Eastvale's Strategic Plan Addresses Economic Development

By CAROL JACOBS, CITY MANAGER

On May 8, 2013, the Eastvale City Council adopted the City's 1st Strategic Plan. Through the public input process and discussions with City Council members and community stakeholders, the following goals were identified in the strategic plan:

Carol Jacobs: City Manager of Eastvale.

1. Establish a solid fiscal foundation for the City.
2. Optimize the City's economic development potential.
3. Maintain an excellent level of public safety.

4. Provide high quality public facilities and infrastructure.
These goals were also included in the FY2013-14 budget. On June 12, 2013, the Eastvale City Council adopted the Annual Operations Capital Improvement Budget for Fiscal Year 2013-2014. This is a balanced budget for fiscal year 2013-2014 which focuses on the key priorities such as public safety and business development. The Strategic Plan is available for viewing on the City's Economic Development page and the FY2013-14 Budget document is also available on the Finance page of the City's website.
An Economic Development Committee was recently established to begin tackling the many specific objectives and action items outlined in the strategic plan. The Economic Development Committee consists of Mayor Ike Bootsma, Mayor Pro Tem Adam Rush, Chairman of the Planning Commission Bill Link, City Manager Carol Jacobs and two staff members from City Hall.
Based on the data compiled for the Strategic Plan, we have determined that food service, education services, retail trade, wholesale trade and warehousing/logistics are currently the five most important industries in our City. However, the five most important industries to the Inland Empire in terms of growth are manufacturing, health care, transportation/warehousing, food service, wholesale trade, and administrative support. With the addition of medical offices by San Antonio Community Hospital (breaking ground late 2013), the City is tapping into the growing health care industry.

The City of Eastvale is taking a more aggressive and proactive position on Economic Development than in previous years. The City incorporated on October 1, 2010 and the priority was to set a solid foundation for City operations and services. Now that the foundation has been laid, the City can focus on shaping the future local economy with smart growth and a targeted strategy to bring employers to the community. The City has been focusing on building strong relations with our current major employers and identifying opportunities for growth and expansion in their market sectors. The City has also created a resource for employment opportunities within the City and has built relationships with the Riverside County Workforce Investment Board, Small Business Development Center and the Norco College to fulfill the needs for a skilled labor force. Job growth is an area of focus that the City has just begun to delve into ,therefore, the programs and approach will continue to evolve over the coming months.

Using the Strategic Plan to guide their efforts, the Economic Development Committee is well on its way to shaping Eastvale into one of the most desirable cities in Riverside County.
Should you have any questions or comments, City Hall may be reached at (951) 361-0900. City Hall office hours are Monday-Thursday from 7:30 am – 5:30 pm, closed every Friday. City Hall encourages all residents and visitors to register for e-notification on the City's website: www.EastvaleCA.gov.

Help Combat Crime, Be A Neighborhood Watch Block Captain

CITY OF EASTVALE

Eastvale - The City's Neighborhood Watch Kick-Off event on July 19, 2013 was a wonderful success with over 200 residents in attendance.
We are pleased to announce that over twenty (20) residents signed an interest list to be a Neighborhood Watch Block Captain in their neighborhood. Over the next year, the City hopes to see the establishment of Block Captains on 10 % of the streets. There are currently over 1,000 streets in Eastvale and approximately 100 different housing tracts which means our goals is 100 new Block Captains and we are well on our way to achieving that goal.

The city-wide call to establish a Neighborhood Watch program comes on the heels of the City's announcement of June 27, 2013, establishing an aggressive zero tolerance policy towards marijuana grow houses. In the June 27th press release, the City's Chief of Police, Captain Danny Feltenberger pointed out that the residents of Eastvale are the best eyes and ears for thwarting illegal activity in the City. Developing an active Neighborhood Watch program is a great way to improve security, reduce crime and combat illegal activity.

The Eastvale Police Department is dedicated to public safety and is offering Eastvale residents an ongoing opportunity to partner in providing public safety. Eastvale Police Department is continuously looking for Eastvale citizens interested in forming a Neighborhood Watch.
Neighborhood Watch is a cooperative partnership between neighbors and their police department designed to improve security and reduce crime. Citizens involved with the Eastvale Neighborhood Watch program will learn about the Eastvale Police Department resources and proven principals for increasing security and reducing crime.

Public safety is everyone's responsibility, and together we can make a real difference.
If you are interested in forming a Neighborhood Watch program in your area, please contact Deputy Jeff Cryder at (951) 955-9225, or email DeputyCryder@riversidesheriff.org.

Amber Alert Goes Cellular

By K.P. SANDER

If you have a mobile phone, you may have noticed that an AMBER Alert text for the suspected abduction of a 16-year old girl flashed across your screen back on the evening of Monday, August 5 (along with a high-pitched siren to get your attention); in fact, it was the first of its kind state-wide cellular alert. WEA, or Wireless Emergency Alerts, is part of the National Emergency Alerts System that allows authorized senders to activate cellular towers for emergencies such as missing children, weather, or presidential issues.

In some respects this is an amazing way to help facilitate law enforcement in the cessation of child abduction. Think of the millions of people now in on the details, looking for license plates, searching the faces of children in crowds. Even digital billboards are in on the plan with the pictures of potentially abducted children looming 20 feet high.

The AMBER Alert program was established to honor 9-year old Amber Hagerman. Back in 1996, this young girl was riding her bike in Arlington, Texas, when abducted, and was later found murdered.

AMBER has also become the acronym for America's Missing: Broadcasting Emergency Response.

According to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's website, AMBER Alerts have contributed to more than 656 Successful Recoveries, including the recent 16-year old abductee. The program is a voluntary partnership between law enforcement agencies, transportation agencies, broadcasters, and the wireless industry. They activate an urgent notification via roadway signs, billboards, televisions, radios and capable cellular devices to alert specific areas based upon their proximity to the emergency. The system is used in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

With the addition of cellular texts broadcasting for AMBER Alerts, there are even more opportunities to save lives. If you think you have seen a missing child or have knowledge about a possible abduction, you can contact the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, 24/7, via their CYBER TIPLINE: 1 (800) 843-5678 or www.cybertipline.com.

