Dangerous Dog Map

STAFF REPORTS

Orange County - Orange County is looking into creating a map for dogs in the same way Megan's law has created a map for sex offenders.

The website the map would be posted on would most likely include addresses of the dogs, as well as what breed the dog is and what it did to get in trouble.

If the county approves

CNUSD Divides Voting Areas

BY: JENNIFER MADRIGAL

Corona - In light of the California Voting Rights Act of 2001, the Corona-Norco Unified School District (CNUSD) is exploring the idea of establishing trustee areas for school board elections. CNUSD school board elections are at-large, meaning voters can cast votes for all five seats up for election. Trustee area elections are those that require voters to

Local Election Results Are In

BY SARAH ARMIJO

SGV - The results are in for the Local and Municipal Consolidated Elections held on Nov. 5. Congratulations to the following winners of this year's election.

In the Walnut Valley Unified School District Board of Directors election, Helen Hall and Cindy M. Ruiz were re-elected, with Y. Tony Torg filling the last seat.

For The Diamond Bar City Council election, Steve Tye and Ling-Ling Chang were re-elected, with Nancy A. Lyons filling the last seat.

In the Mt. San Antonio College Board of Trustees election, Laura L. Santos was elected into Area #3 and Robert F. Hidalgo was elected into Area #4, which are both newly created trustee areas for the Mt. SAC board. David K. Hall will remain in his position in Area #2 and Judy Chen Haggerty will remain in her position in Area #6, due to both running unopposed.

For the Walnut Valley Water District Board of Directors election, Edwin M. Hilden and Barbara A. Carrera remained in their seats, due to running

Walnut's Deputy Daley Serving The Community

STAFF REPORTS

Walnut - The Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff's Station serves the residents of Walnut, Diamond Bar, Rowland Heights and the unincorporated areas of Covina Hills and West Covina. With an area this big, they are fortunate to have deputies specializing in bringing value to the cities. They are fortunate to have Doug Daley, Liaison/Community Services Deputy for the City of Walnut.

For the past six years, Deputy Daley has been solving problems for the City of Walnut's more than 30,000 residents. Working directly with residents and through approximately 70 Neighborhood Watch programs, Daley really has his finger on the City's pulse.

Serving on the Traffic Safety Committee, Deputy Daley works to resolve traffic issues for the City and its schools. He also works with his partner, Officer Gina Soto, on the Red Light Camera Program, conducting data research to help combat one of the most serious traf-

Walnut's Latest Expenditures Over $831,000

BY ARIEL CARMONA JR.

Walnut - The City of Walnut spent more than $10,000 in animal pest management and control and more than $8,000 on fitness and recreation instruction as part of an $831,000 disbursement in warrants to various contractors, instructors and services during the last pay period ending in September, as detailed in a resolution approved at the latest city council meeting held Oct. 23.

Resolution 13-52 outlined the expenditures which also included a warrant in the amount of $5,839 to Veronica Tam and Associates, a Pasadena based consultant providing clients with housing and urban planning services. At the meeting, the council heard public testimony and city staff reports introducing amendments to existing laws in order for

Former Castle Rock Volunteer Gets Probation

STAFF REPORTS

Diamond Bar - Lisa May, the former Community Club Volunteer Treasurer at Castle Rock Elementary School in Diamond Bar, was recently sentenced to three years of probation at Pomona Superior Court.

May, 45, who is also known as Lisa Christine Haygood, pleaded No Contest to six felony counts of grand theft and forgery back in July 2013.

The charges stemmed from an investigation citing the misappropriation of funds from Castle Rock's Community Club, a non-profit organization that was cre-

Who Are You?

BY SARAH ARMijo

We live in a world where it's possible to be anyone we want to be. We have access to technology that can tell us sports highlights, funny jokes, story summaries, Bible verses or pretty much any information we can use to come off any way we want to.

With the click of a button or a swipe of a finger, I can convince you I'm a big sports fan by regurgitating exactly what happened in each game, I can convince you that I'm the smartest person in the world by reciting the summaries of all these books that I've supposedly "read", I can convince you that I'm the most religious person out there by posting scripture and sending verses daily. But the question is, would you still be able to do any of that without technology?

OUR LIFE

With technology in the palm of our hands, it's so easy to pretend to be someone we're not. It's so easy to live a double life and act one way with certain people, and act another way at home. It's so easy to come off as smart, as funny, as religious. We have the answers in our hands, so why would we need to actually watch the football game? Why would we need to actually read the entire book? Why would we need to open our Bibles and read the stories?

