Donations Needed For Transition Program

BY KELLI GILE

Walnut -- Walnut Valley Unified School District will launch the Hockwalt Resource & Transition Training Center (HARTT Center) for the 2013-14 school year.

The HARTT Center serves 18-22 year old students with disabilities who are receiving a Certificate of Completion from high school and have significant needs for support as they transition to adulthood.

The HARTT Center aids in the development of a continuum of transition skills based each student's unique level of ability with the goal of successfully transitioning to adult living. Skills are developed using community-based instruction in addition to classroom instruction.

WVUSD is seeking tax-deductible donations from the community for a kitchen that will be set up at the Center on Lemon Avenue in Walnut.

Donations of dishes, cookware, silverware, utensils, dishes, placemats and napkins are now being accepted.

The District is also looking for local businesses that would be able to provide possible work experience placements.

Please contact Judi Koorndyk, Coordinator of Special Education, at jkoorndyk@wvusd.k12.ca.us, if you would like to donate or get information about helping provide work experience for the students.

Those Amazing Mothers

By MARK HOPPER

There is a wonderful passage in the Bible that is often read as a tribute to mothers. It is found in Proverbs chapter 31:10-31. It is actually addressed to both wives and mothers.

This insightful passage reminds us that behind every successful wife and mother are several influential people.

First, behind every successful wife and mother is a supportive and encouraging husband. In verse 29, the author says that "her husband praises her". One of the most important things that wives and mothers need are words of praise and encouragement.

Often they only hear complaints and criticism. Women need words of affirmation and encouragement from their husband and children.

In addition, behind every successful wife and mother are children who express their appreciation and admiration. In verse 30, the author says, "Her children rise up and bless her".

I often say that no one works harder than mothers with little kids. Their work is never done from dawn to the setting sun! As children hear their father praise and thank his wife, children will follow his example in expressing their appreciation to their mother.

The third one behind every successful wife and mother is God. Again in Proverbs 31:30 the author says, "The woman who follows the Lord will be praised." I believe that most women who have experienced the wonder of child birth and having a family know in their hearts that there is a God who made this possible.

I have had the privilege of being in the delivery room when my children were born. Witnessing the birth of a child is a remarkable and indescribable experience. How can this be possible without a creator who made this whole process?

A successful wife and mother needs strength and support from God. God can provide courage in times of fear and endurance in times of distress.

In addition, a wife and mother has the unique privilege to tell her children about God. She can have an important spiritual influence in each of their lives.

I hope that you will honor your mother, your wife and the mother of your children this month. You play a vital and important role in her life!

Stay True To Who You Are

By NANCY STOOPS

You are the very special you. There is nobody else like you in this world.

Why would you want to work so hard to become somebody else? Why don't you realize just how amazing you are just by being you? Stop worrying about what society tells you about who you should be. You shouldn't have to change things about yourself to fit in. Don't do things that you know are wrong just because your friends or other people do. Stay strong and true to who you are and don't give in to peer pressure. If certain people don't like who you are, then find some other people that like you for you.

It really all starts with you being proud of who you are and sticking to your convictions. There aren't any reasons that you should have to sell your soul. Nothing is worth you letting go of you only to become who you think everybody else wants you to be. Learn to stand up for yourself and smile back at yourself when you look in the mirror. Learn to pat yourself on the back for not conforming. I'm not saying for you not to work on becoming better each and every day, but don't lose the essence of you along the way.

Don't allow yourself to be mistreated or bullied by others. We train the people in our lives to treat us the way we want to be treated. Don't allow any type of abuse from another human being to stay in a relationship or to fit in. Also, you should always ask to be respected and if others don't respect you, then you don't need to have them in your life. Learn to treat yourself with love and respect and the people in your life will do the same!

beautiful songs for our event.

Members of the Baldwin Park Roadrunner's Mascot Cheerleading team also performed a few of their cheers for the event. These cheerleaders were also featured in the "Gangnam Style" dance with dancing sensation, Luke Rivera, at the end of the show.

The show ended with all the participants dancing to the "Harlem Shake", which was led by Luke Rivera.

Recap of local crime last week

CHP reported. The exit ramp at Garey Ave. off the 60 freeway was shutdown shortly after 10 a.m. and remained shutdown for several hours.

The second incident that occurred on May 3 was a 15-year-old Diamond Ranch High student was arrested for bringing a firearm onto school grounds. Police were called to investigate at around 12:30 p.m. When deputies arrived on scene, a cooperative effort was enacted between deputies and school officials to do a thorough search of the classroom and detain the student. When officers checked the student's backpack, they found and recovered an unloaded firearm inside the student's backpack next to his desk on the classroom floor. It was later determined the firearm in his possession had been reported stolen in 2008, according to a written police report.

The student was arrested for possession of a firearm on school grounds, possession of a stolen firearm, and being a minor in possession of a firearm. The student was booked at the Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff's Station and was transported to the Los Angeles County Probation Department's Los Padrinos Juvenile Hall. The student was not eligible for bail.

On May 5, a suspect was attempted to break into a Diamond Bar residence but could not enter. Police attempted to search for the suspect via helicopter and vehicle patrols, but were unable to find the suspect.

tact the suspects in the Mercedes, the Mercedes sped off and a pursuit was initiated. The suspect vehicle reached speeds in excess of 100 mph on the southbound 57 Freeway near Brea Canyon Road.

After a short period of time, the Mercedes collided with a tractor-trailer in the city of Brea. The suspects abandoned the Mercedes and fled on foot into a Brea residential neighborhood. A perimeter was immediately set up with the assistance of Brea, Fullerton and La Habra Police Departments. A search for three suspects began using Sheriff's Department K-9 units. Shortly thereafter, the three suspects were located. All three suspects were arrested and positively identified by a victim of one of the burglaries.

Arovista Elementary School in Brea was placed on lock-down for about two hours while deputies searched for the suspects.

Deputies recovered stolen Mercedes and also thrown from the car. It is believed the suspects may have committed as many as three burglaries that day, including one in Pomona. At this time, the three suspects, although in custody, have not been positively identified.