CNUSD seeks $299m bond input

located at the southwest tract of homes near Chandler and Archibald, next to Half Moon Park, and would relieve the extensive overcrowding this young community has encountered.

"Yorba Elementary has the funding from the school district but is lacking the matching funds from the state," said Kelly Bruce and Evita Gonzales from CNUSD at the June 12, 2013 Town Hall Meeting. The District will start some initial work in October but will not be able to complete construction until the funds are delivered from the state, or are paid for by the bond initiative, they added.

CNUSD had proposed a bond initiative last year, but changed their minds after other initiatives hit the ballot.

"Do we need a bond? Absolutely," Thomas Pike, Assistant Superintendent for Executive Services, said in an interview with Eastvale News last August. "The board feels additional time is needed to continue studying what options will be best for students, the timing of the measure and to assess whether the necessary resources exist to effectively manage a campaign," he had added.

The currently proposed $299 million 30-year bond measure would also be used to upgrade facilities, build new schools and update technology resources within the District's 49 schools.

The District had identified three major issues for consideration on that proposed bond measure and sought feedback from the local community.

CNUSD was interested in 1) providing funding for instructional technology improvements such as infrastructure and student/teacher devices, 2) providing funding for continuing facility improvement projects at older elementary schools and all intermediate schools throughout the district, and 3) establishing a technology fund to support annual upgrades, new purchases and maintenance.

"Funding for these technology improvements at schools district-wide would ensure instructional equity for all students," said Ted Rozzi, Assistant Superintendent of Facilities.

This year it appears they are seeking the same feedback as registered voters were sent last week a "Back to School Update" slash "Tell Us What You Think" questionnaire, targeting seven direct questions and asking the voter to rate "HIGH, MED, or LOW."

"Please rate the importance of the following school priorities," the prepaid mail in card read. "Update classrooms for career and technical education; Repair/replace aging school roofs, floors, walkways, lighting and wiring; Improve energy efficiency to save money; Upgrade technology in classrooms, libraries, and science labs; Improve student safety and security; Repair/upgrade outdated classrooms and schools; and the final question: Relieve student overcrowding."

In addition to the proposed bond for next year, taxpayers are currently paying for another bond passed seven years ago.

In November 2006, the voters of CNUSD approved Measure U, a $250 million general obligation bond for the construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, or replacement of school facilities at CNUSD. If you have any questions about Measure U passed in 2006, please call the Facilities Division office at (951) 736-5045.

The level of annual taxation a voter might support, and the importance of other issues facing the community are expected after the survey results are compiled. Those conducting the surveys will also note how individuals prioritize the need for a school facilities bond, and gather general demographic data.

Once polling results are reviewed and any additional community outreach is complete, the CNUSD Board of Education would need to call a bond election for the November ballot no later than July, unless its proposed for an earlier election. The time frame for a resolution to be passed is about 4 months prior to an election, explained Assistant Superintendent Ted Rozzi.

Any questions about the proposed bond or the community outreach should be directed to the Facilities office, led by Assistant Superintendent Ted Rozzi: (951) 736-5045.

L.E.A.F.F. has been busy out and about in Eastvale.

Neighborhood Watch programs are going strong with 25 volunteers signed up. The plan is to divide neighborhoods up into sections and to have a team captain for each section. However, we need more volunteers! Neighborhood Watch helps keep the community safe by keeping a watchful eye out and reporting anything strange or suspicious.

Eastvale Pop Warner kicked off the Football season and L.E.A.F.F. was there to throw out the first football! Concerts in the Park had a successful run and members from L.E.A.F.F. were there to help and enjoy each show and are eagerly awaiting next year's concert season.

The Riverside Sheriff's Dept. has continued to do an exceptional job with investigating pot houses and other crimes as well. It is important for the community to remain vigilant in reporting strange behavior or housing concerns to the Sheriff's department. L.E.A.F.F. continues to work with the RSO

Overcoming Grief By Giving Back To Others

BY: JENNIFER MADRIGAL

I dread September and have every year since 2009. I know the day is coming and as each day draws closer, the clock slows down and I know it's coming. September 20th, the day we lost mom and the day that everything changed. My dad lost his soul mate, my grandparents lost their daughter, we lost our mother and so much more. To my dad, my mom was his every minute, to my brother and I, she was our every day. At 30 years old, I still needed my mom and best friend and was forced to face a life without her and her support and love. Every time I called her with a problem, a joke or decorating advice, she was always there to offer a solution, a joke or just to simply remind me to "hang in there".

I played her final message on the answering machine so many times that I finally wore the tape out, and the clothes I have of hers I have no longer smell like her. My father moved on and remarried a wonderful woman, who also lost her spouse. My brother got married and had 2 beautiful baby boys that I know my mother would have loved. I love harder because I have to love them for her, too. I try to make her proud of me by being the woman I know she raised and wanted me to be, but it still doesn't make it easier. She's still not here.

Minutes before she died, I whispered in her ear that she could go because I'd take care of my dad and brother as she did. Her heart stopped beating at that moment and she left us for a far better place; and just like that, life "after mom" began. A funeral was planned, family came to say goodbye and we all walked around with that horrible feeling in the pit of our stomachs that only a fractured heart can bring. The sun rose, the sun set and life kept moving as if the world was unaware that our lives would never be the same.

While I was secure in where she was and that she was no longer suffering from the ravages of ovarian cancer, I still missed her and struggled to overcome my grief. Then one day, after much prayer and personal reflection, my dad shared with me a phrase that kept running through his head, "Because loss gives no remorse but benevolence over the holy". Taking his focus off his grief and focusing on helping others helped him to slowly move on and gave me the much needed push to do the same. So instead of drowning in my own pain and the deep crack that still ran through my heart, I began to put that energy into helping others and found that the pain did begin to subside. Putting my focus on others who needed help and stepping out of "myself" gave me the perspective that I needed to ensure the path to healing my own heart.

September is Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month. For more information on Ovarian Cancer and the warning signs go to <http://www.cancer.org/cancer/ovariancancer>.