We need to stop pretending. We need to stop deceiving. We should be doing the work and start actually being the people we are perceiving ourselves to be.

Because if you put the phone down, if you turn the computer off, if you're face to face talking to the person in front of you...Who are you?

New FB Giveaway Prize

STAFF REPORTS

San Gabriel Valley – ABC

Public Relations has been giving away a lot of prizes in its Facebook Giveaways over the last year. Approximately 20 lucky winners have already received beach cruisers, circus tickets, gift certificates, gift baskets, a "Date Night" package, a brand new KHS bike, a brand new BadBoy5 Bike, a bottle of Tequila 88, and even an iPAD!

For this month's Facebook Giveaway, the prize will be a Thanksgiving Gift Basket, valued at $100, and made by 'Gift Baskets by Rita'.

Gift Baskets by Rita has been in business for over ten years because of the quality ingredients used in each basket. Some contain fine chocolates, gourmet crackers and meats, name brand apple ciders, fine wines, and many other superior items. These items are all placed into sturdy, high grade baskets, instead of thin discount store baskets, showing your client, friend or family member that you care enough to send the best.

Gift Baskets by Rita has been making gift baskets for a variety of companies including major banks and high-end real estate companies, but they are always serving the small business owner with affordable promises.

To enter this Facebook Giveaway to win one of Rita' quality baskets, you must complete TWO steps:

1) LIKE this Facebook page: www.facebook.com/TheWeeklyNews.

2) JOIN this event page: "Facebook Online Giveaway Nov 20".

You MUST do both steps before midnight on November 20, 2013 in order to be eligible to win. Please note that you must LIKE the Weekly News Facebook page (facebook.com/TheWeeklyNews) or you will be disqualified.

The winners will be picked and announced in a video message on Facebook and published in The Weekly News, Eastvale Community News, and the Community News.

Please note that this is an online event. You do not need to be present on the day of this event to win. Winners will be able to pick up their prize at their convenience. Everyone is eligible to win, except ABC Public Relations staff.

For more information about this Facebook Giveaway, call (909) 464-1200, or visit our Facebook page at www.facebook.com/TheWeeklyNews. For more information about Gift Baskets by Rita, call (909) 643-6928.

CITY OF CHINO

Chino - A WeTip caller assisted Chino Police Officers by reporting drug related activity occurring at multiple residential locations in the City of Chino.

The information, which was anonymously provided to the Chino Police Department by WeTip in January of this year, led Officers to conduct an investigation which included the subsequent execution of two search warrants. As a result of the investigation, four subjects were arrested for drug related charges.

At the conclusion of a WeTip investigation and related court proceedings, the information provided in the tip is given a rating which determines whether or not the tip qualifies for a reward. This tip was rated a 10 on a scale of 1-10; because of the high rating, caller 560889 may receive their reward by contacting WeTip with the code they were given during the initial call.

If you would like to report a past, present or potential-future crime, call the toll free anonymous WeTip Hotlines: (800) 78-CRIME, (800) 47-ARSON, (800) 47-DRUGS and (800) US FRAUD. These lines are staffed by trained, bi-lingual operators and are available to anyone in the United States.

WeTip has assisted the Chino Police Department with numerous valuable tips and has aided law enforcement as a whole with 546,579 tips, 16,028 arrests, 8,245 convictions, and over $330 million worth of illegal drugs and narcotics have been seized. There has been nearly $24 million worth of stolen property and cash recovered in these cases. WeTip has paid $986,165 in rewards to anonymous callers over the past 36 years. WeTip works closely with law enforcement, fire departments, schools and insurance officials throughout the nation to make our communities safer for everyone.

Five Arrests For Internet Child Porn

LA COUNTY SHERIFF DEPT.

LA County - A six week investigation by a Los Angeles County Cyber Crimes Task Force has culminated in the arrest of five suspects in a wide ranging case involving the possession and distribution of child pornography over the Internet.

On Wednesday, Oct. 23 and Thursday, Oct. 24, task force members served search warrants at homes in South Los Angeles, Palmdale and Fullerton, and businesses in the Cities of Baldwin Park, and Whittier. Evidence linking the suspects to the distribution of child pornography was recovered from each of the locations.

