Walnut Council Swears In Pacheco And Su

By Raymond Mendoza

Walnut - Walnut City Hall was the site of much celebrating, with council members Bob Pacheco and Mary Su being sworn into office in front of more than 100 City Council attendees, after months of campaigning.

"To Walnut residents, I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your tireless encouragement," Su said. "I knew this race was going to be nasty and ugly, but in the end most Walnut residents voted and cared about the important issues."

Pacheco thanked the Walnut residents for their support and thanked his wife, Gayle, and his daughter, Cristina, for all of their help during the election.

Both Pacheco and Su said that

Brutal Arson Death Investigation

Staff Reports

Industry - Somewhere there are answers to the questions surrounding the heartbreaking events that led to a man, naked, reportedly beaten, bound and set on fire; a man who had the fortitude to somehow crawl up an embankment trail to the 605 freeway.

In a news release issued by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department Homicide Bureau and Arson Explosive Detail, an adult male was found on the northbound 605 Freeway, just north of the 60 Freeway at about 1:49 p.m. on Tues, April 15. Multiple motorists called in the incident.

Reports say that detectives believe the victim appears to have come from the wash area below the freeway. His arms and legs were partially bound, and he had severe burns to his face and body. Detectives are looking for evidence of a fire in the vicinity.

When I Go To Church, I Feel Peace

By MICHAEL ARMIJO

One element that filled my childhood was the element of God. My father made us, and I do mean made us, go to church every Sunday; sometimes on Wednesdays, too. Come to think of it, sometimes Friday's as well. And once a month we also had to go on Mondays.

I remember countless hours of praying, praying, and praying. You can't claim your fame to praying unless you know the Rosary. For a while we did it every night. All of this praying and going to church, what did it do for us? I believe this excessiveness of "God" created a few major influences in my life.

I Believe I Can Fly: The Element of Faith. In every aspect of life you can sense a source of faith. If you ask people like Michael Jordan, his faith was in his father, and then himself. For Evander Holyfield, the Almighty God is his inspiration and faith. Almost every successful person has some source of faith in someone or something. Without this element, many people have said they wouldn't be where they are today.

I Believe and I'm Not Worrying About It: The Element of a Worry-Free Life. If there is a God, then everything is beyond your control. You still have responsibilities, but the stress level is lower. And the best thing about a life without worry is everything happens for a reason. There are only two concerns at this level of life: things you can control, and things you can't. If you can control them, then you don't have to worry about it; and if you can't control them, it's in God's hands so you don't have to worry about it. Either way, you don't have to worry about it.

I Believe in Lettuce: The Foundation of Recovery. Acceptance, rationalizing, everything happens for a reason, keep the faith, don't worry be happy, it's beyond our control, etc. If you study the Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Overeaters Anonymous, or any other support group, the first thing they promote is the element of faith. They tout that the reason you're in trouble with excessive behavior of alcohol or drugs or food is the fact that you've let go of your beliefs.

At some point in your life you've developed an absence of faith and decided to take the world's worry upon yourself. Some people have told me that since they've lost so much trust in the world, they've ceased to believe there is a God. For those people, support groups have asked them to try to develop a sense of faith even if it means having faith in a head of lettuce. Sounds ridiculous? I've been told it works, this playing along. People get the feel of faith again and it starts to get restored. Soon afterward, they develop a trust in God again, and it's at that point their life starts to turn around.

I Believe I'll Rest in Peace: I'm not saying if you don't believe in God your life is worthless, but I am saying there's more to this life than we can explain. God has told us to have faith and we will survive in a peaceful and loving world. Man has told us we came from monkeys and you have the right to bear arms and kill each other because we're free. At this point, I think God's version of life is easier and more acceptable. And dad, if you're listening up there from heaven, thanks for drilling into us over and over again about prayer. Because when I go into a church, regardless of how I feel about the world, I always feel peace.

Kidney sought by Eastvale resident

a condition that causes the kidneys to become enlarged with multiple cysts. In Darryle's case, the PKD progressed to the level where his kidneys were five times the normal size and were completely taken over by cysts. The condition has worsened drastically over the last two years. In December 2011, he started dialysis treatments because his kidney function was reduced to less than 15 percent. The disease further attacked his system to the point that his kidneys had to be removed on Aug. 29, 2013. He continues on dialysis.