Being Healthy Can Create Happiness

By K.P. SANDER

Eastvale – There is an abundance of scientific evidence that supports the correlation between health and happiness. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) states that healthy eating is associated with reduced risk for many diseases, including several of the leading causes of death: heart disease, cancer, stroke, and diabetes. Eating healthy, exercising, and reducing stress levels can also bring about a sense of well-being and joy through increased energy, self-value, and well, just plain old-fashioned feeling good (so underrated). And when you feel good, and feel good about yourself, you can have a much more positive outlook on life.

Everyone can benefit from a healthy lifestyle. The steps toward becoming healthy are really quite simple and can be easily incorporated into your daily routine. Eating a diet rich in fruits, vegetables and whole grains, and making it a point to do some form of exercise every day is a great place to start. Sometimes all you need to make positive changes is a little education.

Nicole Gilles, Registered Dietician at Happy and Healthy Nutrition, can help you become educated. Serving the Eastvale area and beyond, Ms. Gilles has an abundance of programs, tailored specifically to your needs, that can help to improve your health and well-being. Her Mission is "To empower others to gain control of their health and their weight through improving relationships between the mind, the body, and the food consumed".

Happy and Healthy Nutrition provides some truly unique services, and of course the benefits can help reduce life threatening diseases and improve your quality of life. Just some of the programs include:

- Nutritional Counseling
- Virtual Counseling
- Corporate Wellness
- Grocery Shopping Tours
- Bridal Boot Camps

(gives a whole new meaning to 'Bachelorette Party'!)

- Mommy Make-Overs

Healthy Cooking Demonstrations

Ms. Gilles will also be conducting some specialized workshops on nutrition and weight management at the Eastvale Community Center, coming this fall.

Start today, for a happier and healthier tomorrow. Contact Nicole Gilles at (909) 816-0977, or visit her website at HandHNutrition.com for additional information.

City of Eastvale: safest in the area

for Personal Crime, and 31 of 1,000 for Property Crime. But let's go directly to the source and see the recent crime statistics for our fair city.

According to the Eastvale Town Hall Meeting of August 6, the following information is regarding crimes as reported to the FBI. This information is for January 1 to June 30:

The Incident numbers are listed for 2011/2012/2013 for comparison:

 GRAND TOTALS :

Crime trending in Eastvale for vehicular and residential burglaries most often happened Tuesday through Friday, between the hours of 8:00am and 4:00pm.

During the period of January 1 to June 30 of 2013, Eastvale Crime Statistics reported 14,452 calls for service, 5,394 traffic and parking citations, 19 DUI arrests, 38 injuries, 64 non-injury collisions, and 0 fatalities.

Most calls for service are ranked by priority. Priority 1 is characterized by a threat to human life marked by violence and the potential for serious injury; Priority 2 is for urgent, but non-life threatening calls; Priority 3 is for non-urgent nor life-threatening calls; and Priority 4 is for most past calls, with the exception of several felonies. The response time to these calls, from January 1 to Marijuana Grow Houses seem to be in the news quite a bit lately, and Eastvale has identified at least 31 of these houses to date. Grow Houses are a crime, and are identified by abnormal signs of occupancy.

- Windows are often covered from inside the residence.
- Commercial-grade air conditioners and electrical equipment may be seen being moved in or installed.
- Individuals other than uniformed utility workers may be accessing electrical vaults near the street.
- Lights and televisions are set on timers, turning on and off and at the same times daily.

- Individuals may arrive and leave within a few hours on a regular basis, and may pull directly into the garage and immediately shut the door.

- There may be a constant humming sound coming from the residence.

If you suspect a Marijuana Grow House in your neighborhood, contact your local law enforcement (listed below).

The City of Eastvale is also home to L.E.A.F.F. (Law Enforcement AND Fire Fighters), the only organization of Law Enforcement and Firefighters in the entire nation. L.E.A.F.F. is a group of approximately 2,500 police and fire personnel who call Eastvale home and are dedicated to ensuring that it remains a great place to live. This is definitely a contributing factor to our low crime rates. You can find more information about L.E.A.F.F. by visiting www.eleaff.org.

You can help to keep the crime rates in Eastvale low by doing a few simple things as well. Keep your doors locked, get involved in a Neighborhood Watch program, keep spare keys with a trusted friend or neighbor (as opposed to under the doormat), and eliminate places intruders may hide such as dark entryways or overgrown shrubbery.

If you have information regarding a crime or need to contact our local Sheriff's department, utilize the following information. As always, if you have an emergency, dial 911.

We Serve Day

Local business, Mira Loma Smiles, had a "We Serve" day on Aug. 24th. They served about 10 patients that were in need of dental assistance but could not afford it. They completed multiple crowns, fillings, deep cleanings, extractions and even custom night guards. In total they completed over $15,000 worth of treatment, all at no expense to the patient. Here is pictures of Dr. Ton and hygienist Johnnie working on the patients in need, along with their staff in "We Serve" shirts.

City council recap

$86,037.26. This project will allow the construction of new sidewalks on Orange Street. The award was approved unanimously with a 5-0 vote.

Council members also discussed the adoption of a Legislative Committee for the council. The goal of this committee would be to appoint two council members to help provide direction on legislation by the state and federal government that cannot be accommodated with the parameters of a normal City Council meeting. Kelly Howell suggested that the Mayor and Mayor Pro-Tem should be the ones elected for the committee. The decision was passed with a 5-0 vote with none dissenting.

Next, they discussed the roles of Mayor and Mayor Pro-Tem, which was recommended by Councilman Jeff DeGrandpre. DeGrandpre felt that the City of Eastvale was not being fully represented at several meetings that were missed and gave a list of eight meetings that were missed this month. Mayor Ike Bootsma responded by saying, "Everything we get invited to, we can't go to." Mayor Pro-Tem Adam Rush also stated that these meetings and events are costly and the City has a limited budget for meetings. The council members did not deem that a committee was the right step to take and instead, City Manager Carol Jacobs decided to take it upon herself to assist the council members with recommendations to attend certain meetings.

The final item on the agenda was another recommendation by Councilman DeGrandpre to somehow create a process to mediate the council. "We have some issues we need to get hashed out," stated DeGrandpre. However, DeGrandpre's previous suggestion of having a "council retreat," where the council can hash out their differences, could not go into effect due to the California open meeting law that was already passed. City Attorney John Cavanaugh stated that two council members can able to meet privately, but no more than that.

