Parking Restrictions Take Effect April 1

BY MARLYN SALGUERO

Walnut – Parking will not be allowed along Temple Avenue, the street that separates Cal Poly Pomona University and Mt. San Antonio College campuses.

A safety issue was brought up by concerned Cal Poly students over a "Pizza With The President" event, according to the Cal Poly Pomona news release. Students asked what could be done to improve safety on Temple Avenue, which has been a major talk among students and residents.

The intersection has a speed of 50 mph and there is no crosswalk beyond University Drive, making it a dangerous intersection for students who park on the south side of Temple. The road has two lanes in each direction separated by a raised median strip.

The release reports that University officials began talking about ways to improve safety along this busy highway with the

Walnut Man Arrested In Drug Raids

BY ANDREW HOOVER

Walnut – Local Walnut man was one of the 10 arrested in the Federal and state drug busts last week.

Walnut resident Steven Huytu Lam, 52, was arrested on Mar 20 in a linked drug bust of marijuana grow houses across three southland counties.

The DEA investigation that was underway had lead to the raid of 26 houses throughout the Los Angeles, Riverside, and San Bernardino counties, 15 of which were grow houses, and 10 out of 11 arrests. The 11th suspect Andy Tran, a 39-year-old Monterey Park resident, is still at large and being sought by authorities.

According to the U.S. Attorney's Office, the drug trafficking ring would purchase or lease single family homes and convert them into full marijuana farms. The houses featured full hydroponic growing equipment as well as stolen electricity obtained with a sophisticated electrical

Community Club Treasurer Charged

STAFF REPORTS

Diamond Bar – A former Community Club treasurer was arrested and charged with grand theft and forgery this month.

The charges stem from the misappropriation of funds from the Castle Rock Community Club, a non-profit organization created to raise funds and enhance opportunities for students attending Castle Rock Elementary School, according to an LA County Sheriff news release.

Lisa May, also known as Lisa Haygood, was previously a volunteer as Castle Rock's Community Club treasurer. An investigation had determined that May took $39,651 from the Community Club's fund by forging checks numerous times.

The release stated that the theft occurred over a 6 year period and was discovered in June of 2011. Since then, detectives have been sifting through a paper trail of bank records, checks and receipts which culminated in the case being presented to the D.A. for filing consideration.

Detectives from Walnut/Diamond Bar Station filed a felony complaint with the District Attorney charging May with six felony counts including Grand Theft and Forgery. A felony warrant was issued for May's arrest and she was taken into custody on May 5, 2013.

May was also known as the AYSO Regional Commissioner. However, no reports of any missing money from AYSO have been reported.

Walnut Hills Optometry

has been able to provide quality eyecare to many people, however, there are still many more who do not realize the importance of yearly eye exams. Dr. Larino aims to educate patients on the importance of annual vision tests, even amongst children.

"Too often I examine someone who has no complaints with their vision, but find that glasses are needed." "This is why parents should not wait for their child to complain about their eyes, nor should they depend on school screenings alone. A child may see fine, but it might take extra effort to read books or look at a computer screen," Dr. Larino said. "In an adult, I often find that a so-called migraine is actually a headache due to poor eye alignment." A thorough eye examination by Dr. Carmela Larino, OD will help to make sure a person's eyes are not only functioning properly, but also looking healthy.

Dr. Larino also noted that many people have vision coverage as part of their employer's insurance package and don't take advantage of it or don't even realize they have annual vision coverage.

"In this economy, it's important to take advantage of insurance coverage," she said. "Many people don't get eye exams that have already been paid for through their payroll deductions. A standard co-pay, if any, is all that would be left to pay, at the time of visit."

Dr. Larino has been with Walnut Hills Optometry for over 15 years and has lived in the community for more than 30 years. "That makes me unique," she said. "Unlike other businesses, I actually serve in the community in which I was raised. My patients may actually find me shopping in a local store or dining at a local restaurant. It's always a pleasure greeting patients outside of my practice knowing I have a connection with them through their vision care."

Dr. Larino enjoys her profession even more because she is able to build life-long relationships with clients.

"Having practiced over 15 years, it's been neat seeing people go through the stages of life," she said. "I've watched my young patients grow up to finish college, experience work life and married life, and even have their own children, who have then become my new young patients."

Walnut Hills Optometry offers a premium selection of frame styles from makers such as Armani Exchange, CK Calvin Klein,

Coach, Converse, Disney, Gucci, Fendi, Kenneth Cole, Nike, and more. All frames are current, with no style that is discontinued so they all have some type of warranty. They would be happy to discuss custom lens options and contact lens options suited to your vision needs. "Because you know WHO will care for your eyes..."

