91 Project Fast Forward

By KIMBERLEY SANDER

Riverside County – It used to be, a long time ago, that there was freeway traffic congestion in the morning going to work, and in the evening coming home. Nowadays, it seems like there is rush hour traffic seven days a week and you have to allow extra travel time to get anywhere, at any time. Even when you expect the freeways to be bare in the wee hours of the morning, construction can bring your

Beware Of Telephone Scams

By KIMBERLEY SANDER

Los Angeles County – Decades ago a telephone scam consisted of children prank-calling random numbers asking if they had Prince Albert in a can (better let him out!). Today’s scammers are much more sophisticated and are costing you money.

According to the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department, victims are receiving calls from a person claiming to be a deputy sheriff, public safety agency or hospital. The impersonator states that a family member has been involved in an accident or has been incarcerated and they were listed as the emergency contact. The victim is instructed to call a number beginning with *72 to get additional information or to be connected to the officer at the accident scene. When this number is dialed, a wrong number recording will be heard. Out of concern for the loved one, this is usually followed by a call to a sheriff’s station where they are told the deputy does not exist or is not on duty, and they may have been involved in a telephone scam.

The results of this scam are

Is Anything Really Forever?

MICHAEL ARMIJO

The hardest day of my life was a year ago in May. It was like every other morning with the exception that it was their anniversary. Mom and dad got up, went to brunch, went home, and then got into a little argument. My dad wanted somewhere to go to be by himself so he went to check on his rental property that was recently vacant.

I got home that night around 9 p.m. and found out my mother had called. Mom was wondering why dad wasn't home yet, but it was like him to stay at his rental property and fix things. Mom wasn't too worried, so I went to bed. A few hours later she called me again; "Your father still isn't home yet, now I'm worried." At a frantic pace, I went to his rental property and found his truck in the front of a darkened house. With a racing heart and fear to go in and find him, lying there, I called 911 for assistance.

I told the operator that I was afraid to enter the house by myself, I was afraid of what I might find. A sheriff deputy arrived and shined his flashlight on the front door. It was so dark at 2 am, I didn't even notice the front door wide open. We walked inside and there was my daddy, lying in the hallway, lying on his side without movement.

I remember yelling; "He isn't moving, why isn't he moving?" The officer grabbed me and dragged me outside, calmed me down, and told me to wait while he checked what on was going on.

At that point I tried to convince myself he was asleep on the floor or just passed out. I was in complete denial that he would be gone – and gone forever – until the paramedics came. They ran into the house in the hopes of helping a victim survive, but three minutes later they walked out. I wasn't sure what to do, but I knew one thing, I had to try to be responsible, I had to go home and tell my mom.

YOU NEVER KNOW WHAT TO EXPECT

When I told my brother and sisters the news of our father, I received a different reaction from each. But the strongest reaction embedded in my memory is the one from my mom. I called my sisters to help me tell mom about dad, but they lived so far away they couldn't be there for quite some time. I knew I couldn't let my mom wait that long, she was waiting for me to bring my father home. I knocked on my neighbor's door but they couldn't hear me from their back bedroom. It was at that time I realized that no one was around and I was going to have to do this on my own, so be it.

It wasn't the screaming or the crying that affected me so much; it was what my mother said. She was angry because she and my father had promised each other they'd leave this earth together. They made a pact. They had a deal. She was angry because he broke that pact. The deal was off. At that point I admired how strong their love was; I admired how much they really loved each other. So much so, they not only discussed how they'd be together, but how they'd leave together as well. I never knew this, and it saddens me that I had to find out about it this way. I guess sometimes regardless of what this life gives you, and regardless of how much you think you know, you find out that you never know what to expect.

A FIRST FOR EVERYTHING
Whoever said, "the hardest time after a death is the first year" was right. It's been interesting and difficult. Death really does something to people; it really makes them change. You hear things you never thought you'd hear; you see things you never thought you'd see. That first Thanksgiving, that first Christmas. The first time one of your parents isn't at your son's sixth grade graduation or your daughter's recital. Your kid's birthday parties, your son's little league games. You sit there enjoying yourself and then sense that something missing. The first time I felt stressed and dad wasn't there to tell me; "it'll all work out ok," was my hardest. Dad wasn't kidding when he told me; "there's a first for everything."

