Mother Murdered

OCDA

Santa Ana – A man will be arraigned today for the stabbing-murder of his mother in her Anaheim home.

Gabriel Ramirez, 21, Anaheim, is charged with one felony count of murder with a sentencing enhancement for the personal use of a deadly weapon and faces a maximum sentence of 26 years to life in state prison if convicted. Ramirez is being

Sex Offender Escapes

By Andrew Hoover

San Bernardino - A violent sex offender has recently cut off his GPS device and is being sought by authorities.

On Oct. 30, a violent sex offender identified as Dennis Michael McKenzie, 55, allegedly cut off his GPS tracking device and fled the halfway house he was residing in. Police aren't sure of the exact date and time that McKenzie cut off his device, however

Remains Found In Water Treatment Plant

By Kimberley Sander

Industry – On Saturday, Oct. 26, a human foot and calf were found at a water pollution control plant in Carson, on Monday morning, Oct. 28, the upper torso of a woman's body was found in a waste treatment plant near Industry, and on Thursday, Oct. 31, additional human remains were discovered at the same location in Carson. The remains all seem to belong to the same individual, possibly a Hispanic female, sheriffs reported.

The foot and calf were discovered in a separation pond early Saturday morning at the county's Joint Water Pollution Control Plant (JWPCP) on Figueroa Street. Maintenance workers reportedly discovered the torso

Does Chino Hills Need A Dog Park?

By Jennifer Madrigal

Chino Hills - Cities like Brea, Claremont, and Diamond Bar all have dog parks for their residents. Why not the City of Chino Hills? While a dog park was once in the plans for Chino Hills, it has yet to be built and local residents are wondering what would it take to have one here? Groups like DogParkforChino Hills.org have started petitions to get City Council members to consider the planning of a dog park, and hope to forge a partnership with the City of Chino Hills to build a community dog park for families to enjoy with their dogs.

Currently, groups of local residents are trying to obtain commitment signatures to demonstrate community support for a dog park. Once these signatures are collected, they hope to be able to work with City officials to secure a location in Chino Hills for the dog park. Local groups would then love to be able to participate in the planning, construction, management, and maintenance

Puente Hills Landfill Closed

By Sarah Armijo

City of Industry – After 56 years of operation, the Puente Hills Landfill, located at 13130 Crossroads Parkway in City of Industry, closed on Oct. 31 to be turned into a park. Trash will no longer be accepted at the landfill, which is owned and operated by the Sanitation Districts of Los Angeles County. But Chuck Boehmke, Departmental Engineer for Solid Waste Management, said in a press release that five other Districts' facilities are available to meet the waste management needs of businesses and the community.

The landfill properties span 1,365 acres, some of which retain an active Materials Recovery Facility (MRF). The closure process of the landfill will take approximately 12 - 18 months for construction of the final cover and to complete other closure work. After the closure process, the filled areas of the landfill will be turned into a protected park operated by Los Angeles County Department of Parks

LA Sheriff's Dept. Awarded $1.1 Million Grant

By Andrew Hoover

LA County - The Los Angeles Sheriff's Department (LASD) was recently awarded a $1.1 million grant for its Selective Traffic Enforcement Program, aimed at increasing traffic safety.

The grant was implemented on October 1 and will run until September 30, 2014, according to the grant document issued by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. The grant will be used to fund personnel, including overtime, as well as training, and the purchase of equipment necessary to provide better service to the cities and communities they watch over.

The grant, as issued by Los Angeles County, has a large set of goals and objectives,

Our Life: My Son, My Sun

By MICHAEL ARMIJO

I sat there on the brown, lacquered bar stool, with my arms on the counter, my face in my palms, and then the crowd walked in.

Although there was a group of them, one stood out like a court jester on the royal throne; he was obviously the life of the party.