The dialysis process is currently three visits each week, four hours each visit. The procedure leaves him weak and unable to work, and each visit usually takes the rest of the day to recover from. With two young children, a 10 -year old son, Darrian, and an 8-year old daughter, Dakota, Darryle is forced to watch life from the sidelines.

But Darryle's wife, Diana, is on a quest to find a kidney for her husband. Although he has been on the waiting list for a kidney from a deceased donor for about two years, the wait is usually about eight to ten years. Darryle's best chance for survival is a kidney from a living donor.

Most people are unaware that you can live a healthy, normal life with only one kidney. And that donating a kidney has nothing to do with ethnicity as in incidents of bone marrow. The Live Donor process has more to do with blood type and overall health of the donor.

The Minors are sharing their story hoping that someone out there would consider being tested in consideration as a possible donor for a kidney transplant. A kidney from a living donor has the potential of lasting almost twice as long as a kidney from a deceased donor, and would enable Darryle to hopefully live a healthy and normal life. This act of extreme kindness would help Darryle give his family back the father and husband that he longs to be once again.

If you or someone you know would be interested in the Living Donor process to help Darryle, please contact Louisa K. Machain, the Living Donor Coordinator at Loma Linda University. She can be reached at (909) 558-3636, Extension 368002, or via email at lmachain@llu.edu. You can also contact her assistant, Lorena Aparicio, at Extension 36803. Diana Minor would also be happy to respond to any questions you might have. Please contact her at (951) 847-0178, or dyminor@csupomona.edu.

STAFF REPORTS

SGV - The Tongva, part of the Uto-Aztec Native Americans originally occupied and land along the Rio Hondo River, which is a branch of the San Gabriel River. Long before the Spaniards explored the area, they made their homes in a large part of the Los Angeles basin, including Santa Catalina and other local islands. And, the Hahanogna Tribe, a division of the Tongva, occupied the northern part of the valley down toward Pasadena. The Tongva were a beautiful people, who tattooed their bodies, and men and women alike wore long hair. They lived in dome-like buildings with thatched exteriors and used ti'ats, or plank-type canoes, for water travel.

With a language referred to as "Gabrielino" by the Spaniards, the Tongva are responsible for many of the city names we currently use today: Pomona was called Piwongna; Pasadena was Pasakeg-na, and Cucamonga was referred to as Cucomog-na. Today, several groups of the Tongva people still live in the area.

Pacheco and Su are sworn in

while the election campaign was an arduous task, they were both ready to serve the residents of Walnut for another four year term on the Walnut City Council.

"I'm going to keep my toes to the fire and do all the things I said I would do during my campaign," Pacheco said. "Walnut will be the shining star of the San Gabriel Valley."

After a brief recess, the City Council members then approved the minutes of the joint meeting of the City Council and Sheriff on March 5, and a special City Council election on March 10.

Council members then approved Item 4 on the agenda, concerning the community development block grant three year cooperation agreement between the City and the County of Los Angeles from 2015-2017.

The Council then approved Items 5 and 8 regarding the resolution of the City of Walnut allowing certain claims and demands in the amount of $1,058,090.76 and a ratification of various commission appointments for the City's parks and recreation and senior commissions.

Council member Nancy Tragarz pulled Items 6 and 7 on the consent calendar, concerning a salary adjustment to include a cost of living adjustment retroactive to Jan. 1 and the signing of a contract amendment for the City Manager's agreement. Tragarz stated that the two items felt "incomplete" and City Council members did not have all the information available to make an accurate decision, and asked to move the items to a different City Council meeting. Following a slew of comments from City Council members, the two items were then moved to be discussed at a later date.

After the Council's meeting items were completed, the Housing Authority approved a resolution concerning the Walnut Housing Authority allowing certain claims and demands in the amount of $20, 319.25 before entering a closed session concerning a negotiation of real property for Richard and Nancy McDonald.

The meeting was adjourned with the next City Council meeting scheduled for Wed., May 7 at 7 p.m. in the Council Chambers at 21201 La Puente Road.

devastated by the loss of these precious toys, reached out to various media outlets and handed out flyers at the gym in an effort to find any information.