YOU NEVER KNOW
If there was one thing I've really had to push into my life is to enjoy it. If one of my children gets out of line or has done something wrong, I talk about it. I don't scream and yell, and I don't smack them. I never send them to bed on a bad note, and whenever I leave, I always give them a hug and a kiss (something my 12-year-old son tries to avoid, but I force it on him). I do this because my father and I had the worst relationship in the world. And then one day, for a reason only God may know, I confronted him with my feelings. We really opened up, laid it all on the table, and enjoyed ourselves. It took time for us to heal, but we worked on it, and in the end I had the fortunate opportunity to have a close and loving relationship with my dad. It was the fastest five years of my life.

We had fun, forgave each other, and told each other we loved each other. I am very fortunate to able to say that I don't have any regrets about our friendship. I always wanted more from life but he always told me to "stop striving for bigger toys and invest yourself in love, because you never know, son, you just never know."

SOME THINGS ARE FOREVER
There's something about seeing your parents in enormous grief that does something to a person. They're your safety net in life, they're the one thing you can bet your life on who'll always take you back if you failed out there in the world. They're the ones that you knew would love you forever, regardless of what you've done or where you've been. When that gets destroyed or damaged, you come to the realization that you're definitely, and I mean definitely, on your own. Life becomes this big "do or die" situation. Ready or not it's time to grow up. You get kind of nervous that the encouraging source in your life is gone. The wisdom they provided turns into a distant whisper.

It's kind of like when you were in school; you'd walk into the class and find you were having a pop quiz. You felt this panic overwhelm you, and you'd try your hardest to remember what the teacher told you the day before. You had no warning, no time to prepare, the test is here and it's now. You never anticipated this coming; it never even entered your mind. All you can do now is hope you were paying attention all that time, all you could do was hope you were a good student. Teacher's not going to give you any answers today; you are on your own.

A day will then come, when life tests you and your ability. After you feel confident you've passed that test you realize an important reality: just like the love you never knew that your parents shared, some things really are forever.

Originally published in August of 1998, this is the very first "Our Life" ever printed in The Weekly News, and the reason why we started this newspaper. It was after writing this story that I decided how short life was, and how important it is to do what you believe in. This story helped me realize what we believe in. # More San Gabriel Valley Dead Birds Test Positive for West Nile Virus:

BY: JENNIFER MADRIGAL

SGV - Three more dead birds were found in the cities of Arcadia and Covina this month. All three birds tested positive for the West Nile virus. Mosquitoes in the area have been tested for the virus, but so far none have tested positive. The San Gabriel Valley Vector Control District recommends that residents take precautions to avoid mosquitoes. First and foremost, do not let standing water accumulate and report all “green” out of service pools or other areas of standing water to the District. To avoid bites, avoid outdoor activity in the early mornings and for 2 hours after dusk, when mosquitoes are most active.

Also, if you see dead birds or squirrels, report them to the WNV hotline at (877) WNV-BIRD. For more information on the West Nile Virus go to www.westnile.ca.gov and to report mosquito problems to the San Gabriel Valley Vector Control call 626-814-9466.

Creekside Drive in the City of Walnut to be Renovated

Walnut - Streets in the City of Walnut are all evaluated every year for damage and repair needs. These streets are then ranked in order of greatest need to least need of rehabilitation. Creekside Drive in Walnut has been in need of repair and will finally be getting some much needed renovation with construction expected to finish around the end of August 2013. The bid for the contract was won by Sequel Contracting, Inc. for the amount of $635,634 and passed with a vote of 4-0 by the Walnut City Council.

The project was delayed initially to allow Charter Communications time to move some of their existing equipment below the level of excavation needed for the project.

Walnut Valley Unified Earns An “A”

STAFF REPORTS

Walnut - Walnut Valley Unified School District has been recognized for having the 4th highest graduation rate for African-American and Latino students in all school districts in California. Walnut Valley also received an “A” Graduation Grade - scoring 90% and above in the report issued in The Education Trust-West California Report Card.

Every school district in the state is graded on how well they serve their Latino, African-American and low-income students.

“We are very proud to be acknowledged by The Education Trust-West. This outstanding graduation rate is the direct result of a commitment to the success of all students in Walnut Valley,” said Superintendent Dr. Bob Taylor.

The California Department of Education (CDE) provides the report data.