The first four suspects who were arrested are identified as 19-year-old Rolando Garcia of South Los Angeles, 43-year-old Mario Aburto of West Covina, 72-year-old Jon Johnson of Fullerton, and 53-year-old Soraya Solimano of Palmdale. Rolando Garcia, Mario Aburto and Jon Johnson were arrested for suspicion of possessing and distributing child pornography. Soraya Solimano was arrested for suspicion of possessing a controlled substance.

A fifth suspect, 52-year-old Gregory MacClean of Palmdale, was arrested on Friday, Oct. 25 for possession and distribution of child pornography. Suspect MacClean had previously fled when investigators attempted to contact him at his workplace in Whittier, and then failed to show up at a pre-arranged meeting with investigators. He then turned himself in on Friday.

The Los Angeles County Cyber Crimes Task Force consists of Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputies, as well as members of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This investigation was conducted with the assistance of the Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force. ICAC was started by the United States Department of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, in 1998. Its primary goals are to provide state and local law enforcement agencies with the tools to prevent Internet crimes against children, to encourage multi-jurisdictional cooperation, and to educate law enforcement, parents, and teachers. The ICAC task force seeks to identify distributors of child pornography on the Internet, whether delivered on-line or solicited on-line and distributed through other channels, and to apprehend sexual predators who solicit victims on the Internet through chat rooms and other methods. Currently all fifty states participate in ICAC.

In this case, investigators proactively sought out persons offering to distribute child pornography on the Internet. Once sources were identified, investigators then actively downloaded videos and photos from the sources. After confirming it was illegal child pornography, investigators determined the locations from which the images were distributed, then linked them to the suspects who were doing the distributing. The arrests followed. The investigation is continuing.

Hundreds of photos and videos of children between 1 and 16 years old engaged in sex acts with adults were recovered by investigators. There is an ongoing effort to identify and help the children who are victims of these crimes, and who are believed to be located throughout the world.

Anyone with information about this case is asked to contact Los Angeles County Sheriff's Detective John Howard at (562) 619-5257. Or if you wish to remain Anonymous, call "LA Crime Stoppers" by dialing 800-222-TIPS (8477), texting the letters TIPLA plus your tip to CRIMES (274637), or using the website <http://lacrimestoppers.org>

LA County Fire Promotes Carbon Monoxide And Space Heater Safety

LA COUNTY FIRE

LA County - As November brings chilly weather to Los Angeles County, local residents switch off air conditioners and turn on furnaces to stay warm. Also, as energy costs rise, families are turning to space heaters as a less expensive alternative for keeping their homes warm. But gas furnaces and space heaters bring new safety concerns. In 2010, home heating equipment was involved in an estimated 57,100 reported house fires and 490 civilian deaths in America, according to the National Fire Protection Agency. Stationary and portable space heaters accounted for 32 percent of reported home heating fires – and 80 percent of the deaths resulting from them.

The Los Angeles County Fire Department is asking all residents to prevent home heating fires by having all fuel-burning heating equipment inspected by a professional every year. This includes the fireplace, furnaces, water heaters, wood stoves, coal stoves, space heaters, portable heaters, and even the chimney. Make any needed repairs before use. Throughout November, carbon monoxide and space heater safety tips will be shared on the Fire Department's Facebook, Twitter and YouTube pages, and its website at www.fire.lacounty.gov.

"Did you know that in California, it is now the law that every single family and multi-family home has a working carbon monoxide detector installed?" says Assistant Fire Chief Dave Stone. "These detectors should be installed in a central location outside each sleeping area and on every level of the home. Carbon monoxide is called the 'silent killer' because it is invisible, odorless and colorless. Without a carbon monoxide detector, you are placing yourself and your family at great risk. Exposure to undetected high levels of carbon monoxide can be fatal. Symptoms of poisoning include headache, nausea and drowsiness."

In addition to ensuring your family's safety from carbon monoxide poisoning, it is equally important to use heat sources safely to prevent fires and injuries.

"All heaters need some space," says Chief Stone. "Keep anything that can burn at least three feet away from heating equipment, like the furnace, fireplace, wood stove, or portable space heater. Have a three-foot 'kid-free zone' around open fires and space heaters. Always use the right kind of fuel, specified by the manufacturer, for fuel-burning space heaters. And make sure to turn off heaters when you leave the room."

While winter in Southern California is about the only time to enjoy your home's fireplace, residents should take action to prevent all types of home heating-related fire dangers. As temperatures continue to cool down, make sure that everything is working properly before their first seasonal use. Don't risk your life trying to take the chill off!

exclusively vote for candidates within their residential boundary. As CNUSD explores the adoption of establishing trustee areas, they have sought the feedback of the community about the proposed drafted trustee area maps. This change, if approved, would go into effect with the elections in November 2014, where members of the Board of Education will only be elected by voters who reside in the areas that the board members are elected from.