In a beat of the heart, I saw a reflection of myself, as the loud, happy, party-goer. I remembered being that young man, feeling life on the edge, screaming with joyful enthusiasm. And then in another beat of the heart, I saw something else that scared the hell out of me. I saw a reflection of my son.

You see, the life I once lived, I am not proud of. And I am scared for my son. I know he'll have to endure many of the emotions whose presence must move us. I know he'll have no choice but to learn many lessons the hard way. And I know he'll have to travel some paths that I too had to endure. But I am still afraid.

I don't want him to have to deal with the problems that I was exposed to. The adult decisions I made as a child. To wander through life guideless and fearful. To walk a path that my heart refuses to acknowledge existed. I'm afraid for him; although he's older now, to me, he's still my little boy.

I still remember how proud I was when, for the first time, he reached first base in little league. I remember how I felt when he caught the winning pass during his first season of playing football.

This year he turns seventeen, but I can still remember his tiny little smile, and his cute little "Ricky Ricardo" hair style. I can still remember his playful joy, and his childish, comedic grace. Always giggling, always dreaming of being a superhero. Ninja Turtle, Batman, Spiderman, even Dark Wing Duck. The many Halloweens allowed him to be them all.

And although I miss those days, the days of holding him completely in my arms, remembering how he'd grab French fries from my mouth while climbing on my back, I can still feel his childish warmth. Because my beautiful little boy, who's now a young man, makes me feel proud all over again. His kindness, his joy, his talent, and most important, his gentle heart, brings waves of radiance that shine on my soul. Because my tiny child, my baby boy, is not just my son; but the rays of light that come from his wonderful heart brings me all the light in the world. Because my Son will always be the light in my eyes, he will always be my Son, my Son.

DB Women's Club Hosts Roaring Twenties Casino Night

STAFF REPORTS

Diamond Bar - The Diamond Bar Women's Club is planning an exciting new event for Friday, Feb. 7, 2014, 6:30 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. at the Diamond Bar Golf Course, 22751 Golden Springs Drive, Diamond Bar. Please mark your calendars now for our first Roaring Twenties Casino Night. Tickets are $50 per person, which includes a delicious dinner, $50 worth of gaming chips and one drink tickets. You are encouraged to come in twenties dress and enjoy a very fun-filled and festive evening with all proceeds to benefit the Club's many philanthropic efforts. For tickets or information, please call Debbie Avila-Mott at 909 860-1063.

The Diamond Bar Woman's Club is volunteering with the City of Diamond Bar and the Diamond Bar Historical Society in an exciting project to organize and archive all of the historical mementos that have been collected by the Historical Society over the past several years. They are looking for volunteers to help with this very interesting project. These volunteers meet at Diamond Bar City Hall on the second and fourth Mondays of each month from 9 a.m. to noon. For more information, please call Kathleen Newe at 909 629-2711.

The Diamond Bar Woman's Club sponsors many local and regional charities, such as scholarships for local students, The House of Ruth, Shoes That Fit and many more.

New members are encouraged to join this very active group. The Diamond Bar Woman's Club organized in 1963 and is one of the longest running service organizations in the San Gabriel Valley. The Diamond Bar Woman's Club meets on the third Wednesday of each month at the Diamond Bar Golf Course located at 22751 E. Golden Springs Drive, Diamond Bar, California. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, November 20 starting at 10 a.m. The meetings are always a great opportunity for fellowship and informative topics. For a luncheon reservation, please call Sharron Tanzer at 909 861-3138. For information on any of our programs, please call President Rosette Clippinger at 909 525-8828.

Industry Arthrex Wins

Vote For Three Ideal Candidates

STAFF REPORTS

Walnut Valley - With the election coming up on Nov. 5, three spots are open for the Walnut Valley Unified School District Board. Three candidates seem to be the most qualified to fill those spots.

Cindy Ruiz and Helen Hall are up for re-election.