The Education Trust-West is an Oakland-based statewide educational policy, research and advocacy organization that works for the high academic achievement of all students at all levels, pre-k through college. They aim to “expose opportunity and achievement gaps that separate students of color and low-income students from other youth, and [they] identify and advocate for the strategies that will forever close those gaps.”

Donated School Supplies Help Students in Need

GINA WARD, RUSD

Rowland Heights — The community is invited to help "Fill A Bus" with school supplies on Friday, August 2, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Puente Hills Mall. A 32' school bus will be parked outside the AMC Theater Mall Entrance on the lower level with volunteers collecting donations such as crayons, pencils, paper, erasers, colored pens/pencils, binders and calculators. Aldabella Scarpa has partnered with the Puente Hills

Mall to collect school supply donations that will benefit children and schools from the Rowland Unified School District at their annual Shoe Giveback Events.

"A simple donation of a box of crayons, a notebook or a few erasers may not seem like much, but it gives these children the tools to succeed," said Monica Gonzales, co-owner of Aldabella Scarpa, a local shoe and clothing company who donates a pair of their designer shoes to American children in need with every pair of shoes purchased. The Aldabella Scarpa 5th Annual Shoe Giveback Event will take place this year at Hurley Elementary School in La Puente on August 16, 2013, where 300 girls will participate in a celebration with powerful female role models that will encourage them to succeed in school and follow their dreams.

With each school supply donation made at the Fill A Bus Event, Puente Hills Mall will offer "Earning for Learning" points to any local school the donor wishes. The Earning for Learning shopping promotion awards $10,000 to local schools every year. Shop at Puente Hills Mall between August 5 through September 15, 2013 and show your receipt to the Customer Service Desk. Every dollar spent counts as a point for a local school. The Puente Hills Mall is located at 1600 S. Azusa Avenue in the City of Industry. For more information call (626) 912-8777 ext. 6810 or www.puentehills.mall.com/earningforlearning.

Aldabella Scarpa is a business run by two Latina sisters who love "beautiful shoes" and who believed in creating a company that blended shoe design, education and serving others. Their commitment to "Making a Difference, one pair of shoes at a time," has earned them numerous awards, including being named last month by Senator Ed Hernandez as the 24th Senate District's 2013 Small Business of the Year and the 2012 Verizon Latino Business Entrepreneur of the Year Award winner. Sheriff budget," said Gil Rivera, who co-emceed the event. "All proceeds go toward helping the Sheriff Department Reserves, the volunteers, the Explorer program, and other necessities."

Those who were honored are: Michael Armijo from ABC Public Relations/Armijo News, Dickie Simmons from Supervisor Don Knabe's office, Marcos Granada from American Pacific Mortgage, Gil Rivera from SellYourCasa.com, Sarah Armijo from Sarah-MariesCreations.com, and Alex Nigian from Walnut High School Performing Arts Center.

The first and second Annual Sheriff Variety Shows were huge successes as community members, businesses, and local agencies raised a total of $7,700 for our local Sheriff's station.

This year's show was held in May at Walnut High School, with the Walnut-Diamond Bar Sheriff Booster Club managing the event. The Walnut Valley Unified School District (WVUSD) also sponsored the event that benefits the entire community.

The three major donors to the event were: Supervisor Don Knabe's office, the City of Diamond Bar, and Marcos Granda from American Pacific Mortgage.

"We appreciate the Volunteer program, the Reserves, and the Sheriff Booster Club for their hard work and dedication," said Walnut Sheriff Captain Jeff Scroggin in an interview earlier this year.

Michael Armijo and Gil Rivera. com donated their time as the MCs for the Variety Show. Both are current board members for the Sheriff station. Sarah Armijo of SarahMariesCreations.com donated her time as event coordinator. All three have volunteered for both shows held in November 2012 and May 2013.

In the lobby, a local artist Mat Sanchez of MatSanchez.com and a Z-Ultimate representative had tables displaying information about their businesses. For more information on Mt. function company run by Jose Sandoval. They were also the featured cinematographers at the recent Sheriff Variety Show in Walnut.

JDC focuses on photography as well as cinematography, and are willing to shoot any kind of event ranging from weddings, birthdays, quinceañeras, and sweet sixteen's, as well as photographic sessions with families and models.

JDC's philosophy is that they believe your event is a story. "We want our clients to feel like they are in a professional movie, not just a video," says Sandoval. "We want our photos to be a captured painting of you and that moment in your life."