Using Data from the 2010 census, a private consulting group, in collaboration with the district, created election areas that would be roughly equal in population and in compliance with state law, the Federal Voting Rights Act, and the United States Constitution. Three conceptual trustee area scenarios have been created that divide the district into five areas and these have been presented to the community for feedback during four different meetings held last week throughout the Corona-Norco area.

Participants were encouraged to ask questions, view information on boundaries and view a short presentation on the process.

CNUSD presented the considerations for the trustee areas at these meetings so that the community would understand the process and what is required for this to happen. First, each area would need to contain a nearly equal number of inhabitants. Second, each area is drawn to comply with the Federal Voting Rights Act. Third, each area must represent more than one jurisdiction/high school boundary. Finally, the areas must be compact and contiguous, respect communities of interest, respect incumbency and follow man-made and natural geographic features.

At last week's Eastvale Town-hall Meeting, CNUSD Board Member, Bill Newberry, and Ted Rozzi, Assistant Superintendent of Facilities, shared some of the results of those meetings with Eastvale residents. According to Newberry, it appears that in early 2014 we will most likely be going in the direction of dividing the population into five trustee areas. This means that by the November 2014 elections, each area will be electing a school board member from their own area to represent them in the school district. The trustee draft maps can be viewed on CNUSD's website at www.cnusd.k12.ca.us, under Trustee Area Public Forums.

Evergreen Kids Join National Mix It Up Day

By KELLI GILE

Diamond Bar—Evergreen Elementary hosted participated in the national Mix It Up Day with lunchtime activities on October 29.

“Lunchtime seating was arranged so they could mix it up and get to make new friends from other grade levels,” said Principal Carolyn Wills.

The students participated in fun contests and Sparky, the Evergreen Eagle mascot, was there to join in on the fun.

“Having students connect with each other in fun ways help create kindness in our school and is one of the many ways we combat bullying and encourage positive social skills with our students,” Wills said.

“Our fabulous Noon Aides Janeene Stanley, Maria Cardoza, June Kim, Deborah Barela, Melissa Bangloy, and Nan Body under the direction of School Psychologist, Dr. Diana Ketterman with support of Custodian Jorge Romero did a great job and created a fun, engaging experience for our students,” she added.

Alyna Evans, 3rd grade, joined Maple Hill Kids during the “Jammin Jump Rope” event held during the primary grade lunch recess on November 1 during Red Ribbon Week.

By KELLI GILE

Walnut—Collegewood Elementary School held Red Ribbon Week activities from October 28-November 1. This year’s theme was “My Character Shines—I’m Drug Free!” Each day, students participated in activities including signing a school-wide “I’m bugged by drugs” poster, wearing sunglasses on “My Character Shines—I’m Drug Free day; wearing sports themed clothing on “Stay in the Game-Play Drug Free” and parading in their Halloween costumes on October 31 to “Just Say Boo to Drugs!”

Students were also encouraged to enter a school-wide poster contest. The colorful and creative entries were on display in the Multi-Purpose Room during Red Ribbon Week.

One winner was selected from each grade level. Congratulations to the following winners: Kindergarten – Annika Peterson, 1st Grade – Adriana Kuniyoshi, 2nd Grade – Vito (Victor) Lee, 3rd Grade – Tabetha Mora, 4th Grade – Kawin Watkins and 5th Grade – Kevin Yuen.

Maple Hill Elementary in Diamond Bar hosted a “Sports Jam” themed Red Ribbon Week that also emphasized the importance of being healthy and staying drug free.

Students participated in fun activities each day during lunch recess including a “Boogie Drug Free” dance party, wearing their sports themed clothing on “Score in life, be drug free”, “Step it up, be drug free!” run/walkathon and “Jammin Jump Rope” on November 1.

Castle Rock Students Show Off Business Skills

By KELLI GILE

Diamond Bar—On Oct. 29, over 100 Castle Rock Elementary second grade students presented their unique homemade items for sale at the annual Business Day.

The children recently learned that consumers and producers depend on each other.

They even created their own clever advertisements as they sold their products during the 50-minute sale.

“It was exciting to see how they used the I. B. Attitudes of creativity, independence, and confidence as they tried to convince shoppers to buy their product,” said Principal Carol Sullivan.