On April 18, Murrieta Police announced that through several anonymous tips and leads, the suspects were identified as Amanda Sander, a Diamond Bar resident, and Romulo Castaneda. Sander was taken into custody early last week and booked into the Los Angeles County Jail on an unrelated charge.

According to local reports, Sander was interviewed but refused to cooperate. Sander was linked to the case after she gave the stolen purse to a friend who did cooperate with the investigation.

When the purse was recovered by detectives, the toys were not in the bag and as of now have not been located.

Castaneda had been unknown, but last week he was tracked down to a Chino Hills motel and arrested without incident. He was transported back to Murrieta for questioning. Castaneda gave a statement, but was unable to give a location of the toys, according to Murrieta Police.

Castaneda was arrested and booked into Murrieta Jail on charges of fraud, burglary and identity theft. He posted $5,000 bail and was released Friday, according to jail records. Sander remains in jail in Los Angeles County.

At this time Ashley Norris remains without the toys that are a precious memory of her late son. According to a Patch interview, she is hoping that Sander will eventually cooperate and at least tell her if they were thrown away so she can have some peace.

Alamo Car Wash

stop: Alamo Car Wash and Detail Center.

Dan Gerstner and his wife, Sylvia, opened Alamo 18 years ago, and they have run the business with a simple philosophy ever since.

"Our philosophy is to always have satisfied customers. We want them to be satisfied with what we do here, and 99.9 percent of the time, they are," Gerstner said.

Situated in a four-acre complex at the corner of Nogales and Francesca Drive in Walnut, Alamo features a hand car wash, a Mobil gas station and an Xpress Lube oil change center, as well as a number of shops, which the Gerstners rent mostly to automotive-related businesses, but also include restaurants, beauty salons, a dentist's office, a locksmith and a bookkeeping service.

"We even have a shoeshine guy. It's really a one-stop shop," Gerstner said.

The car wash offers full-service hand car washes and detailing, which include waxing, buffing and interior cleaning, as well as an express wash for people on the go.

"We have a new service we started a year ago—the Express Exterior Wash. It only takes five minutes and the customer stays in the car as it goes through the tunnel where it gets hand washed. It's for people who are in a hurry," he explained.

Asked why people should visit Alamo instead of other area car washes, Gerstner said, "I don't know what other car washes do, but I know what we do. We're very picky about service and the little details. And usually, when the car comes out, it's cleaner than it's ever been."

Package washes are popular, Gerstner said, especially the Silver Package Wash. It includes an air freshener, sealer wax, polish wax, rainbow wax, clear coat sealant and Armor-All on the car's tires.

Inside the brightly-decorated car wash, you can watch your car as it goes through the tunnel; get a massage in a leather massage chair, listen to the sound of tropical birds chirping, pick up a gift or card in the gift shop.

"If people need something at the last minute, like greeting cards, we have a wide selection they can choose from while they're waiting for their car. We also carry just about any kind of auto accessories you might need," Gerstner said.

Alamo's oil change service is also extremely popular.

"Our quick lube service is very complete. We do the complete maintenance service for the car—transmission, power steering, brake fluid, the cooling system and fuel emissions service—we do the whole maintenance package for your car, and that's why our quick lube service is so popular," Gerstner said. Plus, oil change customers receive a free car wash.

Gerstner admits that Alamo is not the cheapest place to have your car washed or serviced, but maintains that the services they offer make them competitive with just about anybody else.

"We offer a higher level of service than many other places, and that's why we've been so successful. People love their car—their car is like their baby, and it's unbelievable how some of them treat their cars. We see customers who come in twice a week, and their cars look clean, but they still want them washed here," he explained.

If you want to see the difference in the way Alamo Car Wash and Detail Center can make your car look and run, visit them at 784 N. Nogales Street in Walnut. For more information, including business hours, call them at (626) 965-7922.

Straight Talk With Danice

By Danice Akiyoshi, ND

Dear Dr. Akiyoshi:
I recently had back surgery. I attend physical therapy three times a week. The facility is near my home and I am making progress. My wife wants me to change to a new facility because the therapist who works with me is an attractive red head. She knows I like red heads, and she is jealous. I don't feel I should have to do this just because she is insecure.