Sandoval and his crew have been filming and photographing for a little over three years, teaming up with several photographers and cinematographers to help tell their clients' stories through their lenses.

JDC started with the simple idea that people's stories are happening everyday at any event, and they understand how important it is to record those special moments to have for the rest of your life. The team at JDC is ready and willing to work with you to create a treasure that will be cherished in your family for generations.

JDC is currently offering a 15% discount for the first three clients that book them for an event. It is those who pay for it on an a la carte basis," is the message you'll receive if you try to access their website. "...we understand how frustrating it can be to know that others are getting for free the same value you are paying for."

Some have tried the same concept and have changed back to free online subscriptions; case in point: the LA Times. At one point you could not read the entire story without subscribing

The philosophy? If the news is free, then the readers will come across the advertising and possibly subscribe.

"If I find a website interesting, I'll subscribe to the printed material," said Dan Radillo, a now subscriber to the Times. "I kept finding interesting information, so I subscribed. The free stuff hooked me in."

The OC Register's phone app

also makes reference to the investment they're making.

"In the past several months, we've made numerous exciting investments to create even more value for our readers. ... (we've) more than doubled our local news by hiring more than 100 journalists," the phone app reads, without allowing access to content.

The Register does offer "try if free for 7 days," "subscribe now," or a day pass for $2.

Whats Holding You Back?

NANCY STOOPS

Does it seem every time you get close to having your dreams come true, something goes wrong? Do you feel as if life isn't willing to give you a break? Is there any type of pattern around all of this or maybe you're afraid to move forward?

Self-sabotaging is one reason many people don't move forward. This occurs because we feel undeserving of the good that life has to offer. It also occurs out of fear of not being able to maintain that level of success, once it is reached. Change, even for the good, is scary for many people. Moving forward also takes away the old excuses for failure that were once used to fall back on. I know many teens and young adults that say they want more freedom, yet they don't do anything to obtain it. These are the same people that are angry with their parents for being too much in their business, yet they keep inviting them in by not being responsible.

There is a reason people stay stuck and usually it's very unconscious. The truth is that all behavior is motivated by something, and holding oneself back is no exception. I think in general, people want to do well, yet stay in the same place they have always been because moving forward and growing up takes a lot of determination and courage. It's hard to think about moving out of our parent's house and being on our own. We all wonder if we have it in us to be independent and successful.

Learn to look at your strengths and know it is normal to be scared of moving forward and of growing up. Learn to make the world work for you. Remember even grown-ups ask for help and we all need support!

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DR. AKIYOSHI

I attended a lecture on women's health last year, and heard you speak about some products you recommend for hot flashes, mood swings, and PMS. I need it for hot flashes and my daughter needs it for PMS. I've never heard of a Naturopath doctor before, but I enjoyed your lecture.

Thank you,
Marlene

Hi Marlene,

My favorite product for mood swings and PMS is a product called FEMALE drops. This product is offered by Dr. Richard Schulze. He also offers FEM PLUS drops. This formula has additional herbs to help you relax, so it's best to take it only at night. Dr Schulze's web site is www.herbdoc.com. His herbal formulas are outstanding. I have used many of them myself over the years.

As for the hot flashes, the product I like best is called DIM. (Di-Indolylmethane) This is also a plant based product. It is available from a company called Health Resources. www.healthresources.net.

Enjoy The Difference

BY MARK HOPPER

My wife and I have had the opportunity to travel to many countries around the world. We have seen so many interesting places and met so many wonderful people.

One thing that we have discovered is how different things are in countries outside the United States. Different languages are spoken. Different foods are served. In some countries they even drive on a different side of the road!

Words are also spelled differently. It can be a challenge to read a menu or road sign in Russian or Italian. It is nearly impossible for us to read one in Chinese.

These differences can be confusing and even frustrating. We are more comfortable in our own country and our own culture.

But, these differences can actually be very interesting and enjoyable. It is fun to see and learn about different cultures and to visit different countries.

On a recent trip to Europe, it was fun to see many cities and towns that are both compact and clean. It was interesting to hear other travelers speaking so many different languages, too. The whole world is on the move.

For those of us who live in Southern California, we don't have to travel very far to experience different cultures and languages. They are all around us in the neighborhoods and communities where we live.