This activity was the culmination of an IB unit on All Consumers and Producers Across the World Depend on Each Other for the Exchange of Goods and Services.

Each student was given green “Castle Rock Cash” to shop and buy products from one another. And shop they did!

Classrooms began buzzing with activity once students started making their purchases.

As the young consumers entered the classrooms for the sales, they scanned homemade caramel apples, notepads, friendship bracelets, piggy banks, decorated pencils, paper airplanes and more all displayed on desks.

Students were instructed to spend every dollar, which was a cinch amid the variety of treats and trinkets.

Some of the clever bargain hunters negotiated on the prices, then proudly plucked their buys into shopping bags.

The school welcomed over a hundred parents and staff members to the shopping extravaganza.

Superintendent Dr. Robert Taylor and Cabinet Members also joined the super sale and found the best buys in town!

“Thanks to our second grade teachers and students for an outstanding job! We are so proud that they are becoming global learners, thinkers, and prepared for the 21st century,” Sullivan added.

Mt. SAC Planetarium Presents Astronomy Programs for November

Mt. SAC

Walnut—The Mt. San Antonio College Randall Planetarium continues its full season of programs on the stars and planets with evening and matinee showings for adults and children throughout November.

Secret of the Cardboard Rocket, a special program for children, will be presented on Saturday, Nov. 16, at 4:30 p.m. In this program, two children are on the adventure of a lifetime when they build a rocket out of cardboard and go on an exciting journey through the solar system using nothing but an astronomy book, their own imaginations, and the magic of the cardboard rocket.

One World, One Sky: Big Bird’s Adventure, a special program for preschoolers, will be presented on Friday, Nov. 15, at 4:30 p.m. In this program, Sesame Street’s Big Bird, Elmo and their friend from China, Hu Hu Zhu, take viewers on a journey of discovery to learn about the Big Dipper, the North Star, the sun, and the moon.

Stars of The Pharaohs, a program on the stars and astronomy of ancient Egypt, will be shown Friday, Nov. 15, at 6 and 7:30 p.m. Travel to ancient Egypt and explore the stars and various astronomical phenomena during the time of the pharaohs. This program looks at how the ancient Egyptians used science to tell time, to formulate a workable calendar, and to align huge buildings.

Cosmic Comets, a program all about comets, will be shown Saturday, Nov. 16, at 6 and 7:30 p.m. This program explores where comets come from, ancient concepts about comets, and how comets die in a full-dome planetarium experience that investigates the phenomena seen for centuries.

Tickets are $6 for general admission, $4 for students, seniors, and children 6-13, and $1 for children 5 and under.

For tickets, call the Mt. SAC Performing Arts Box Office at (909) 468-4050. Tickets are also available online at <https://tickets.mtsac.edu> and at the door before each program.

Chaparral Celebrates New Science Buildings

WVUSD

Diamond Bar—Chaparral Middle School hosted a Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting Ceremony to celebrate the school’s new Science and Design-Based Learning Buildings on October 28. The event included a special dedication in memory of teacher Leslie A. Stoltz.

The Chaparral school community including current and former staff members, students and parents, district and local officials attended the milestone event.

Principal Ron Thibodeaux welcomed and thanked the Chaparral learning community and guests for their attendance.

“Certainly modernization of this campus couldn’t happen without your generosity and support – we appreciate it greatly,” he said.

Chaparral students are now learning in a brand new 14-classroom science wing. Staff will now be able to easily incorporate labs and design challenges into day-to-day instruction. The new building also facilitates higher level thinking in accordance with the hands-on learning objectives that are prevalent in Design-Based Learning (DBL) and Science classrooms, and are in accordance with STEM philosophies.

“I could not be more proud of these Science and Design-Based classrooms and paw-shaped quad. It’s a beautiful setting for student learning,” said Superintendent Dr. Robert Taylor.

“It’s important to remember that we’re here today because our community voted on Measures S & Y and this gave us the opportunity to build this beautiful facility,” said Board President Helen Hall.

Board Vice President Nancy Lyons shared that a parent inquired about dedicating the new DBL Building to Leslie Stoltz. And after doing some research with former students and staff, she learned of Leslie’s impact at Chaparral.

Leslie taught at Chaparral from 1993-2007 and was instrumental in developing the innovative DBL program at the Diamond Bar school.

Lyons said received several letters including one from former Principal Jan Keating who shared “I have never known any teacher who worked harder than Leslie Stoltz. She was truly the finest teacher I have ever known.”