The council then went to the council communications portion of the meeting, where council members can talk to each other regarding items that are not on the agenda. In this section, Ike Bootsma suggested the possibility of starting an ice cream truck ordinance due to ice cream truck drivers serving ice cream to children through the chain link fence. He also stated that some of the trucks look a little unclean and wanted to have an inspection done of all ice cream trucks, to ensure they are all safe for children.

Facilities including the DV Urgent Care & Occupational Health in Eastvale and the Skin Envy Med Spa & Weight Loss in Rancho Cucamonga.

“Being a doctor was my calling since childhood,” said Dr. Vasile.

“It takes painstaking determination and long hours to be an effective doctor.”

“Each and every day I’m surrounded with people from all walks of life, and through medicine, I’m able to touch their lives in a way that others can’t,” said Dr. Vasile.

His urgent care facilities offer treatment for a wide range of symptoms and ailments for both urgent care and walk-in patients.

His facilities treat ailments from cuts, scrapes, burns, and breaks to sprains and strains, along with fevers, coughs, colds and flu.

Other services include nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, skin rashes, sexual diseases and urinary tract problems.

Dr. Vasile’s facilities also focus on women’s health issues and minor surgeries.

“Our patient’s well-being always comes first,” said Dr. Vasile. “Our mission is to provide unilateral care and treatment to the communities we serve,” added Dr. Vasile.

“Our five urgent care clinics are staffed with highly trained medical professionals who are ready to serve you. We are always ready to offer you first class service when you need it the most,” said Dr. Vasile.

One of the major concerns facing people today is the high cost of medical treatment and that is of deep concern to Dr. Vasile.

“At all of our urgent care clinics, we truly believe that money should not be a deciding factor when it comes to getting the medical treatment you need.”

“We offer very competitive pricing and we will work with you to get you the treatment you deserve at a price you can afford,” said Dr. Vasile.

Dr. Vasile also operates Skin Envy Med Spa & Weight Loss, which offers monthly discounts on services such as laser hair removal, Botox, microdermabrasion and weight loss treatment. Other treatments available at his spas are Restylane, which is a lip augmentation product, Radiesse – a wrinkle treatment therapy, liquid face lift, skin tightening, facials and chemical peels, along with other skin and weight loss treatment.

All of Dr. Vasile’s clinics treat patients from children to the elderly and all patients are welcome on a walk-in basis.

“If you are away from home, do not have a doctor, or your doctor is not available, we are the best option for non-life threatening medical issues,” said Dr. Vasile.

“There is always a warm, welcoming attitude and attentive care from our physicians, assistants, medical assistants and staff,” added Dr. Vasile.

DV Urgent Care & Family Practice is offering a FREE Consultation for their medically supervised weight loss program, for the first 100 people who call.

Get your children ready for school.

Prepare their bodies, not just their minds.

Schoolwork can really weigh on your child. Most children carry backpacks in excess of the weight their bodies can handle, placing undue stress on their back, shoulder, neck and knees and can even lead to injury. Playing sports more regularly, long hours sitting in class and even the emotional stress their bodies take on all contribute to the need for routine chiropractic care. Best yet, we're open after school. Visit The Joint and give your children the chance to start the school year off with every advantage, mentally and physically.

Townhall Meeting Update

By ANDREW HOOVER

Eastvale – Eastvale held its quarterly Townhall meeting on Aug. 6. Items that were discussed range from the City update, updates from JCSD, CNUSD, CALFIRE and an updated crime report from the Riverside County Sheriff’s Dept.

The meeting began with the City update conducted by Eastvale Mayor Ike Bootsma. The update consisted of many things going on in Eastvale such as, announcing the adoption of the budget on June 12, the addition of staff within the city, and that Eastvale will get its own paramedic squad sometime in Nov. or Dec. Also, Bootsma announced that Schleisman Ave. will be under construction for about 5 weeks in August to widen the road now that the cell tower is gone.

The next item on the agenda was an update by Supervisor of Riverside County, John Tavaglione, who discussed what’s going on in the Riverside County. The biggest item in the update was that Riverside County was opening the first new medical school on the west coast in nearly 50 years. Tavaglione was also questioned by residents on the Hamner Bridge project. Tavaglione responded that the bridge project would be finished in approximately five years if everything goes according to plan.

The next item on the agenda was the CNUSD School Board Update given by Bill Newberry and Mr. Kelly Bruce. In this update, they introduced the new principles in the Corona-Norco School District. For more about these principles, read the story on page 1. They also pressed on the matter of the schools overcrowding to which they announced their Student Call Back program that was implemented on Aug. 12. The program would bring over 100 students back to Clara Barton Elementary and 12 students back to Rosa Parks elementary. He also stated that portables were being built at both schools to bring back another 100 students. Finally, he touched on the school systems looking into a technology bond to allow for a more technological school system with better computers and devices to assist the kids in learning.

Then, members of the Eastvale Community Foundation came up and spoke a little about themselves. They also stated that a sign on the Eastvale water tower is in the works, but didn’t say when it should be completed.

Members of JCSD also came up to give their update. One of the issues JCSD talked about was working to coordinate recycled water for parks and recreation facilities. They also stated that the Community Park Prospect would be completed by the end of the year.

The Police and Fire services were the last to give their updates on local events. First to speak was a representative from CALFIRE to announce that the Eastvale Fire Dept. will be adding another medic staff onto their crew, consisting of two people. They will also be bringing in a fire protection specialist to assist them in future endeavors, as well as opening a second Fire Station on Chandler and Shelby, just west of Archibald.

Then the assistant Chief of Police, Lieutenant Michael Yates, went up after CALFIRE to give a crime report update. The crime update showed the crime trends that exist and existed in Eastvale. To read more about these reports, please read the story on page 1. Yates also told the community how calls are handled and prioritized. Finally, he went into the recent marijuana grow house epidemic that has been sweeping Eastvale. In total, Eastvale has had 31 grow houses this year. However, efforts are in place to stop the grow houses from further extending their reach throughout the City.