Ruiz has served on the WVUSD Board for 12 years and was recently selected as Vice President of Fundraising for the Walnut Valley Educational Foundation. She has also served as the 2012 & 2013 Event Chair for the American Cancer Society San Gabriel Valley Gala and is a volunteer leader for the Relay For Life of Walnut. Hall has served on the WVUSD Board for 28 years and has served leadership positions for Community Club, United Way, Northminister Presbyterian Church and is currently the Informational Systems Manager for the City of Fullerton.

Under Ruiz and Helen's leadership, the entire Walnut Valley Unified School District has received a wide variety of accomplishments, including the following:

- The WVUSD is the highest achieving school district in the San Gabriel Valley
- A District API score of 908
- Home of National Blue Ribbon Schools and California Distinguished Schools
- Two primary years of IB Elementary Schools
- U.S. News and World Report named Walnut High School and Diamond Bar High School among America's Best High Schools
- Walnut High School is top International Baccalaureate School with recent authorization for IB Career Certificate Project

Lead the Way Biomedical Sciences Program

- Diamond Bar High School is International Baccalaureate School and ranked as a Gold Medal School

- 98% graduation rate district wide

- Schools rated superior for Performing Arts, Athletic and Academic programs

- New Mandarin Dual Immersion Program school

- New state of the art buildings and schools were built, which utilized bond dollars.

Keep WVUSD running strong with these experienced leaders on our school board.

Nancy Lyons is not seeking re-election, so newcomer Tony Torng would be a great fit for the third seat due to his community service and experience throughout the community.

Torng currently serves as a Chair of Diamond Bar Planning Commission, as a Chair of Mt. San Antonio College's Citizens Oversight Committee for Measures R & RR Funding, and as a mentor of Diamond Bar High School Robotics team. He has also served as president of the Diamond Bar Chinese American Association, a fundraising co-chair for the Diamond Bar Library, and was on the board of both the Diamond Bar High School Chinese American Parent Association (CAPA) and the Brahma Foundation. He was also recently awarded as Diamond Bar Hero Award 2013.

If elected, Torng's top three priorities for the upcoming term would be to create fiscally responsible budgets based on the State's new Local Control Funding formula, implement the state's new Common Core Standards, and promote Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) program to K-12 students through seminars, workshops and robotics programs.

With all the experience, dedication, and community service, these three candidates seem like "The Dream Team." We believe they would be best for our stellar community and endorse all three candidates for the Walnut Valley Unified Board of Education. Make sure to vote Nov. 5.

On election day, the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. This is also the last day for Vote-By-Mail Ballots to be turned in by the voter at any polling place in the jurisdiction. To find your polling place and view the sample ballots, visit www.lavote.net.

Gourmet Food Trucks Coming To Walnut Every Month

WVUSD

Walnut—Gourmet food trucks are coming monthly now for the Friday night Family WHEEL FOOD FESTS to benefit the Walnut Valley Educational Foundation.

Starting Nov. 1, from 5:30 – 9 p.m., southern California's most requested and favorite gourmet food trucks will be in Walnut every month. Make the first Friday of the month Family Fun Night! Experience good food, good music, and family fun! Renowned gourmet food trucks will gather together and donate a portion of their profits to the Walnut Valley Educational foundation in support of our students, teachers and district. The monthly events will be held at the school district office parking lot at 880 S. Lemon Ave. cross St. Golden Springs.

The list of confirmed trucks are a foodie fan's dream including: Lobsta Truck, Piaggio Gourmet on Wheels, White Rabbit, and the local favorite, Slummin' Gourmet with desserts from My Delight Cupcakery. What better way to spend a Friday night?

"Foodies or people who want to check out the popular trucks without the hassle of larger events, should mark their calendar and make this their family monthly night out. The Walnut Valley Educational Foundations WHEEL FOOD FEST will be a great family and community event. With the success of our events in the past, we decided to make it monthly!" said Cindy Ruiz, Vice President of Fundraising for the Foundation and WVUSD School Board Member.