AI

Dear AI:
I agree that your wife is insecure, but I'd like to know why? If you've ever given her a reason to doubt you, then this is the result. If her insecurities are unfounded, then that's a different type of difficulty. Either way, you need to address the problem; it won't disappear on its own. Seek a coach or therapist to assist you.

When trust issues arise, there is usually an issue that has never been dealt with properly, and I'll bet you know exactly what that is. If you don't, I'm almost certain you can get your wife to fill you in. Good luck.

Thanks for writing,
Danice Akiyoshi, ND

Don't Forget

By Pastor Mark Hopper

One of my most embarrassing moments occurred about a year ago. I was asked to do the invocation at the City Council meeting in Diamond Bar. But, I forgot.
I am thankful that our City Council asks different religious leaders in the community to give an invocation before each meeting. I usually do this two or three times a year. But one day last year, I got busy and completely forgot it was my day to be at the council meeting. The City Clerk had sent me a reminder, and I even had it written on my own calendar.

My name was printed on the agenda. I'm sure it was an awkward moment of silence when they called my name and I wasn't there. People probably wondered what happened to that absent-minded pastor.
Since that time, I have taken steps to make sure I don't forget again. I have asked the City Clerk to call and remind me on the day of the meeting. I also ask our church secretary to do the same. I even post sticky notes on my desk and in my car. So far, so good; I'm thankful they were willing to forgive me and give me another chance.

There are many passages in the Bible that exhort us not to forget. Many of the holidays and festivals in the Bible are designed to help people not forget. The Jewish Passover is celebrated every year so that parents and children will not forget the night when the Angel of Death swept over the land of Egypt. The first born in every home died, but the first born in the homes that had the blood of the Passover Lamb on the door posts were saved. In a similar way, Christians celebrate Easter Sunday every year so they will never forget Jesus' death on the cross, and His resurrection three days later.

As we enjoy this spring season, I hope you are reminded of the importance of holidays like Passover and the Easter we just celebrated.

It's not about Easter Egg Hunts and family dinners. It's not about spring break and time off from school. This beautiful season is about events and miracles recorded in the Bible. We celebrate so that we will never forget what God has done for us. I hope you won't forget!
Pastor Mark Hopper is from the Evangelical Free Church of Diamond Bar, 3255 South Diamond Bar Ave. Sunday services are 9 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. For more information, call (909) 594-7604 or visit www.efreedb.org.

It's Our Stories That Make Us Who We Are

By Nancy Stoops

Every human being comes attached to his or her story. Some of our stories are about the joys of our life, others are about the horror. Some of us grew up in families that made life safe, while others had horrible things done to them that stole their safety. We seem to literally be creations based on the pieces of our stories that have stuck with us. All of us wish we could be born into a family that was healthy and whole, but many times that is not the case. I treat so many people that were damaged as children and spend their adult years acting out the dysfunction.

Let me try and explain what I mean. Let's say when you grew up one of your parents was an alcoholic and your role was to always take care of your younger siblings and deal with the trauma that went with all of the drinking. Let's also say that you felt bad for the parent that didn't drink, and you always took care of and tried to prevent any harm to the family when your parent would drink. It always seemed like no matter what you did things would still go badly. Now let's look at present day. You most likely have anxiety or panic when you see things start to fall apart and you feel like there's nothing you can do. This is now amplified because that's exactly how you felt when you were growing up. In order to stop this vicious cycle one must learn to differentiate the past from the present and what the truth is. The truth is you did your best as that child, but circumstances were beyond your control. The truth is as an adult, you are now in control and you have the power to manage your life and your emotions differently. Set yourself free from those lies that haunt you.

of which were last seen in Santa Ana. The victims are as follows: Kiana Jackson, 20, a resident of Las Vegas who was last seen in Santa Ana on Oct. 6, 2013; Josephine Vargas, 34, a resident of Santa Ana who was last seen there on Oct. 24, 2013; Martha Anaya, 28, a resident of Santa Ana who was last seen there on Nov. 12, 2013; and Jarrae Nykole Estep, 21, an Oklahoma resident whose body was found on March 14 at an Anaheim recycling center. Estep's is the only body that has been found.