The Eastvale Townhall Meetings are not City-run events. They are held quarterly at Rosa Parks Elementary located at 13830 Whispering Hills Dr. in Eastvale. The meetings are open to the public and encourage residents to come and ask questions.

Crime recap

sexual assault investigation. After the officers ensured the safety of the victim, they located the suspect in a nearby residence a short time later. The suspect was identified as Ruben Mendez, 61, of Eastvale, who was arrested and booked into the Robert Presley Detention Center for multiple felony sexual assault related charges and committing a sexual assault crime in violation of his terms as a registered sex offender.

On August 1, another arrest was made in regard to an illegal marijuana grow house in Eastvale. Officers assigned to the City of Eastvale Special Enforcement Team obtained new information regarding a residence being used for an illegal marijuana grow operation. An investigation was initiated and a search warrant was obtained for the residence. At around 4 p.m., officers served the search warrant. Once inside, officers discovered the residence was unoccupied and had been modified for the sole purpose of cultivating and processing marijuana for sales. Officers seized 100 marijuana plants, two pounds of processed marijuana, packaging material, digital scales, and $2700 in U.S. currency. The suspect later returned to the residence and was arrested without incident into the Robert Presley Detention Center. The suspect was identified as Hung Vinh Ngo, 28, of Eastvale, who was charged with cultivation and possession of marijuana for sale.

On August 10 at about 3:15 p.m., officers assigned to the Eastvale Special Enforcement Team received new information regarding another marijuana house and served a search warrant on the 13500 block of Rainier Ave. Officers discovered the residence was unoccupied and had been modified for the sole purpose of cultivating, processing and packaging marijuana for sales. The marijuana plants had been removed and it appears the residence had been abandoned for about a week. Although the marijuana cultivation operation had been recently abandoned, it was estimated to be an 800 to 1000 plant grow while operational. As a result of this marijuana cultivation operation, the residence sustained major structural and water damage, estimated at $75,000 to $100,000. Additionally, electricity was still being bypassed around the meter, causing a serious fire hazard and resulting in approximately $5000 per month in stolen electricity.

On August 10, officers assigned to the Eastvale Special Enforcement Team received information from anonymous citizens of illegal narcotics activity occurring at a residence located in the 7600 block of Turtle Mountain Circle. At around 8:30 p.m., officers observed a vehicle leaving the residence and a traffic stop was conducted. Prior to yielding for officers, the driver threw a large bag out of the vehicle. The driver yielded and was detained. Officers recovered the bag and found a loaded .38 caliber revolver and a large amount of methamphetamine with items indicative of narcotic sales. The adult male driver was identified as Brian Nunn, 28, El Cajon, and the adult female passenger was identified as Tayler Jenkins, 22, Norco. Both were arrested and booked at the Robert Presley Detention Center. Nunn was arrested for possession of methamphetamine for sales, transportation of methamphetamine, felon in possession of a loaded firearm, violation of his Post Release Community Supervision, and under the influence of a controlled substance. Jenkins was arrested for being under the influence of a controlled substance and violation of probation. A follow-up investigation was initiated and a search warrant was obtained for the residence.

On August 14 at 8:30 p.m., a search warrant was served by officers assigned to the Eastvale Special Enforcement Team, resulting in three subjects detained at the residence for possession methamphetamine and heroin. Officers also located several victims of identity theft and credit card fraud by locating several pieces of identification, social security cards, and credit cards. Officers are in the process of locating and contacting the victims of the thefts. The two adult males and adult female were arrested and booked at the Robert Presley Detention Center. They have been identified as Sommer Strickland, 29, of Eastvale, Jeffrey Dines, 29, of Eastvale, and Jarred Wallander, 28, of Eastvale. Strickland was arrested for possession of methamphetamine, theft, fraud, possession of stolen property, under the influence of a controlled substance, and violation of probation. Dines was arrested for possession of methamphetamine, theft, fraud, possession of stolen property, and under the influence of a controlled substance. And Wallander was arrested for being under the influence of a controlled substance and violation of parole.

On August 19 at about 8:30 a.m., investigators assigned to City of Eastvale were informed that a male substitute teacher who previously worked for the Jurupa Valley School District, had sexual contact with a minor female. Investigators later determined that Jason Stubbs, 27, of Eastvale, had sexual contact with a minor. The investigation revealed he was no longer working for the Jurupa Valley School District; however, he was most recently employed by the Fontana School District. Investigators responded to a school in the Fontana School District and located Stubbs. He was subsequently arrested and booked at the Robert Presley Detention Center for felony sex crimes involving a minor. Investigators believe there are also additional victims since he used social media to communicate and meet minors. The investigation is ongoing and the police are reaching out to the public and asking anyone with information about this incident to contact Investigator Joel Pabelico at the Jurupa Valley Station at (951)955-2600.

On August 27, Eastvale resident Don Pettinger reported to the Eastvale News that there was an overturned vehicle on the shoulder of the southbound 71 freeway. The accident occurred at around 7:35 a.m. about a half-mile past the Euclid Ave. on-ramp. Drive safe out there Eastvale!

We were also impressed with your using all the latest communication systems from FAX, cell phone, Texting, and E-mail to get the job done in a timely manner. This is our 3rd business experience with you including the purchase of Cheryl's condo in Ontario, Debbie's reappraisal of her townhouse, and now the sale of the townhouse. Obviously, we are very satisfied customers. Continued good luck with your real estate business in a very competitive environment. Hope we have the opportunity to cross trails again some day.

New common core standards announced

standards will bring, CNUSD hosted a parent information night on August 28, 2013. The District will also host another informative meeting at Santiago High School in the theatre on Thursday September 12, 2013 at 6:30pm. At these meetings, parents will be able to learn about the curriculum and the new learning standards from teachers and district administrators. Parents will also be able to ask questions and instruction on how they can assist their children in their quest for academic success.

At the Parent Information Night on August 28 at Corona High School, teachers and administrators shared with the community pertinent information about the new California Common Core State Standards, the main goal of which is to make students college and career minded and able to compete with the world. Teachers will concentrate more on working with students to deliver receive instruction ensuring a deeper level of mastery and problem solving. There will also be a more coherent progression of learning expectations in English, Language Arts and Math; which are designed to prepare K-12 students for College and career success. This success is based on a firm foundation of "Anchor Standards" that applies to each grade level. The complete list of standards can be found at <http://corestandards.org/the-standards>. However, the overall goals of these standards are to provide students with a more rigorous education in content and application that is aligned with college and real world work expectations.