The WHEEL FOOD FEST will also feature an opportunity to Feed Yourself...Feed your Community. While entry to event is free, as well as, plenty of free parking, if you would like, bring a canned or boxed food item that will be donated to the Walnut Valley Food bank.

No outside food, beverages, alcohol or pets, are permitted. For more information, visit www.wvef.educ.us and follow the event on Twitter : WVEF_Food-Fest or Facebook at www.facebook.com/pages/Walnut-Valley-Educational-Foundation

School District Builds Natural Gas Public Station

RUSD

Rowland Heights – You've heard of school districts being green, but this is taking green to a new level. Rowland Unified School District (RUSD), located in the San Gabriel Valley, is known for its innovation in the classroom, and now for its green innovation by building a compressed natural gas (CNG) station for its fleet of new CNG busses. What's unique is that this station will also be open to the public at very affordable rates.

"We believe this is a wonderful opportunity to be good to our environment by providing a fleet of 15 new CNG buses that serve our community. In addition, it is a new way to raise funds for our District," said Rowland Unified School District Superintendent

Ruben Frutos.

The newly built CNG station will be accessible to the public 24 hours a day, and will feature two dispensers for fueling CNG vehicles (both cars and trucks) with fast-fill pumps operating at pressure ratings of up to 3600 psi. The station will have two storage tanks with two 75 square cubic feet per minute compressors that operate both the fast-fill and the school bus time-fill CNG stations simultaneously. The CNG time-fill station will allow Rowland Unified School District to fill approximately 25 buses in a 10 hour period. In the future, the Rowland USD Transportation Department will be upgrading the station with an additional compressor for optimal efficiency and will expand the fleet to 33 CNG buses.

The Rowland Unified School

District is proud to serve 15,000 students at 20 elementary and secondary schools in the communities of Rowland Heights, Walnut, La Puente, City of Industry, and West Covina. More than 5,000 adults (16+) are also served by the Rowland Adult and Community Education School. For more information about Rowland Unified, call (626) 965-2541 or visit www.RowlandSchools.org.

Mt. SAC Journalism Students Have the Write Stuff

Mt. SAC

Walnut—Mt. San Antonio College journalism students proved they had the "write" stuff, walking away as the big winners at the Journalism Association of Community Colleges (JACC) fall regional conference on Oct. 11 and 12 at Cal State Fullerton.

With more than 600 students competing, Mt. SAC captured top honors for its publications. The web version of the student Mountaineer newspaper, mountiewire.com, won the General Excellence Award as did the student magazine, Substance. Mt. SAC students garnered six first-place wins, 11 second-place honors, seven third-place awards, and six honorable mentions.

Mt. SAC's Rich Yap (Rowland Heights) won first place in the student designed advertisement and bring in student designed advertisement categories; second place in profile feature writing and magazine cover; third place in non profile feature writing; magazine essay, and online feature story; and honorable mention in opinion writing and student designed advertisement.

Albert Serna (Covina) won first place in student-designed advertisement and bring in student designed advertisement, and Adolfo Tigerino (Loma Linda) won first place for sports photo and second place for news writing. Harmon Huynh (West Covina) won first place for student designed advertisement.

Other winners for Mt. SAC were Beatrice Alcala (Walnut), second place for magazine design and magazine cover, and third place for magazine photo essay; Vanessa Solis (Alhambra), second place for copy editing; Sterling Knight (Rowland Heights), second place for feature photo and honorable mention for student designed advertisement; Eugene Arellanes (Fontana) and Walnut—Walnut High School received a $20,000 donation from the school's Chinese American Parent Association (CAPA) on October 25.

The funds will support the school's Science Department, according to Principal Jeff Jordan.

The school will be able to purchase items including Labquest2, Gas Sensor Probes, Chemical Packs, Vacuum Filter Kits, and Microscope Cameras.

