CH Homes Built Beyond Boundaries

BY: ANDREW HOOVER

Chino Hills – The City of Chino Hills has recently been under fire due to the encroachment notices it has been sending out these last few years, which caused a lawsuit and several city meetings regarding the issue.

Encroachment is a term which implies "advance beyond proper limits," meaning the boundary lines for the city and homes. Each home is built within its own boundary area that contains a certain square footage limit between them and the cities protected open space. The protection of these open space areas has led to the rural atmosphere that resident's treasure, according to the city's website.

Chino Hills has been handing out encroachment notices since early 2010, after recently switching to digitally recording its boundaries in 2008. This new system has allowed officials to see the exact boundary line and what houses are

STAFF REPORTS

Industry -The proposed stadium's future is looking grim as laws changed, which halted the go ahead of development.

Back in 2011, the Supreme Court ruled to kill local redevelopment agencies which halted many projects that did not have existing contracts through them, Industry stadium being one of them.

The state ruled that the original contract of the architect and landowner of the Industry stadium, Edward P. Roski, had areas that were not formalized. One in particular being, where one part of the project would not take place until another was finished. The recent ruling has halted any money from being obtained by Roski for infrastructure, causing a legal battle between Roski's attorney and the state of California.

Diamond Bar man pleads guilty

money from investors who believed he generated consistent, substantial profits, and that their money would be safe and available upon request. During the 5½-year life of the scheme, Madad received more than $49 million from investors.

Madad, 66, ran his scheme through a company called Technology for Telecommunication and Multimedia, Inc. portrayed himself as a successful investor who had not lost money in a single day of trading – except one day in 2006. Madad, who was profiled and interviewed in media serving the Pakistani-American community, told reporters and potential investors that he had developed a day-trading technique that was always profitable.

Over the course of the scheme, Madad sent victims monthly account statements that always showed gains in their accounts, and some victims gave Madad additional funds based solely on these account statements. Madad admitted today that the balances shown on these statements were false, and that, in fact, he lost more than $15 million in unsuccessful trading.

While Madad promised that he would not take any fees or compensation for managing the invested funds, Madad admitted today that he spent well over $15 million of investors' money on personal expenses, including real estate, jewelry for his wife and daughters, vehicles and cash disbursements to himself and family members.

Although Madad returned approximately $17.7 million to investors, many of the payments he made were Ponzi payments, meaning that the money came from funds entrusted to him by other investors, rather than from profits or interest he had earned.

Madad's scheme originally came to light two years ago when he was sued by one of his investors.

Prior to and following Madad's arrest in October 2012, pursuant to court-authorized warrants, the government seized a Mercedes-Benz, 68 pieces of jewelry, and other luxury items, including silk and wool handmade oriental carpets. Madad also agreed to pay the IRS approximately $5 million in unpaid taxes for tax years 2006 through 2010.

Madad is scheduled to be sentenced by United States District Judge Percy Anderson on June 24. As a result of today's guilty pleas, Madad faces a statutory maximum sentence of 23 years in federal prison.

The case against Madad is the result of an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and IRS - Criminal Investigation.

HOW IT WORKS

THE TRAEGER WOOD PELLET GRILL IS SIMPLE AND SAFE TO OPERATE. WHEN A TRAEGER IS TURNED ON, THE IGNITER ROD IS ACTIVATED, THE AUGER BEGINS TO FEED PELLETS INTO THE FIREPOT, AND THE DRAFT INDUCTION FAN FEEDS AIR INTO THE FIREPOT. THE IGNITER ROD GLOWS RED HOT FOR THE FIRST FOUR MINUTES OF OPERATION - JUST LONG ENOUGH TO IGNITE THE PELLETS IN THE FIREPOT.

TRAEGER'S REQUIRE STANDARD HOUSEHOLD ELECTRIC CURRENT (110 VAC), WHICH POWERS THE IGNITER ROD, AUGER MOTOR AND DRAFT INDUCTION FAN.

A Time To Plant

By MARK HOPPER

There is a parable in the Bible about a farmer who goes out to plant his field. In Bible times, the farmer would scatter the seeds across his field hoping that some of it would take root and grow.

In Matthew chapter 13, Jesus uses this familiar image to teach an important lesson. In the story, Jesus says that some of the seeds fell on hard packed soil, like the paths that often crossed the farmer's field. These seeds did not take root and the birds came and ate it.

Other seeds fell on rocky ground where the soil was very thin. These seeds did sprout, but because the roots were not very deep, the seedlings died under the warm sun.

Other seeds fell among thorns and weeds. A lot of these seeds did take root, but the weeds and thorns choked them out and the results were very small.

Some of the seeds did fall on good soil. In fact, the parable says that these seeds produced a huge crop! In the good soil, those tiny seeds resulted in a bountiful harvest.