Testing will be done to ensure that students are performing well and that they are able to communicate successfully throughout all subject areas in the form of the Smarter Balances Assessment Consortium (SBAC). This assessment will be given to students in third grade, eighth grade and eleventh grade beginning in 2015. To find out more about the SBAC and to receive updates, please visit <http://www.smarter-balanced.org>

The implantation of the CCSS will result in a shift from the "normal" English/Language Arts and Math standards and classrooms. In the English and Language Arts classes, the shift will take place by putting a greater emphasis on non-fiction work and less of a focus on the "classics" and other works of fiction. While fiction will still be a part of the curriculum, students will rely more heavily on non-fiction, scientific and technical books to obtain information. Reading, writing and speaking will also be more heavily grounded in evidence from text and other forms of information. Students will also practice with complex text and using its academic language. Since the ability to read and read well, leads to the ability to write well, the heightened focus on historical, scientific and informational reading should help students to be better prepared for college and careers.

Math Standards will also shift in three major areas. The first shift will be to focus on moving from coverage to mastery. This will be done by encouraging focus and deeper instruction on fewer topics instead of trying to fit a large number of lessons into the school year. The second shift will work toward coherence by teaching students to think across grades and link to major topics within each grade. Lastly, rigor in the form of pursuing conceptual understanding and procedural skills and literacy with the final result of applying these lessons with equal intensity is the final goal. The idea is to teach students that it is about more than just doing the math, it's about USING the math. Students are expected to be involved in rigorous tasks that require thinking and then be able to verbalize, discuss and write about the thought process that they used to arrive at answers.

Students, who are below grade level, have special needs or are English language learners will not be left behind when these new standards are implemented. Instead, teachers will have more time to cover subjects in greater detail and students will have an opportunity to really understand what is being taught. Teachers will use scaffolding strategies to support students who are below grade level or need more help. Different states will also work diligently together to constantly improve upon any issues so that that these students do not get left behind.

The change in the classroom will be evident, but teachers and administrators hope that the change will be welcomed. However, learning doesn't just happen at school and parents are encouraged to get involved by talking to their kids about school, homework and what their future holds. It is important to talk to kids about college and graduating high school, as well as being involved with your children's school and activities. With the adoption of these new standards, states and districts can share experience, methods of assessment, teaching practices and materials to help parents support learning at home. If you have any questions about the implementation of the Common core State Standards please contact Corona Norco School District at (951)736-5000.

Remembering To See The Beauty

By SARAH ARMIJO

At the end of July, I went on a Missions Trip to Haiti with about 12 people from my church and from other churches. This was the first time I had ever been out of the country and had ever been on a Missions Trip, and I decided to make it count by going to a 3rd World Country.

If someone mentions Haiti, some think of the earthquake that happened in 2010, some think of poverty, some think of diseases and some think of the corrupted government. Even though all of this is true about Haiti, now that I have been there, these aspects are not the first things that come to my mind. When I think of Haiti, I think of the beautiful mountains that surround the villages. I think of the clear blue water of the Caribbean Sea that some of my teammates were fortunate enough to get baptized in. I think of the fields of crops that the Haitians grew themselves in order to survive. I think of the Haitian people in the villages waving at us and saying "Bonswa" (meaning hello in Creole) as you walk through the villages. I think of the children who ran after our car just to get a glimpse of an American, as if we were famous.

When I think of Haiti, I can't help but to think of the beauty of the country, mainly because of how welcoming the people are. We were strangers to these people and they didn't know what we were doing there or what we were even saying, but they welcomed us into their homes, they let us hold their children, they let us pray with them, they smiled at us as we walked by, and they said hi to us as if we were a part of their everyday lives. Even the Haitians (both children and adults) who could speak a little bit of English would try so hard to just have a simple "Hi, how are you?" or "What's your name?" conversation with us...those small talk conversations we all dread in the United States.

You see, Haiti IS filled with poverty. It is filled with houses that are made of tree branches and tarps. It is filled with people who barely have food, clothes, and water. It is filled with people who shower once a week in a river in the middle of the day. It is filled with people who walk miles just to get a jug of water for their families. It is filled with people who rely on the sun to know what time it is or when it's time to go to sleep, because they don't have electricity. And it is filled with thousands of children who don't have parents or families.

Knowing this, the first thing that probably comes to our minds is: how sad. How sad it is to live in this kind of environment. How sad it must be to have a child run up to you and hold your hand as you are walking through the village, just because they normally don't get that affection. How sad that children are running around without clothes or diapers on, because their parents can't afford it. How sad that some of the people survive on a meal of rice once a day. How sad.

But you see, despite all this, I think the real statement is how sad we are. How sad it is that we have so much in our lives, have so much food, shelter, clothes, family, water... and we take it all for granted. We waste it. And worse, we strive for more.

The Haitians are the complete opposite. They are praising God every second of every day for the little they have. They are appreciating every second of life and every scrap of food they can provide for themselves and for their families. They even appreciate something as simple as a picture we printed out for them, because they had never even seen their own face, let alone have ever had a picture of themselves.

There are so many little things we take advantage of because we tend to forget how fortunate we really are. So my challenge to you is to start noticing the beauty in your lives, and to appreciate everything you have. Start appreciating your family, friends, food, water, electricity, clothes, jobs, and for the amazing country we live in. Because as one of my teammates brought to our attention in Haiti: we didn't earn this lifestyle. Almost all of us didn't work hard to be here in America. We were just born into a fortunate country, while others around the world were born into poverty. There was no difference or special task we did to be here. But as our leader said, with that great fortune is a responsibility. We have a responsibility to appreciate every little thing we have, and a responsibility to help the ones that don't have much.