"Their donation is appreciated as it will support our students and Science Teachers. We are very appreciative of CAPA and their support of Walnut High School," Jordan said.

In the last four years, the parent organization has donated a total of $90,000.

Westhoff Celebrates Cultural Diversity

By KELLI GILE

Walnut—Westhoff Elementary hosted its annual Culture Fair on Friday, October 11.

Community Club parents organized the event with 17 different cultures represented.

"This is my favorite school activity as it brings all of our families (and neighbors) together to share cultures and favorite traditional foods," said Principal Denise Rendon.

Students proudly dressed in clothes representing their heritage marched in a parade. Several children also provided entertainment with traditional dances.

"Many parents and their extended families volunteer their time and energy to make this evening enjoyable for everyone. I am glad they do," Rendon added.

Mother murdered

held on $1 million bail and is expected to be arraigned today, Tuesday, Oct. 29, 2013, in Department CJ-1, Central Jail, Santa Ana.

At approximately 7:00 p.m. on Oct. 27, 2013, Ramirez is accused of murdering his 42-year-old mother Margarita Esquivias by stabbing her repeatedly in a bedroom in her Anaheim home.

After the murder, the defendant is accused of calling 911. The Anaheim Police Department responded to the scene, located the victim, and arrested the defendant. The victim was transported to the hospital, where she died of her injuries. Senior Deputy District Attorney Steve McGreevy of the Homicide Unit is prosecuting this case.

Human remains found in water treatment plant

in a water reclamation pool while checking on a plugged line at the San Jose Creek Water Reclamation Plant (WRP) on Workman Mill Road, next to Whittier. The additional human remains were discovered by a facility employee at the Carson location at around 7:57 a.m. on Oct. 31. The Los Angeles County Medical Examiner Coroner has yet to identify the remains.

Carson's JWPCP, the largest of the Sanitation District's wastewater treatment plants, provides treatment for 280 million gallons of wastewater per day, serving a population of 3.5 million people throughout Los Angeles County. Through a variety of procedures, wastewater is disinfected and sent to the Pacific Ocean through a network of outfalls.

The WPR provides treatment for 100 million gallons of wastewater per day, serving a residential population of approximately one million people. Approximately 42 million gallons of that water is reused at over 130 different reuse sites, including the irrigation of parks, schools and greenbelts. The rest of the water is sent to the San Gabriel River. The two plants are directly linked.

The labyrinth of sewage lines, pools, pumps and tanks at the plants leaves one wondering why or where the remains entered the plants. It's possible the body could have come in through a manhole or sewer cover and become mutilated through the journey. Whatever circumstances surround the mystery, Sheriffs are treating the situation as a homicide. The victim's identity and cause of death will be determined by the Coroner. The Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department's Homicide Bureau is asking anyone with information regarding this incident to contact them at (323) 890-5500. Anonymous information may be provided by calling Crime Stoppers at (800) 222-TIPS (8477), or texting the letters TIPLA, plus your tip, to CRIMES (274637). Crime Recap

SGV - This week in crime includes a fatal hit and run, a homicide, and an update on the Lorbeer teacher trial.

On Oct. 27, a pedestrian was struck in a deadly hit and run accident. The pedestrian identified as, Christopher Guerrero, 36, of Diamond Bar, was walking in the street along West Temple Avenue and Campus Drive in the early morning, when he was struck and killed by a Chevy truck or SUV, according to authorities. CHP officers were able to recover debris leftover from the scene, which they are using as evidence to help identify the driver. However, it still remains unclear as to why Guerrero was walking in the street.

Also on Oct. 27, a homicide took place at the 800 block of Puente Ave., in La Puente. A male adult was pronounced dead at the scene at around 1:52 p.m. There is no further information at this time. Anyone with information is encouraged to contact the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department's Homicide Bureau at (323) 890-5500. If you prefer to provide information anonymously, you may call "Crime Stoppers" by dialing (800) 222-

TIPS (8477), or texting the letters TIPLA plus your tip to CRIMES (274637), or by using the website <http://lacrimestoppers.org>.