Local restaurants offer food from all over the world. Languages can be heard from many countries of the world. Many of our neighbors are from other parts of the world!

You may not have an opportunity to travel. But you can enjoy many wonderful cultural experiences right here at home. Don't miss the opportunities to experience some different cultures right in your own community. You will be glad you did!

that *72 automatically forwards all of your calls to the scammer's phone number (if you have Call Forwarding), providing the victim's number for billing, which can include collect calls, forwarding charges for each call, and long distance charges. Jail inmates are using this scam to make additional collect calls to the number you were told to dial; once their contact accepts the charges, the bill goes to the victim. This scam may not be realized until the victim notices their phone no longer rings, or they receive a bill with unexpected charges. Verizon.com says that another scam regarding Jury Duty has also been happening. Individuals impersonating U.S. Court employees have been making calls asking victims to verify names, social security and credit card numbers. If denied, scammers are threatening victims with fines and prosecution for failure to comply. Federal courts will never require anyone to provide sensitive information in a telephone call. Most information is provided via U.S. Mail. Protect your identity! Never activate call forwarding unless it is for your own personal use. Never provide social security or other sensitive information over the phone unless you have initiated the call and know who you are speaking to. *73 usually turns off call forwarding, however you should contact your wireless or telephone service provider for specific instructions on proper use of call forwarding services. San Jose Avenue. Local access will be maintained using Charlie Road to San Jose Avenue or to Gale Avenue. Vehicle and pedestrian traffic should use Fullerton Road and Fairway Drive as major north-south detour routes. Noise, dust and vibration will be monitored for compliance within applicable limits.

In addition, ACE will install a new storm drain line on Nogales Street and San Jose Avenue as part of the Nogales Street Grade Separation Project. The infrastructure improvements will allow for better drainage in the surrounding area. The new storm drain line will run west on San Jose Avenue beginning approximately 350 feet east of Nogales Street and approximately 600 feet north on Nogales Street into the San Jose Creek. Traffic lanes will be temporarily and partially closed along northbound Nogales Street and westbound San Jose Avenue.

Northbound traffic on Nogales Street and westbound traffic on San Jose Avenue will be maintained and southbound traffic on Nogales Street and eastbound traffic on San Jose Avenue will not be affected. However, right turns from San Jose Avenue onto Nogales Street will be temporarily prohibited when work is located at the northeast corner of the intersection but access to local businesses will be maintained. Plates will also be placed over the open trench at the end of the work shift to permit roadway access. Motorists and pedestrians are urged to exercise caution while in the vicinity of the work area. Nogales Street is expected to be closed for construction in summer 2014 for 24 months after a detour route with temporary rail crossing is built to allow local north-south traffic to reconnect with Nogales Street. Most work will take place on weekdays between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Construction is anticipated to be complete in summer 2016. Please check the ACE website at www.theaceproject.org for the most up-to-date information.

wheels to a screeching halt. Traffic congestion is part of life in all metropolitan areas and Riverside County is not exempt. USA Today recently reported that the average American wasted an average of 42 hours each year just sitting in traffic. The fact is, the 91 Freeway, most specifically the eastbound route between Anaheim and Corona is among the worst 15 areas in the U.S. Those of you regularly enjoying this commute can attest to this. Nearly 280,000 vehicles utilize this segment on a daily basis. This number is projected to double in size by 2035. There is relief coming via the 91 Project. According to their website, the Riverside County Transportation Commission (RCTC) will provide additional tolled express lanes, regular lanes, connectors, and improved interchanges, bridges, ramps and local streets. All of these improvements will help to relieve congestion, allow for quicker emergency response, and improve travel for motorists accessing this route. The 91 Project is RCTC's number one priority, helping to save time, enhance safety and access, promote ridesharing and pollution reduction, and provide jobs. The website also states, "The project will employ a design-build approach to save three to four years of construction time, build upon the successful Express Lane system in Orange County, and reinvest revenues along the 91". Construction of the 91 Project will begin in 2014, however, while we eagerly anticipate its completion, the City of Eastvale reminds us that pre-construction will begin presently. Construction crews will be conducting surveys on the 91 and 15 freeways during off-peak hours with temporary lane closures possible. Please remember to use extreme caution and extend safety courtesy to these crews by slowing down, safely changing lanes away from construction, allowing extra time for travel, and avoiding the use of any mobile devices (or other distractions) while driving. For more information visit <http://www.sr91project.info/> or call 1 (877) 770-9191.