As much as I want to tell you to take a trip to another country to help others, I know that not everyone can just get up and go. But there are so many ways you can help from afar. Our team is still trying to help the Haitians from afar by collecting clothes, shoes, diapers, etc. and sending it out to Haiti for the people who need it. If you would like to donate, you can drop donations off at the ABC Public Relations office Mon. – Thurs. 9 am to 4 pm located at 14414 Central Ave. #B, Chino CA 91710. You can also arrange a pickup or a drop off in Eastvale by calling me at (909) 992-9036. If you would like to help with the shipping cost, we will also take money donations, as well.

If you are interested in going to Haiti on a Missions Trip, there are two organizations we met with and are the most legitimate. IV Hope For Haiti is the organization we went with (contact them through their Facebook page) or you can contact Lifeline at www.lifeline-haiti.com. Both organizations accept donations, as well.

I hope you will take the challenge to start appreciating the wonderful country we are fortunate to live in. I hope you will take the time to tell your loved ones how much you are thankful to have them. I hope you will stop striving for more, and start giving more instead. And I hope you will always remember to see the beauty in everything.

Leadership and Trust

By JORGE RAZO, PRESIDENT

When we were such a small group trying to market our own businesses in Eastvale many years ago, we all had a common element: to try to help each other's business. We took this premise and continued it into what is now the Eastvale Chamber of Commerce.

We've met and decided, just as our small group once did, our Chamber must follow suit of the philosophy of our roots. So we've placed aside any negativity, any personal agendas, and anything that could get into the way of progress. And then we went back to our roots.

I believe that it's important we remember where we came from, where we've been, and also remember where we can be when we have the right leadership and trust.

LTG Christianson once said: "Your biggest enemy is the unknown and assumptions."

So, as a Chamber, we've studied what others are doing and we've attempted to enhance what we've believed is close to our roots, to have a group of individuals decide, democratically, where we will go as a Chamber. We hope there are no assumptions, but instead, communication. This is why we've encouraged our membership to feel free to share where you believe we need to be in the next five years. We have many exciting changes coming and we are proud to provide the leadership and trust you deserve. And we will not be fearful of change, but instead, we will help one another become successful with courage. We hope to see you at our upcoming events.

Chamber Pres. Jorge Razo

Chamber recap

whether they are a store front, small business or even a home based business. We work hard to ensure that the programs we provide adhere to all members and future members.

During the month of September, we will be hosting two Grand Openings in the City of Eastvale for Riverside Medical Clinic, Dickey's Barbecue Pit and a Grand Re-Opening for Johnny Rocket's. Celebrating the doors opening on these businesses is important because they provide jobs in our community and in a fast growing city, like Eastvale, we need them.

The Chamber has approved 106 new members since January and continues to get applications weekly. Why, as a business, should you join the Chamber? There is an exclusive referral program, community exposure, informational resources, and advertising opportunities. All of which help YOUR business no matter how big or small.

The Eastvale Chamber is not only about the business community but the Eastvale Community as a whole. In April, we successfully hosted our 2nd State of the City and took pride that our business sponsors came through and supported us to make the event free to the public. The Eastvale Chamber also made a $1,000 donation to the Eastvale Military Banner Program to help install and maintain the banners that line Archibald. In June, the Chamber was a Bronze Sponsor for Eastvale's very first Relay for Life, an event to raise awareness about Cancer.

For our business community, we held a Summer Marketing Series at our Lunch and Learn. Topics included Hot Trends in Marketing, Social Media, and E-mail Marketing. A topic that members stated they wanted more information on. Monthly, we host our Good Morning Eastvale at Corky's Kitchen and Bakery and our After-Hours Mixer at various members' locations.

We don't know everything, but we will seek out the answer. If you have a question about how to start a business, marketing ideas, or maybe you're starting to see red at the bottom line, call the Chamber for resources that can help. We have a representative from Senator Roth's office that offers to help Chamber Members with the Board of Equalization and the EDD. You may be in business for yourself, but you don't need to do it by yourself.

Call the Eastvale Chamber today at (951)768-6000 about resources available to you and your business.

Business of the Month: Destined To Travel

Destined To Travel opened in 2008, in the midst of an economic downturn. Since then, several groups per year have traveled to some of the finest safari destinations in Africa. To complete 2013, two more groups are operating, in September and December, and the February 2014 and 2015 Migration Miracle safaris in Tanzania are also shaping up to be great trips. The owner, 'Safari' Kay will escort each of these groups and space is still available. Though we specialize in Escorted African Safari Groups, we often put together other groups to exciting, exotic, and adventurous destinations, having traveled to Thailand, China, Brazil, Scotland, Ireland, France, England, Egypt, Australia, New Zealand and much of the Caribbean. We are looking towards Morocco, Cuba, Spain & Portugal, and Croatia for future travel. If any of these safaris or destinations interests you, please do not hesitate to contact 'Safari' Kay at 951-898-6094 or visit destined-to-travel.com for more information.

Pastors' Corners

Second Best

By PASTOR TIM EATON

This year, the Baltimore Ravens won the Super Bowl... but who lost? Brad Keselowski won the NASCAR Sprint Cup last year. Do you remember who came in second? Unless they were your favorite (by the way, the 49ers lost) it's not very likely. Vince Lombardi and Dale Earnhardt sum up our view of second place: "There is no room for second place. There is only one place in my game and that is first place. I have finished second twice in my time at Green Bay and I never want to finish second again," said Lombardi. And again, from Dale Earnhardt, "Second place is just the first place loser."

There is something in us that can't stand to lose. As a people, we are obsessed with first. We want to be the best. In sports, competition, and business we call that Drive. We celebrate and encourage it. But what about in life? It is just as common there, too. Unfortunately, when we want to be first in life, it is no longer drive, no longer healthy, and no longer something to celebrate. Instead it is a plague. The drive to win, to be, to have everything can make us self-centered, egotistical, and narcissistic. Far from getting us everything, it can cost us everything, and leave us alone with nothing of significance.

Contrary to our desire to be first comes another idea: be SECOND. I know. It sounds crazy. But it is even more powerful than being first. Instead of tearing down others, it builds them up. It seeks a greater good than "Me". However, it can actually make relationships better, too! And we can follow someone else who did it first. Jesus. He put himself SECOND to everyone by giving his life for the sake of every person who will ever live. When we put Jesus first, we have put everyone first – and ourselves SECOND.