On Oct. 30, the Pomona Superior Court released an update on the trial for former Lorbeer Middle School teacher, Steven Andrews.

Andrews surrendered to Police back in September 2011, admitting he committed lewd acts on a 14-year-old student. Andrews is facing 17 charges, including six counts of sexual penetration with a foreign object, six counts of unlawful sexual intercourse with a child, two counts of oral copulation with a child under 16, and three counts of lewd acts on a child. The trial will once again be pushed back until early next year with a pretrial set for January 6, 2014, according to the Pomona Superior Court.

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DR. AKIYOSHI,

My twenty year old son is dating a girl (his age) who has a lot of tattoos that are visible all over her body, face, and neck. She seems to be a nice person, so if my son is happy then I'm happy for him. My problem is he's upset with me right now because I don't want to include her in every social function we attend as a family. We have a very large group of family and friends and we go to parties and sporting events every month. I'm tired of her tattoos being the main topic of conversation and people asking me what I think. Family and friends from my generation are shocked when they meet her and they turn to me with a hundred questions that I can't answer. I respect his right to choose his girlfriend and I'm not trying to judge her, I just want my social life to be normal again. He says I'm being unfair when I don't tell him about all the different things we are invited to as a family, but I just need a break from it sometimes.

Anonymous Upset Mom

Dear Upset Mom,
Tattoos are a form of expression to the younger generation and are not viewed as a big deal. I understand and accept this to a degree. However, if this young woman is covered to the point that her appearance stops traffic and monopolizes the conversations at social gatherings, then this is a red flag in my opinion. When a person creates an appearance that screams for attention, something bigger is going on, but let me address your problem. If your son is also invited to these social events with the understanding that he may bring a date, try hard to be gracious. Our youngsters are watching us closely to see how we operate, so put your best foot forward. If someone asks you a bunch of questions about your son's date, politely direct them to speak to her or your son. If introductions are in order, then ask your son to handle this appropriately. She is his companion, not yours. You've made it clear to your son that you are uncomfortable being in this position, yet he has decided to bring his girlfriend into your inner circle anyway. He is flexing his maturity muscles. Now flex yours, and allow him to deal with all the questions and curiosity people have about his girlfriend. Focus your attention on people who are offering more enjoyable conversations. Continue to be cordial; this is all you owe anyone in a social setting.

Our Internal Dialogue

By NANCY STOOPS

We all have a dialogue that lives within us. It tells us how we feel about ourselves. It can make us fly or it can literally paralyze us. Our internal dialogue usually is created in our childhood and it comes from how we feel we are perceived by others, especially our parents. We learn at a very young age to love ourselves or to hate ourselves.

We adopt a belief system about who we are and about whether we deserve life's best or whether we deserve nothing good at all. This belief system can literally create a successful human being or a human being that is always failing.

It is possible to change your internal dialogue if it is destructive. I think it starts by writing down all of the lies that you live by and correcting them by writing down the truth for every lie. It sounds so very simple but it's hard work to be so very brutally honest with ourselves. The alternative is being paralyzed and never having the life you were intended to have or never becoming who God intends you to be. The alternative is being cheated of all the wonderful that this life does have to offer.

I believe we owe it to ourselves to right the wrong, to correct the irrational belief system that haunts us and steals our joy and hope. I believe everybody deserves to be who God intends them to be. Every being has the right to be his or her very best. How dare we allow anything else for ourselves. Make today the day that you start to change that internal dialogue. Make today the day you start to settle for nothing but the best for yourself. Today, become your child's most effective model for well being and success!!!!

Those Amazing Teachers

By MARK HOPPER

Years ago, I served as the pastor of a small church in Tucson, Arizona. We loved the city and the beautiful desert environment.