Detectives from the Anaheim and Santa Ana Police Departments are currently trying to identify a fifth victim who was last seen between February 14 and 16 near Katella Avenue. The victim is believed to be a petite African American woman in her early 20s.

Both Cano and Gordon have been previously convicted of committing "lewd or lascivious acts with a child under fourteen years of age," according to California's Sex Offender Registry. At the time of the crimes, both men were wearing GPS bracelets to track them because of these prior offenses. A Los Angeles County press release reported that both men had previously cut off their bracelets and fled to Nevada before being arrested again in 2012. Los Angeles County Supervisor, Michael Antonovich, said, "This illustrates the fact that the ankle bracelets and GPS monitoring do not prevent crime." Indeed this incident does provoke questions regarding the true effectiveness of bracelets including the extent to which they should be trusted to control and monitor criminals.

landscape you desire is not unreachable, especially if you work with a professional in the field who loves his work.
David Hetland, owner of Pruners, is a licensed landscape artist who designs individual garden work. Pruners is a licensed, full-service design landscape contractor opened since 1997.
The difference between Pruners and other garden places, is that Hetland specializes in garden restoration, "the common-sense alternative to California gardening."
"We're different because of the restoration side of gardening," Heltand said. "I work with the idea of being able to save some of what's good and take out what's bad."
Hetland, who has been landscaping for over 25 years, offers a short, free consultation to analyze the damages, arrange the fix and estimate the cost.

Through garden restoration, your garden can be added on to, brought back to life, or simply be used to build a brand-new garden.
Hetland works closely with clients, on a one-on-one basis, and is able to finish the work at one time, so there are no monthly fees.

He also suggests that prospective customers ask about Pruners beautiful Koi ponds, streams and waterfalls, which are a quick way to add a tropical look to your landscape.
For more information on how Pruners can turn your average garden into a lush landscape, call (909) 468-5017.

Nogales High – The March Of A Lifetime

Nogales High School Band Director Brad Pollock with students after learning in a surprise announcement they are one of only ten bands in the U.S. to perform in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in 2015. The Nogales High School Noble Band will represent California and the West Coast in the legendary parade.

STAFF REPORTS

La Puente – On April 14 in a surprise announcement, the Nogales High School Noble Regiment received the news that they have been selected to once again perform in the 2015 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. The Noble Regiment will join the line of march and begin their performance to the sound of, "Let's Have a Parade," the iconic phrase that has signaled the start of every Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade since 1924. They will join nine other marching bands from across the country as well as fantastic floats, sky high giant character balloons, wacky clowns and superstar performers on Thanksgiving Day 2015. With more than 3.5 million live spectators and 50 million at-home viewers, Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade is considered the beginning of the holiday season and the ultimate Thanksgiving Day treat for fans of all ages.

Brad Pollock, band director of the Nogales High School

Noble Regiment said, "Amazing, stunned, excited are just a few words that can barely explain the honor that has been bestowed upon the Noble Regiment to represent California in the Macy's Parade in 2015. The students should get all of the credit. The memory of the event will last a lifetime. The opportunity to perform in the Parade once was incredible, but to be invited back really is something special. It is a true indication of consistent hard work, dedication, and a love to perform, paying off. We look forward to this event and can't wait to get our groove on, down Broadway. Go Nobles!"

Dr. Sergio A. Canal, principal of Nogales High School added, "I am proud of the dedicated effort of our students, parents and staff of the Noble Regiment. They have all invested valuable time into making our band a nationally recognized band; this honor of being invited back to the Macy's Parade is indicative of this recognition. The Noble Regiment will represent Nogales High School and the Rowland Unified School District, not to mention the West Coast, with great pride."

DRHS Alum Wins CUI Academic Showcase

STAFF REPORTS

Diamond Bar - Thomas Moreno, a 2012 graduate of Diamond Ranch High School, won first place in the tier-two category of Concordia University's 11th Annual Academic Showcase. Moreno, along with partner Cy Perkins, made his presentation on "Insights into the role of interactions between VDAC1, Bcl-2, and mutant Sod1 in familial Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), commonly called Lou Gehrig's disease." His faculty mentor was Dr. Lindsay Kane-Barnese.