To make an appointment call (909) 594-1153 or (626) 965-3878. Walnut Hills Optometry is open during convenient weekend and evening hours and is located at the Nogales and Amar Albertson's center on 18736 E. Amar Road in Walnut/West Covina.

WOOD PELLET GRILLS

MAXIMUM OUTDOOR VERSATILITY

HOW IT WORKS

THE TRAEGER WOOD PELLET GRILL IS SIMPLE AND SAFE TO OPERATE. WHEN A TRAEGER IS TURNED ON, THE IGNITER ROD IS ACTIVATED, THE AUGER BEGINS TO FEED PELLETS INTO THE FIREPOT, AND THE DRAFT INDUCTION FAN FEEDS AIR INTO THE FIREPOT. THE IGNITER ROD GLOWS RED HOT FOR THE FIRST FOUR MINUTES OF OPERATION - JUST LONG ENOUGH TO IGNITE THE PELLETS IN THE FIREPOT.

TRAEGERS REQUIRE STANDARD HOUSEHOLD ELECTRIC CURRENT (110 VAC), WHICH POWERS THE IGNITER ROD, AUGER MOTOR AND DRAFT INDUCTION FAN.

Hiking the Hills

By MARK HOPPER

Twenty years ago, the city of Diamond Bar negotiated an agreement with a local home developer. The agreement provided for the construction of some beautiful new homes. It also included an agreement to preserve a large amount of undeveloped land.

Twenty years later, more and more people are walking through these undeveloped areas in Diamond Bar. Several different trails are available for both active hikers and casual walkers.

My wife and I have enjoyed using these trails that are not far from our home. The hillsides are covered with a variety of vegetation including prickly pear cactus and stately California Live Oak trees.

There are several places where you can stop and read about the history of the San Gabriel Valley and the Diamond Bar Ranch. Several maps and signs provide helpful information about the surrounding mountains and valleys.

The views are spectacular. You can see downtown Los Angeles to the west and the San Bernardino Mountains to the east. The San Gabriel Mountains provide a beautiful back drop to the north and there are a few small glimpses of Orange county to the south.

If you need a little exercise and some fresh air, I recommend that you try hiking the trails in Diamond Bar. You can park your car at the Diamond Bar Community Center on Grand Avenue near Summit Ridge Road.

Put on your hiking shoes, bring along a bottle of water and enjoy the beauty of our community this spring. Hike the hills of Diamond Bar. You will be glad you did!

Getting Through the Rough Patches

By NANCY STOOPS

Why is it that just as you think you have figured it all out, something else comes along that you've got to work through? Why does it feel as if there are always obstacles that get in our way? What are the life lessons to be learned from getting through the rough patches?

My belief is that we are here in this life to learn many lessons and to gain much wisdom. I feel we are asked to do this so that we can have the honor of growing into who God intends us to be. The problem with this idea is that it can be very painful when we are immersed ever so deeply in a rough patch. We feel lost and as if we will never learn the lesson we are intended to learn. We feel like it's all so very overwhelming and that we will never find our compass to help direct us. For me, when I am here, I feel I must have faith and that when I finally find my way it almost makes some sense in a weird way.

I understand that I wouldn't be who I am without the struggles life has served up. I know that the same struggles that feel as if they drag me down have probably saved my life. I say this because of the wisdom and life lessons that have come to me only because of the struggles.

I believe we are much stronger than we think we are. Sometimes we've got to use that very last ounce of courage to get through a rough patch. Many times these rough patches make us lie to ourselves and make us believe we can't possibly find our way though. I have faith in you, you can get through it!!!!

For more information about any of these services feel free to page her at (626) 935-3818 or call her at (909) 229-0727. You may e-mail Nancy at stoopssheeter@earthlink.net You may purchase Nancy's new book Live Heal and Grow at www.RoseDogBook-store.com or at Amazon.com.

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DR. AKIYOSHI,

I made a decision to attend college two hours from my home. My dad was really mad about this, but I went anyway. My mom died when I was ten, so my dad and I are really close. Two weeks ago, I had to go to the emergency room for the flu. They told me that my medical insurance had been canceled. When I called my dad, he said he took me off his policy since I make all my own decisions now. I am really hurt. I think he should have warned me so

I wouldn't be stuck with this expensive medical bill on my credit card. I don't think I will go home to visit him during Spring Break. He has always been controlling, but this was mean. I know if I skip this visit, I will be starting a war between us. Please help me decide what to do.