Our church was located just down the street from the elementary school where our own children attended. My kids and some of their friends would often walk from school the short distance to my office at church.

One time, one of these children stopped by on a Sunday morning. Since he couldn't find me in my office, he told a nearby adult that he was looking for the man who lives here!

This young student assumed that I lived at the church, since that is where he always saw me! My wife and kids may have felt that way, too!

I think the same thing happens in regards to teachers. Young students may think that their teachers live at school. After all, the teachers are at school before the students arrive and still there after the students leave!

There is no doubt that teachers put in endless hours at school teaching and working. And, they put in even more hours at home preparing lessons and grading papers. Their work never really ends!

I suggested in my previous article that teachers need your support and encouragement. You may not have the time or opportunity to invite them to your home, but you can express your appreciation in other ways.

You can write a simple "Thank You" note to thank them for encouraging your children. You can offer your time to help in the classroom. If the school allows, you can drop off some goodies or snacks for the teacher and students to enjoy.

I think one of the gifts that my wife enjoyed most during her teaching career was a gift card to a local restaurant. It allowed her a little more time to do other things and not worry about fixing dinner. And, should I add, I enjoyed them too!

You don't need to wait until the holiday season to say "Thanks" to your children's teacher. Why not stop and write them a note today? Enclose a gift card if your budget allows.

Teachers may not really live at school, but sometimes it seems that way!

LA Sheriff's Dept. awarded $1.1 Million grant

including reducing the number of persons killed and/or injured in traffic collisions and alcohol/drug-related collisions; reducing the number of hit and run fatalities and injuries; and reducing the number of nighttime collision fatalities and injuries.

The grant also states that it will send officers to four different types of training courses and conduct over 300 different traffic operations throughout the year, including multiple DUI patrols, traffic enforcement patrols, motorcycle safety enforcement operations, and distracted driver enforcement operations, which will target drivers using cell phones or texting while driving.

For more information about this grant, go to <http://file.lacounty.gov/bos/supdocs/80144.pdf>.

Does Chino Hills need a dog park?

of our community dog park. The funds to build the park could hopefully be obtained through private sponsorships to help cover the costs associated with the development and maintenance of the facility.

According to the group, Dog Park for Chino Hills, the following is needed to ensure a safe and appropriate Dog Park:

- At least two acres of land (three acres would be better).
- A large, fenced area to give pets opportunities for exercise and socialization with other dogs.

- Separate areas for larger and smaller dogs.
- Double-gate systems for each area, so that people can bring their dogs in and out safely.
- Shade and drinking water since dogs can get overheated quickly.
- Materials for dog owners to clean up after their pets (trash cans and baggies such as those already provided by the City at existing parks and trails).
- And, most importantly, community involvement.

For more information about a dog park in Chino Hills, contact www.dogparkforchinohills.org.

Make sure to also check out the Chino Hills "Dog Park for a Day" event on Nov. 9 at Crossroads Park, 2765 Chino Hills Parkway. The event will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., with special guest, "Gator", the celebrity dog. The event will include off-leash areas for large and small dogs to run (current license or rabies certificate required), prizes for best costumes, vendors, food booths, craft corner for kids, and drawings for prizes. For more information, call (909) 597-3111.

Recycled Water Pipeline Construction in Chino Hills

NEWS RELEASE

Chino Hills – The Inland Empire Utilities Agency (IEUA) will begin installing a 30” diameter recycled water pipeline under Peyton Drive, near the intersection of Eucalyptus Avenue and Peyton, in Chino Hills. No construction, detours or lane closures will take place on Peyton Drive or Eucalyptus Avenue. All work will be done under Peyton Drive.

Heavy equipment is being brought to the vacant lots on both sides of Peyton Drive. IEUA's contractor has fenced around the work site and will install the pipeline using a boring process to construct the pipeline under Peyton Drive. Community Park overflow parking on the southwest corner of Peyton Drive and Eucalyptus will be allowed, but motorists are advised to avoid the fenced construction area.