Diamond Bar Burglars Caught In Act

STAFF REPORTS

Diamond Bar – Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff's Deputies responded to a burglary in the 1000 block of Grand Avenue in Diamond Bar on Thursday, July 25, at approximately 3:30 a.m. The first female victim told deputies that she awoke to find a man in her bedroom, who ran from her apartment after she confronted him. During a search of the apartment complex deputies noticed a screen had been removed from a nearby open window. They heard shouting coming from inside the apartment and moments later a male exited through the front door. The deputies intercepted and detained the suspected burglar and identified him as Martin Payton, 18, a Diamond Bar resident. Payton was booked into the Walnut/Diamond Bar station and is being held for burglary on $50,000 bail. The Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff's Department is asking anyone with additional information regarding this crime, including any other victims or witnesses, to contact detectives at (909) 595-8864, or (800) 222-TIPS (8477) for anonymous tips. You can also text the letters, TIPLA (along with your tip information) to 274627 (CRIMES), or visit <http://lacrimestoppers.org>.

“Hot Dog Pops” brings a new flavor to Diamond Bar

owner, Kevin Hahm, says that their philosophy is to serve you with fresh food and provide you with great service and a pleasant experience.

Hot Dog Pops opened in December 2012 to bring diversity into Diamond Bar eateries and to provide a good hangout place for people of all ages. They provide the community outstanding customer service and food that is “better, fresher, and tastier” than you can imagine!

Hot Dog Pops has done such a great job in serving the community that they were just awarded New Business of the Month this week by the City of Diamond Bar.

Don’t miss out on Hot Dog Pops nutritiously balanced, and yet very stuffed, hot dogs and sandwiches because they are truly amazing!

Every Hot Dog made at Hot Dog Pops is served with your choice of freshly baked Dutch bread or Whole Wheat Bread with Garlic Spread, and is loaded with a ¼ all-beef dog with 11 combinations of toppings to choose from.

Don’t be fooled by their name because Hot Dog Pops doesn’t just serve Hot Dogs. This restaurant has an amazing menu including breakfast bagels and croissants, omelets served all day, 29 different types of sandwiches, six different types of burgers, various types of coffee and smoothies, more than 150 kinds of soda pops, 20 kinds of root beers and 40 different regular and microbrew bottled beers and wines.

Hot Dog Pops also uses bread that is freshly baked daily, fries that are from freshly cut potatoes, and vegetables that are always freshly chopped. Not to mention the huge serving sizes in every dish!

“Our chef is very proud of his cooking and he cares about customer satisfaction. The chef brings real pride in his dish and can customize every item on the menu,” said Hahm.

Hot Dog Pops is more than just an eatery. It’s a place set for you to hang out with your family, friends or even your pets! Hot Dog Pops has an outdoor patio that is pet friendly and a café that you can arrange a birthday party, private party, or special event at.

You can also watch your favorite sports team at Hot Dog Pops. “We have several big screen monitors, so we can all watch sports games and cheer as a group,” said Kevin Hahm,

If that’s not enough, you can get 50% off on everything during their happy hour from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday – Friday.

Hot Dog lovers can also get a Reward Card, where you can get a free hot dog after you purchase 10.

Hot Dog Pops is located at 808 N. Diamond Bar Blvd. Diamond Bar, Ca 91765. They are open Mon. – Thurs. 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., Fri. – Sat. 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sun. 11 a.m. to 8 pm. You can reach them at (909) 860-1235 or visit their website at hotdogpops.com.

Gilbert,

We want to thank you for the very efficient and professional manner in how you handled the listing and sale of our daughter's townhouse in Hampton Court in Diamond Bar, CA. Your knowledge of the local market and your advice to us on the listing and sale procedures resulted in a successful sale. You are easy to do business with and we really appreciate your promptness in returning our calls whenever we had a question. We were also impressed with your using all the latest communication systems from FAX, cell phone, Texting, and E-mail to get the job done in a timely manner. This is our 3rd business experience with you including the purchase of Cheryl's condo in Ontario, Debbie's reappraisal of her townhouse, and now the sale of the townhouse. Obviously, we are very satisfied customers. Continued good luck with your real estate business in a very competitive environment. Hope we have the opportunity to cross trails again some day.

Sincerely, Al & Dorene M.