The permanent engraved bronze dedication plaque was installed directly under a lamppost on front of the DBL Building.

“I chose this place so that Leslie’s light would always shine here,” Thibodeaux said.

Retired Counselor Sheri McClain spoke on behalf of former Principal Jan Keating during ceremony. She shared many of Leslie’s remarkable accomplishments.

“But Leslie would be the first to tell you that all this was motivated by her community, her community of students, her fellow Chaparral teachers, her mentor, administrators who trusted and believed in her, her friends who loved her, and most importantly her family who knew their daughter was destined to strive for the best,” she said.

“I am so pleased that Leslie’s legacy will live on and we will have a permanent reminder of a teacher who inspired all of us to challenge ourselves even more on behalf of our students,” Keating added.

Crime Recap

STAFF REPORTS

This week's crime recap includes a marijuana house bust, multiple arrests in a rape case, and an officer involved shooting on the 60 freeway.

On Oct. 30, four suspects were arrested on suspicion of harboring an 18-year-old gang member from conviction. The 18-year-old, identified as Joseph Leo Amaya, was being sought on suspicion of raping a store clerk at a convenience store. The four were identified as Charlene Godinez, 39, and John Godinez, 41, both of La Puente, Lisa Beserra, 45, of El Monte, and Mario Chavez, 43, of Rowland eas of Orange County served by the OC Animal Care. The approval was set to begin on Monday, November 4 but was postponed until December, due to the refinement of definitions of "dangerous" and "vicious".

The current definition of a dangerous dog is one that has been cited twice in a 3 year period for a violent attack, or if unprovoked has attacked or killed a person or animal. The current definition of vicious is defined as an animal that has been trained to fight or has participated, in a fight, or has severely injured or killed a person.

There has however been some resistance in the approval of the website. Some feel that the site is not the right way to go because it would only cause owners to be harassed, and would create paranoia as well as cause a sense of unneces-

Re-elected to the Pomona School District Board were Dr. Roberta A. Perlman, Adrienne Konigar-Macklin, and Andrew S. Wong.

For the Rowland Unified School District election, Cary Chen was re-elected, with Angelena M. Pride and Lynne Ebenkamp filling the last two seats. Re-elected to the Chaffey College Governing Board was Kathleen Brugger and Katherine with the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR), participated in "Operation Boo".

On Halloween night, CDCR's Special GPS Unit and Parole Agents, along with members of the SAFE Team, conducted compliance checks on known parolee sex offenders at various locations throughout Los Angeles County, to ensure registrants stayed away from trick-or-treaters and otherwise followed their conditions of parole.

Special transient sex-offender curfew centers were established to accommodate transient registered sex offender parolees.

During this year's operation, approximately 358 sex offenders were contacted resulting in 10 arrests for parole violations. All of the sex offenders contacted during the operation had prior sexual offenses involving children.

Heights. However, additional suspects are being sought.

According to authorities, Amaya approached the 19-year-old store clerk at Peck Mini Mart at 4164 N. Peck Road, and then left the store. Amaya later returned to the store when the clerk was locking up and allegedly forced his way into the door. Amaya then barricaded the entrance door and allegedly dragged the store clerk into the back where he sexually assaulted her multiple times before leaving the store.

Amaya was later arrested and charged with two counts of forcible rape, three counts of sexual penetration by a foreign object and an allegation that he kidnapped the 19-year-old to commit those crimes. Amaya was arrested with a five million dollar bail and if charged, faces 125 years to life in prison.

On Oct. 31, a man was arrested with allegations of shooting at a police officer on the 60 freeway. According to authorities, the suspect was about to be pulled over by officers when he opened fire and sped off. The suspect's vehicle was then stopped further down the freeway in a transition lane and the unnamed suspect was arrested. The suspect faces attempted murder charges on a peace officer.

On Nov. 2, deputies found 150 marijuana plants being grown in a Rowland Heights home. The discovery of the plants prompted the arrest of one suspect identified as Raul Villa, 23 of Rowland Heights. Villa was arrested on suspicious behavior when the house was discovered, according to authorities. Villa is being held at the Walnut Station on 50,000 dollars bail and was arraigned on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Everyday Heroes

By NANCY STOOPS

There is so much good left in our world. I run into wonderful people daily. In my eyes, you don't have to acquire super powers or wear a cape to be a hero. For me, a hero is somebody that models all the good characteristics one should have.