The boring will start on the southeast corner of Peyton Drive and Eucalyptus Avenue and will exit on the opposite side of Peyton Drive in the vacant lot on the southwest side. The pipeline will ultimately connect to an existing pipeline near the Community Park entrance at Eucalyptus Avenue, which connects to a five-million gallon recycled water reservoir currently under construction. The recycled water pipeline has been under construction in Chino in the vicinity of Chino Hills Parkway, Monte Vista Avenue and Ramona Avenue along the San Antonio Channel and exit at Pipeline Avenue under SR71. In Chino Hills, the new pipeline will go west on Pipeline onto Eucalyptus Avenue, south on Bluebell Drive, west along English Channel to Peyton Drive.

Recycled water provides an additional water source for irrigation.

Funding for water recycling projects is provided by the California State Water Resources Control Board and the Environmental Protection Agency. The new pipeline and reservoir will help to ensure water reliability in the basin by providing recycled water for landscaping to area schools, parks, medians and businesses.

For additional information regarding the recycled water projects, contact Michelle O'Brien, CIP coordinator for IEUA at (909) 993-1501 or mobrien@ieua.org.

and Recreation, according to Boehmke. Some of the area will be for low-impact recreation and other areas will be for natural habitat preservation, says Andrea Gullo, Executive Director of Puente Hills Preservation Habitat Authority. The Sanitation Districts say that they will also continue to maintain and monitor the landfill for at least 30 years or longer to protect public health and the environment.

The Puente Hills Landfill first opened in 1957 as the private San Gabriel Valley Dump. Then the Sanitation Districts purchased the landfill in 1970 for a regional disposal facility. Since then, the Puente Hills Landfill has employed numerous innovative, environmental approaches including generating electricity from landfill gas, managing materials recovery and recycling programs, dedicating the landfill property to a regional park after closure, and acquiring and maintaining local native habitat as open space, according to the news release. In addition, the state-of-the-art facility included extensive practices to manage odors, dust, birds, and providing landscaping to blend with the local native habitat.

“Although closure of the landfill ends the service of one of the premier solid waste facilities in the country, we are confident that our other facilities will bring a seamless transition with a focus on recycling,” stated Boehmke in the news release.

Residents and commercial haulers are encouraged to use other nearby Sanitation Districts' facilities for disposal and recycling.

The Puente Hills MRF, which shares the same entrance as the landfill, will accept all waste for recycling and disposal, including commercial, construction/demolition, and residential wastes. The Puente Hills MRF will also accept green waste at a discounted rate. Beginning Nov. 1, the Puente Hills MRF is scheduled to be open from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, to receive materials.

Other Sanitation Districts' facilities will also be open and available to serve the region, including the Downey Area Recycling and Transfer Facility, the South Gate Transfer Station, the Commerce Refuse-to-Energy Facility, and the Southeast Resource and Recovery Facility located in Long Beach.

For more information on hours and operations of all Sanitation Districts' solid waste facilities, please visit www.lacsd.org.

"Open Houses to Maximize Exposure of your Home!"

Gilbert,
We want to thank you for the very efficient and professional manner in how you handled the listing and sale of our daughter's townhouse in Hampton Court in Diamond Bar, CA. Your knowledge of the local market and your advice to us on the listing and sale procedures resulted in a successful sale. You are easy to do business with and we really appreciate your promptness in returning our calls whenever we had a question. We were also impressed with your using all the latest communication systems from FAX, cell phone, Texting, and E-mail to get the job done in a timely manner. This is our 3rd business experience with you including the purchase of Cheryl's condo in Ontario, Debbie's reappraisal of her townhouse, and now the sale of the townhouse. Obviously, we are very satisfied customers. Continued good luck with your real estate business in a very competitive environment. Hope we have the opportunity to cross trails again some day.

Sincerely, Al & Dorene M.