What would happen if we put others first? Come and discover what has happened for Sports Heroes, Movie Stars, Captains of Industry, and everyday people like you and me. Could SECOND be best? Join us for "I AM SECOND", beginning Sunday, September 15, at 10:00 a.m.

prescribe some kind of medication and then to say – you have got to cut some stress out of your life. Stress is directly linked to physical conditions like heart attacks, high blood pressure and strokes.

But there is another negative side to stress. The number one thing that dies before you do is your ability to be in any kind of meaningful relationship. This is true in your relationship with people and this is true in your relationship with God. When we're too busy, no one gets our undivided attention.

Matthew 11:28 - Come to me, all of you who are weary and carry heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Rest.... it's a word we like, but not a word we live. It's not a concept we're cozy with. It means that God works even when I don't. It means that more success doesn't necessarily mean more significance. It means that my work isn't always my worth.

Doctors, had treatments, praying all the while, again with zero results. Through those years, God continued to speak to our hearts through His Word and loved ones prayed for us. One day, my wife was drawn to a passage. The passage was Hannah's prayer in 1 Samuel 1:27 "For this child I prayed, and the LORD has granted me my petition which I asked of Him."

It was 4 months later that my wife found out that she was pregnant - on Mother's Day! Today we have two beautiful boys and a testimony of God's inspired word coming to life in our hearts. We were changed.

We have been inspired to trust God despite the circumstances. Remember, God is able.

Alone And Abandoned

By PASTOR ROB NORRIS

I delivered the poor who cried for help, and the orphan who had no helper. Job 29:12

One of the things we tend to forget, overlook or just simply ignore when thinking about adoption is how desperately needy some children are. This came to mind again when hearing the story of a couple who felt the need to share their family of six with a child from Guatemala.

All that's known about young Heidi Paola is that she was found in a cardboard box by the side of the road. She was less than a year old, abandoned to die until a policeman walked over to dispose of what he thought was an empty carton. Inside he found a sun-burned, dehydrated infant, still breathing... somehow.

His decision to take her to a nearby orphanage probably wasn't automatic. Many children are left unwanted in underprivileged countries, where poverty and need outrank parental concern in case after case. One more wasn't a surprise. But because of God's working through one man's rescue efforts, a little baby left to die ultimately became a little girl growing up in an orphanage.

When her adoptive parents first entered the dormitory where Heidi had lived since arriving at the orphanage, she rushed from her caretaker's side and lunged into her new mommy's arms. The bond was powerful and immediate. Nothing could be closer to God's heart than this.

I firmly believe that adoption is one of the central efforts in our day that can define the Church's compassion for the world. With no one to protect them, children are in such distress. Their need is so great. May God raise up families who will reach out and give the helpless a home -- a mommy and daddy who will protect them.

Live It

One child, hurting and in need. With no hope. No one. What can you do to help a child like this experience God's love?

Join us Saturday, October 19th between 9am to 2 pm, as we come together to fill a Goodwill truck. All proceeds will help provide a Christmas for families and children that are less fortunate... For more information contact Yasmine Austin at 714-420-2788

Pray

That your family will represent God's heart of compassion to the fatherless.

Be Inspired

By PASTOR DENNIS MORALES

Many things inspire us today. You can go to a baseball game and your team hits a walk off home run, or you may watch a movie like "Rudy" and be moved by an individual passion to accomplish something beyond expectation. By God's design and inspiration, there is something that can move you beyond your expectations. Sometimes inspiration is needed.

The Bible is the inspired Word of God (2 Tim 3:16). The Bible inspires faith. Romans 10:17 says "Faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word of God." The Bible is also "Living and powerful and sharper than any two edged sword" (Hebrews 4:12).

When my wife miscarried, it was one of the darkest times of our life together. God encouraged us through His Word (the Bible). For the nine years thereafter we tried to have kids with zero results. We visited

Doctors, had treatments, praying all the while, again with zero results. Through those years, God continued to speak to our hearts through His Word and loved ones prayed for us. One day, my wife was drawn to a passage. The passage was Hannah's prayer in 1 Samuel 1:27 "For this child I prayed, and the LORD has granted me my petition which I asked of Him."

It was 4 months later that my wife found out that she was pregnant - on Mother's Day! Today we have two beautiful boys and a testimony of God's inspired word coming to life in our hearts. We were changed.

We have been inspired to trust God despite the circumstances. Remember, God is able.

Bill and Rowena Seward are ready to start serving authentic Texas barbecue to their community. On Thursday, September 12 at 11 a.m. the new Dickey's in Eastvale will open its doors and the first 50 dine-in customers who purchase an item on that day will receive a Dickey's gift card fully loaded with up to $50.

On Friday, customers will enjoy a day of giveaways. The party continues on Saturday with $2 Pulled Pork Big Barbecue sandwiches from noon to 2 p.m. and a drawing for a $500 gift card good at Dickey's Barbecue Pit.

"We can't wait to celebrate opening with the Eastvale community," said owner Bill Seward. "Dickey's Barbecue Pit brings the same sense of pride and solid family values that are a perfect complement to Eastvale."

Bill Seward was born and raised in Maryland but moved to California in 1998 to pursue a career in Hospitality Management. He has lived in Eastvale since 2007. Rowena is originally from the Philippines, but moved to California and also found a career in Hotel Management. They live in Eastvale with their four children, Jon, Joenah, Aiden, and Dylan.

"When residents in our community hear the words, Dickey's Barbecue Pit, we want them to first think great food and amazing service and secondly a business that values and appreciates its community," said owner Rowena Seward.

About Dickey's Barbecue Restaurants
Dickey's Barbecue was founded by Travis Dickey with the goal of authentic slow smoked barbecue. More than 72 years later, the Dallas-based family run barbecue franchise still offers a quality selection of signature meats, home style sides, tangy barbecue sauce and free kids meals every Sunday. All meats are slow smoked on site in each restaurant. The fast-casual family-friendly concept has expanded to over 300 locations in 40 states and holds the title of the world's largest barbecue franchise. This year Technomic named Dickey's "Fastest-growing restaurant in the country" and they were also named "Best Franchise Deal" by QSR Magazine.