A hero is a person that lives up to their potential and strives to be better each and every day. A hero is a person that gives fully of themselves because it's the right thing to do and doesn't expect anything in return. Look around and you will see plenty of everyday heroes. You will find them teaching our children, protecting our community, mentoring others, saving lives and putting out fires, giving grants and scholarships, and modeling who we're intended to be in this world.

Giving unconditionally is one of the greatest gifts one can offer to this world. It is the stuff that can make another understand, just how important their existence is to this world. It can literally save the life of another. Sometimes people just need a break and being an everyday hero can offer that break for another human being. Don't take your life for granted; instead strive to be an everyday hero. Being an everyday hero doesn't require lots of letters after your name or a fancy college degree.

You can make a huge influence by just being the wonderful person you already are and by sharing your kindness and compassion with another.

Our youth needs heroes and a sense of hope in a very chaotic time in our world. It is our job to be everyday heroes and guide them. Strive to be your best each and everyday. If you do this, I'm sure your inner most everyday hero will be unveiled for the world to see!!!!

Getting To Know Your Neighbors

By MARK HOPPER

Recently, I wrote about the fact that all of us continue to have new neighbors moving into our community.

We are looking forward to having about 200 new neighbors moving in across the street from our church and we have some new neighbors who have moved in right next door to our house!

How well do you know the neighbors who live around you? What can you do to get to know them better?

One thing you can do is find something that you share in common. For example, since everyone is concerned about safety, you might want to start a "Neighborhood Watch" effort on your street.

One of the best ways that my wife and I have met more neighbors is through disaster preparedness.

We made a little flyer and I went up and down our street and invited neighbors to come to our home. We explained it was for the purpose of getting to know one another better and to share ideas on how to be prepared for a disaster.

We have done this several times over the last few years and I think people have appreciated the opportunity to meet and reconnect with their neighbors. You may have done something similar in your neighborhood.

Another way that we have connected with some of our neighbors is to have a holiday dessert. This has been a simple way to enjoy an evening and catch up on news with people living around you.

Keep your expectations low. Some people may not respond to your invitation. Don't worry about those who don't come. Be thankful for those who do!

Let me encourage you to make an extra effort this holiday season to reach out and get to know some of your new neighbors this year. I think they will appreciate it and I am sure you will enjoy it, too!

Straight Talk With Danice

DEAR DANICE AKIYOSHI ND,

I recently proposed to my girlfriend. We've been dating for three years. We discussed our future together many times so I was pretty sure she would say yes. I was really surprised when she told me that she wouldn't say yes until I proposed to her in a way that she could be proud of. She's disappointed that I asked her to marry me by using her favorite chocolate cake. I had the bakery write "will you marry me" on the cake. She seemed happy when she saw it and she even hugged me, but she still wouldn't say yes or accept the ring. Should I wait awhile before I try again or should I do something different right away? My friend says she's ungrateful and that my idea was good. I don't want to make another mistake. Do you have any suggestions?

Stan C.

Dear Stan,

After dating a woman for three years, I'm wondering why you are this unsure about what would please her. This is not good a good sign. She was at least polite enough to seem happy and hug you, but yet she's not buying your half hearted attempt at a proposal. Is she taking steps to have you understand that you're not going to get away with being lazy in the romance department? I realize there is a trend these days for men to propose in a unique way, but personally, I think there should be a minimum requirement for the man to actually 'say the words' and not just write them on a cake. Please plan a romantic evening together and have a sincere discussion about her expectations when it comes to your romantic life. Have the courage to ask her why your cake idea failed. Quite often we reject our loved ones because we are really trying to teach them how to treat us. This technique is too passive for this situation and takes a lot of time to have decent results. Be brave and solidly address the problem. Don't allow confusion or questions to linger in your relationship, it's damaging.

I hope congratulations are in order soon.

ated to raise funds and enhance opportunities for the students, according to a Sheriff's News Release from March.

An investigation determined that May embezzled nearly $40,000 over a six year period beginning in July 2006, by forging numerous checks. According to court documents, the theft went undetected because May kept custody of the Community Club records. However, a review of financial books and records in June of 2011 found the Club in perilous shape, with thousands in unpaid bills, temporary loss of non-profit status, bank fees, and a substantial loss of funds. May was taken into custody by Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff Station's detectives on March 5, 2013.

In addition to probation, May had to pay a court ordered judgment, will serve 150 hours of community service, and was sentenced to two days in county jail, with time served. You can bet that more stringent financial controls over the Community Club funds have been implemented.