The key to the parable is to recognize that the seed was the same, but the soils were different. Jesus said that the soils represent our hearts and minds. The seed represents His words.

Some people's hearts and minds are like the "hard" soil. They are unteachable and unwilling to consider spiritual things.

Other people are like the "thin" soil. They initially are excited to learn and grow. But, eventually the enthusiasm fades and their lives remain unchanged.

The soil with the weeds and thorns represents people whose lives are so busy that they don't have time to let His words sink into their hearts.

But the good soil represents the hearts and minds of people who were open and teachable to His words.

Which soil represent your heart and mind? Are you willing to listen, read and learn? Or, are you stubborn and closed minded? Are you too busy to listen and learn?

The spoken words of Jesus and the written words of the Bible were given to change our lives.

As you plant a garden this spring, remember the key is the soil. As you read and reflect on the Bible, remember, the key is the condition of your heart. Be open. Be receptive. Be teachable. You will be amazed at the results!

Instincts

By NANCY STOOPS

I think we underestimate our instincts. We seem to go to others more than trusting ourselves to make decisions. I've always thought of our instincts as our own personal guide or life coach. Our instincts need to be trusted because they are a gift from God that help us know what is right or wrong for us. We all have felt our stomachs when we go against our instincts, when in reality our instincts guide us. I've never understood why people would trust anybody else more than they would trust themselves. I think when people are generally insecure, they struggle trusting themselves and their instincts.

My instincts never fail me. When I was younger, I didn't always follow them and would end up in trouble. Now that I'm older and hopefully wiser, I know I can always trust my instincts. Learn to pay attention to the red flags or warning signs because they are there to protect us from potential harm. I have found that they generally are trying to tell me something that I need to know. Learn to have faith in yourself and start to believe in you. Start making decisions that are good for you and learn to trust your gut. The more you follow your instincts and see that they guide you well, the more trust you will develop in yourself.

You wouldn't throw away a map that would take you to a very sacred destination. By not following your instincts, I think you are throwing away one of the most valuable tools we have for self exploration and finally finding confidence in oneself. Learning to trust your instincts can also make you a good judge of character when it comes to deciding whether or not to let people into your lives. Once you find that confidence, you will be free to depend on yourself to decide what is right for your life. This confidence is a very empowering tool that can change a life!

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DANICE,

I used to cut hair for a living. I have been out of the business for years. I volunteer my time at a women's shelter once a month, cutting hair for people who are facing hard times. Because I do this, many of my relatives ask me to cut their hair. I don't mind when I have time, but two of my relatives are pushy with me when I can't meet their demands. They are trying to use me as their regular haircut person. I don't know how to get out of it. Please help.

Thank you,
Deanna

Dear Deanna,

Since you are so kind hearted in donating your time to people facing hard times; my idea is to let all your relatives know that they will have to make a decent donation to the shelter, or the charity of your choice in order to get a haircut from you. They will also have to work within your schedule. You've made it fairly easy for the pushy folks. Explain to them that you really value your time and skills, and request them to respect this. Abusive people can smell a kind, over-functioning person a mile away. Change the dynamic of these relationships so both parties are giving and receiving. I think you'll be pleased with the outcome.

Good Luck

ment for a prior conviction in 2004 for pandering of a minor in Nevada.

In April 2011, Arnold contacted Jane Doe after obtaining her information from Jane Doe's friend in Atlanta. Arnold contacted Jane Doe and got her to meet him in Los Angeles. Arnold purchased

Jane Doe a bus ticket and she traveled from Atlanta to Los Angeles. Arnold drove Jane Doe from Los Angeles to Anaheim where he convinced her to perform sex acts with men and turn over the proceeds to him.

Arnold exploited Jane Doe by requiring her to give up the money she received for performing sex acts and required her to check-in with him when she was about to perform a sex act for money and after she finished. Arnold also advertised Jane Doe's services on websites.

On May 10, 2011, an Anaheim Police Department (APD) Officer approached Jane Doe as she was attempting to find people who were willing to pay for sex acts performed by Jane Doe. APD who investigated this case, learned after further investigation that Arnold was her pimp. Jane Doe was granted immunity and treated as a victim and not charged with a misdemeanor. The felony charges in this case were filed on the exploiter. The next day on May 11, 2011, APD arrested Arnold outside a motel room in Anaheim.

On May 7, 2012, while out of custody on bail, Arnold did not appear in court for the remainder of his jury trial. The remainder of the trial was conducted with the defendant not present in court. On Oct. 30, 2012, Arnold was arrested by the Los Angeles Police Department and transported back to Orange County.