Craig

Dear Craig,
Sometimes when people feel helpless, they stab out in all kinds of weird ways. If you and your dad have always been close, take this into consideration. I'm sure he misses you tremendously, and in some ways he is still trying to exert his control over you by messing with your medical insurance. I advise against any further immature behavior. Do not follow your dad's lead. Instead, let him know that you are unable to visit for Spring Break because you are going to pick up some extra work to pay your medical bill. Then work very hard to get this accomplished. This will help him see that you are truly growing up. You are entering adult living now, and this is a pretty realistic view of how things can be at times. I think your dad will eventually calm down and come around to more logical behavior. Don't take any steps to make matters worse. This usually doesn't turn out well. Restoring harmony is the best bet.

toxicated and one misdemeanor count of driving on a suspended license. If convicted, he faces a maximum sentence of four years in state prison. The People will be requesting Morales be held on $100,000 bail at his arraignment at the West Justice Center in Westminster.

At approximately 7:15 a.m. on Oct. 1, 2012, Morales is accused of driving in an industrial area in Fountain Valley to work as an automobile mechanic in a truck belonging to a customer. The defendant is accused of being under the influence of methamphetamine.

Victim Timothy Michaud, 49, was working underneath an RV, which was parked on the side of the road and elevated on blocks. Due to its size, the RV was protruding slightly into the road. Morales is accused of failing to avoid the RV and crashing into it, causing it to fall onto the victim. Morales remained at the scene and attempted with other witnesses to free the victim using a hydraulic jack, but the victim was crushed by the RV and died at the scene.

The Fountain Valley Police Department responded to the scene and investigated this case. The defendant's blood was examined by the Orange County Crime Laboratory. At the time of the crime, Morales is accused of being under the influence of a high quantity of methamphetamine.

Senior Deputy District Attorney Troy Pino of the Homicide Unit is prosecuting this case.

Popsicle Shop Making It Big

BY: ANDREW HOOVER

Diamond Bar- Local Diamond Bar resident is quickly making a name for herself with her unique thrift shop trailer. Diamond Bar resident Crystal Melendez, 23, is the owner of the Popsicle Shop truck which recently got the number 2 spot in the L.A. Weekly's "10 Awesome L.A. Trucks That Sell Things Besides Food" article.

Melendez attended the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising located in Downtown Los Angeles where she studied Merchandise Marketing. When noticing the food truck trend, Melendez came up with the idea for Popsicle Shop, her mobile boutique filled with cute vintage, thrift and resale clothing as well as handmade items including jewelry, hats, scarves, and purses. Melendez has been doing this for a little over a year now. "It's really been fun," said Crystal.

In the last few weeks, Crystal's business has been blooming by appearing at local farmers markets and even landing a spot at the upcoming Brokechella Art and Music Festival in Los Angeles on April 20. Crystal loves catering to her customers in a completely eco-friendly way, providing thrift store items that Crystal hand picks personally so you don't have to.

"When you come into my shop, I want it to feel like it's your own closet," says Crystal. "All the items I have have their own personality." Crystal and her brightly colored trailer can be found in downtown Anaheim at the Farmers Market every Thursday from 12 P.M. to 7 A.M. and every Sunday at the O.C. park from 10 A.M. to 2 P.M. Crystal also opens her shop randomly at her Diamond Bar home for some of the elementary and high school kids who make their way past her house after school.

Crystal can be reached online at www.twitter.com/PopsicleShop, www.facebook.com/PopsicleShop, and Instagram at @popsikleshop.

Los Angeles County and City of Pomona which have jurisdiction over Temple Avenue. After this meeting, a study was conducted by the Los Angeles Department of public works analyzing traffic accidents, field observations and other related data.

The results of the study showed 22 rear-end accidents combining both sides of Temple during a five year period ending last August. The reason for these accidents was because drivers stopped or slowed down mid-block to wait for a parking space.

The suggestion by the Department of Public Works was to prohibit parking and stopping on both side of Temple Street between university Drive and Walnut City limit.

The No-Parking, No-Stopping measure was approved on Feb 5 by the Los Angeles County board of Supervisors and will be enforced by local law enforcement agency. Beginning April 1, signs will be installed affecting a reported number of 150-180 cars out of 22,000 daily visitors.

In a weekly video message, University of Cal Poly Pomona President Michael Ortiz stated that the results were not what the University initially expected, and although suggestions for street lights and increasing security patrol will not make a difference in accidents that happen in broad daylight, he respects the decision that was made by the County. The university President assured his students that administration officials are working hard to fulfill needs of the Campus and community without violating state and federal regulations. "The safety of the University has been in one of my highest priority," he added.

With this new measure, University officials advise students and faculty to purchase parking permits or to find other alternatives such as public transportation. Visit the university Website at www.csupomona.edu