Deputy Daley serving the community

fic problems facing Walnut residents today. The critical program, run exclusively by Officer Soto, is designed to increase the safety and quality of life for Walnut residents by reducing red light running.

Deputy Daley is often called to lecture at various city functions and events. He also holds student forums at Suzanne Middle School, and is in the process of starting a group for the students of Walnut High School.

Of all the hats he wears, Daley says his main goal is to keep the City Manager, and the Walnut/Diamond Bar Sheriff Station's Captain, Jeffrey Scroggin, satisfied with the handling of all city issues.

Deputy Daley began his career with the Sheriff's Department in 1990. Prior to working at the Walnut station, he worked in a patrol capacity for the Temple station. Before entering into law enforcement, he had a career in the business world for manufacturing conglomerate, Rockwell International. He holds a degree in Business Administration and a Master's Degree in Public Administration.

All in all, Doug Daley is another deputy making a difference for the City of Walnut, and beyond.

LATEST from page 1

Walnut to become compliant with state laws regarding fair housing elements.

Walnut's Interim Finance Director, Marie Santos, said the funding for the $831,000 in payments does not come from the City's operating budget, but rather, funding depends on the specific expenditure and area of need.

"There are different funding sources for each individual expenditure," said Santos, adding that residents don't vote or give input on spending, but that expenditures are passed at the city council's discretion.

"The City makes sure that we have this information available to our residents," said Santos.

Lorraine Martinez, a resident in the city for more than 37 years, said she attends city council and planning commission meetings and said that information is hard to locate on the City's web site. Martinez also felt that some of the terminology used at meetings needs to be clarified to residents.

"It's not explained in layman's terms, I feel it's at a much higher level and it makes it difficult to follow, even for someone like me, who has a college education," Martinez said. "Also, there's a language barrier. I know some of our residents who don't speak English as well have a hard time getting their point across." Martinez was in attendance at the Oct. 23 meeting.

"As a Walnut resident, I would think that since everything regarding funding has been tightly shut and monitored since the government shutdown, we don't have a voice on [city spending]."

She said. "I can't say if it's frivolous spending, but I don't think residents have enough input. I don't feel there's enough information; I really feel it is out of our control."

Walnut, which is similar to many other cities in the San Gabriel Valley, is a contract city, meaning municipal services are provided via contract arrangement with other units of government and agencies or private and commercial organizations. Santos added that some of the contracted services are monthly expenditures, while others depend on the length of the contract, or the duration of services provided as in the case of classes and instruction.

When the City spend more than $10,000 on pest control, Santos said she didn't feel Walnut had a pest-control problem beyond the need to contract the county for animal control services and to do routine maintenance on all city zones. Documentation made available by the City details animal control services contracted for various locations throughout the City including city parks.

One of the city's biggest expenditures was on instructors, recreation and community services. Among these: a tennis instructor who teaches at least 13 different classes and is paid close to $2,000 for his services; a teacher of Kindergarten readiness classes who was paid close to $3,000 last month for a five-week session; and a whale watching trip in Orange County totaling in $600.

Cindy Ruiz, a member of the board of trustees at Walnut Valley Unified said the city offers programs based on the needs of the community and that the Community Services classes offered by the City may differ greatly from kindergarten readiness classes offered by the school district.

"Parents could be involved, some may come part-time, others full time, and it could include child care. The instructors the city hires are usually independent contractors teaching short-term classes, it's what the community wants," she said. Ruiz added that the City offsets some of the costs by charging residents for the programs, classes and services offered.

Tommye Cribbins, City Clerk for the City of Diamond Bar said a city's expenditures in regards to contractors and consultants are specific to each city department. "We are probably not too different than Walnut since we are a contract city."

Gilbert,
We want to thank you for the very efficient and professional manner in how you handled the listing and sale of our daughter's townhouse in Hampton Court in Diamond Bar, CA. Your knowledge of the local market and your advice to us on the listing and sale procedures resulted in a successful sale. You are easy to do business with and we really appreciate your promptness in returning our calls whenever we had a question. We were also impressed with your using all the latest communication systems from FAX, cell phone, Texting, and E-mail to get the job done in a timely manner. This is our 3rd business experience with you including the purchase of Cheryl's condo in Ontario, Debbie's reappraisal of her townhouse, and now the sale of the townhouse. Obviously, we are very satisfied customers. Continued good luck with your real estate business in a very competitive environment. Hope we have the opportunity to cross trails again some day.

Sincerely, Al & Dorene M.