Deputy District Attorney Daniel Varon of the Felony Panel prosecuted this case.

built over city property. Over 200 homes throughout the city have been identified as building over city property and more are expected to be found. Most of the homes that have been identified have already handed in plans and drawings for their home improvements, resulting in a permit from the city prior to the digital recording of boundary lines.

Many of the residents who have appeared at the City Council Meetings have voiced their concerns on the matter explaining that they have submitted the proper paperwork stating what they were to build, as well as plans and drawings for landscaping, and even obtained the proper permits by the city.

Kim and Mike Denton, a family and residents of Chino Hills, responded to the encroachment notices with a lawsuit. The Dentons had moved into their home in 1995 due to the lush and lavish backyard featuring palm trees, a pool, a spa, and a beautiful view of the hills that was left by the previous owner. However, their paradise became a nightmare when they were slapped with an encroachment notice from the city explaining to them that their backyard was encroaching upon city property and they must remove parts of it, including electricity, irrigation, fencing, and part of their pool.

Further details on the lawsuit were unable to be obtained until the lawsuit finalizes.

Bernardino and Riverside Counties. He also does real estate appraisals for banks, estates, trusts, divorces, attorneys, refinances, home purchases, and upon death of a homeowner for tax purposes. Rivera also has assistants that work with him who are fluent in Spanish and Chinese, which helps him to reach people of different dialects all over Southern California.

Rivera is in his 20th year of business and has SOLD homes in 26 different cities in Southern California, so his coverage area is expansive. Rivera said, “I can do this because I appraise homes in so many different cities and have the knowledge and expertise associated with your marketplace. Give me an opportunity and you will surely be happy you did! In Feb. 2013, Rivera listed a home in Monterey Park worth $470,000. Rivera received 53 offers in 7 days and SOLD it for $515,000!

Rivera’s philosophy is to “treat my clients the way I want to be treated.” In fact, Rivera said that he became a Realtor because he did not like the way his Realtor treated him when he was buying his home. Rivera shows respect for his clients at all times. He listens to what they say, so that he can better serve them.

Rivera also does not push his buyers into a sale. Rivera said, “I always tell buyers: ‘You will know right away when we walk into the house that’s meant for you.’ Whether it takes a week or months, my buyers will always be satisfied with their purchase and never pressured into it.”

Rivera’s Sellers love the fact that he offers a discounted commission, but with full service! Rivera offers a 4% Total Commission for Sellers. This includes 2.5% to the Buyer’s Agent and 1.5% to Rivera’s office. Most Realtors negotiate a 6% commission because they have to split the fees with their brokerage. But, Rivera passes on the savings to the Seller. This will save Sellers thousands of dollars in commission fees. His team offers full service for that discounted rate including high quality flyers, professional photos, open houses (as allowable by Seller), and extended advertising coverage on the Internet and social media.

Rivera’s current promotion is “We will SELL your house in 6 weeks at highest value! We only request a listing period of 6 weeks, while most other Realtors ask for 6 month listings.” Rivera says that “Buyers need to know that they do not need to pay their Realtor any fees for representing them on a purchase. The Buyer’s agent is paid by the Seller, not the Buyer.

Rivera absolutely loves what he does. He loves selling homes to Buyers because he helps fulfill their dreams of home ownership. His favorite part of selling homes to Buyers is transferring the keys to excited Buyers. Rivera loves selling homes for Sellers because he enjoys the uniqueness that each property offers and selling the positive attributes of the home. Rivera says, “Many agents spend their time showing houses....I SELL them!”

Check out Rivera’s website at www.SellYourCasa.com to see how many different cities Rivera has sold in and for additional information about Rivera’s company. You can also call the toll free number at 1-877-888-SOLD (7653) or cell phone numbers 909-967-4525 and 626-340-9950. Also, check out his ad on this page of the Weekly News.

Naturopathic medicine is the field of natural or alternative medicine that advances a philosophy that the body possesses a vital energy that guides metabolism, growth and the ability to adapt in people.

“I have a genuine interest in restoring physical and emotional harmony for the people I work with,” said Akiyoshi. “I feel I have natural abilities when it comes to caring for people,” she said.

“If I can lighten or remove pain and suffering from one person, then that touches everyone who loves them,” said Akiyoshi.

Akiyoshi’s ability to recognize her patient’s symptoms and to provide the most effective treatment possible is what separates her from traditional medical providers.

“I am quick to get to the root of the difficulty my patients are experiencing. The results are often amazing,” said Akiyoshi.

Akiyoshi enjoys a loyal clientele that she has developed throughout the years, which include, her family, friends and clients.

“It is my desire to assist people in feeling better physically emotionally and mentally,” said Akiyoshi.

She also enjoys working in an exclusive field that is somewhat rare.

“The services I offer are so unique that I don’t believe I have much competition,” said Akiyoshi.
