squad members were called to a Pomona courthouse when a bomb threat was called in. Officials had set up a perimeter around the courthouse and called in bomb squad technicians to send in a remote control robot to detonate a device on the scene. When the device was detonated, it was examined and identified as a hoax device at which point the evacuation of the courthouse was suspended.

On April 19, San Bernardino County Sheriff's arrested a man they suspect broke into a Chino Hills home that day. Juan Pablo Gonzalez, 25 of Los Angeles, is a suspect of a number of burglaries in Chino Hills and in the surrounding area.

When officers responded to a burglary in progress in the 2200 block of Scenic Ridge Drive in Chino Hills, they determined that Gonzalez had fled out the back of the house leaving behind a trail of stolen property. Deputies used the Sheriff's helicopter and a Pomona Police Department K-9 unit to search the area, according to official reports. Gonzalez was spotted walking along a street behind the home that had been broken into and was stopped and questioned. Deputies said he had burglary tools and stolen property on him. Officers also found a car used by Gonzalez containing thousands of dollars worth of stolen property. The arrest is one of several made recently after a string of burglaries have struck Chino Hills, Diamond Bar, Claremont, and La Verne over the past few months.

On April 19, a man accused of setting fire to the St. Vinney church causing 6.2 million dollars in property damage, is set to stand trial on May 2. Gregory Yusuke Shiga, 35, was arrested in May of 2012 and was charged with the arson committed on April 16 2011 of the church on Turnbull Canyon Road. Shiga is also being charged with special allegations stating that he caused multiple other structures to burn and that the fire was caused by a special device made to accelerate the fire or delay ignition, according to the District Attorney's

On April 20, Police were investigating the theft of security cameras in a trailer park in Pomona when they encountered three male teens in the back of the park.

Officers approached the three teens who appeared to be involved in some drug activity. When Police searched the boys, they found that one was in possession of methamphetamine and cocaine packaged in small bags for sale, according to police reports. The street value of the drugs was about $2,800. In addition to the drugs, the teen was carrying drug paraphernalia and a large sum of money.

Officers also found a no-bail arrest warrant had been issued for the teen related to a robbery case, the report said. One of the teens, a 17 year-old Pomona boy and accused gang member, was arrested at 10:35 a.m. Friday off the 1050 block of E. Mission Blvd, according to Pomona police.

On April 21, a woman and her dog were fatally killed in a car crash near Pathfinder Rd. in Diamond Bar. The crash happened about 9 p.m. Sunday when a full-sized Cadillac Escalade SUV struck a Toyota Prius stalled in the Number 3 lane on the southbound 57, killing the woman and one of the two dogs in the car. The woman was later identified as Shardaben Patel, 67, of Anaheim.

On April 23, a 55 year-old man was found in the 500 block of North Currier Street around 8:30 p.m., when officers responded to a call of a victim down. When officers arrived on scene, they found Conrad Jimenez, Pomona, in the street suffering from several gunshot wounds to his lower extremities, according to a police report. Further investigation is still taking place.