The Academic Showcase is a campus-wide research competition that challenges students to conceive and investigate a research topic and present their findings. Students compete across disciplines and are required to complete a research paper, an academic poster and an oral presentation.

The competition provides a chance for students to work one-on-one with a faculty mentor to complete a full-scale undergraduate research project selected from any discipline. A panel of faculty, selected from across Concordia's disciplines, serves as judges for the showcase and evaluates projects on use of literature, choice of methodology, and discussion of results and implications.

Winners receive a cash award, and some will be invited to represent Concordia by presenting their research at an inter-collegiate undergraduate research conference in this fall.

Big Wins For Mt. SAC

STAFF REPORTS

Walnut - For the second straight year and the third time in the last four years, the Mt. San Antonio College Forensics Team won the Phi Rho Pi national speech title at the national tournament, held April 7-12, at Casper and Northwest colleges in Denver, Colorado.

This championship victory marks the ninth time Mt. SAC has won the Phi Rho Pi national title. Combined with four wins as the top community college at the four-year college national tournament, the championship marks the 13th time in the last 20 years that Mt. SAC has been recognized as the top community college in the nation.

The Mt. Sac Jazz Ensemble and vocal jazz group, Frontline, each won first place in their respective divisions at the 52nd Annual Reno Jazz Festival, held April 10-12, at the University of Nevada.

This year's win marks the first time that Frontline has taken first place at the festival, while the Jazz Ensemble has won the college division at the festival four of the last five years. Frontline competed against 12 ensembles from community colleges and universities, including Cal State Fullerton and Cal State Sacramento. The jazz band competed against 16 university and two-year college bands.

The festival provides a platform for college competition as well as participation in music workshops and concerts highlighted by performances by the some of the legends of jazz.

Mustang Coaches Of The Year Honored

BY KELLI GILE

Walnut – The Walnut Valley Unified School District Board of Trustees recognized two outstanding Walnut High School varsity coaches on April 16. Golf Coach Cecil Woods and Basketball Coach Josh Cameron have received the coveted San Gabriel Valley Coach of the Year Award.

Principal Jeff Jordan introduced the Mustang coaches along with the Girls' Golf Team during the Board Meeting. "Both of these coaches have really come a long way in terms of growing and developing some amazing programs. They've both had highly successful programs this year," said Jordan. "But above the wins and losses, they're both quality people who work really well with our student athletes; they have high expectations, and have really helped developed these athletes into being high-performers," he added.

In just the third year of the Girls' Golf Program at Walnut High School, the team earned its second Hacienda League Championship, Runner-Up at the 2013 CIF Championship, top team at the Regional Finals for CIF Sectionals State Qualification, third place in the Southern

Wine Soiree And Benefit Auction

By DB Friends of the Library

Diamond Bar - The Diamond Bar Friends of the Library will be hosting their 21st Annual Wine Soiree and Benefit Auction on Sun., April 27, from 4 to 7 p.m., at the Diamond Bar Center (1600 Grand Avenue, Diamond Bar).

This annual event regularly draws over 350 guests who get to enjoy a pleasant afternoon tasting a wide variety of wines, including many that have won gold, silver, and bronze medals in The Los Angeles Wine Competition. Guests will also be sampling the offerings of well over a dozen restaurants, bidding on enticing auction items, enjoying the music and the hilltop views of the San Gabriel Valley from the beautiful Diamond Bar Center – and raising money for the Diamond Bar Library.

This will be the event's 21st year and it promises to be bigger and better than ever. This year they are partnering with the City of Diamond Bar to help celebrate the City's 25th Anniversary – Diamond Bar Friends of the Library and the City of Diamond Bar: Growing up Together. There is much they have accomplished over the years, including the 2012 opening of Diamond Bar's new Library.

The Soiree is a fun event! All are welcome (as long as they are at least 21 years or older) and there is something for everyone. Tickets are only $50 per person (in advance, $60 at the door) and can be purchased at the Diamond Bar Library, the Friends' Basically BOOKS book stores, U.S. Bank, California Bank & Trust in Diamond Bar, or by calling (909) 861-2002.

Why not treat yourself to a good time while helping a good cause?
