5 Ways To Get Kids Excited To Learn

By STATEPOINT

Many kids love the prospect of learning, while others may need a bit of motivation. But parents can get kids on board with a little encouragement and creativity to make learning fun. Here are some ideas to get kids excited to learn.

Library Visits: By making a run-of-the-mill trip to the library seem like a true adventure, kids will associate books with intrigue at an impressionable age. The librarian can point out the best titles for inspiring learning and fun. Time visits to occur during your local branch's storytelling hour or other early childhood programming. Also, be sure to sign your child up for a personal library card, which will be a source of pride at the circulation desk and put them on the path of reading enrichment.

Learning Tablets: To give kids an extra edge in learning, consider a fun yet educational tablet, such as the InnoTab MAX. Durable enough for kids, this device has a 7-inch multi-touch screen, and features progressive learning content that adapts to a child's age. Web access and communication apps, which kids can use to exchange messages with friends and family, are limited to protect children, and parents are free to manage these controls. The tablet comes with Movie Maker and Art Studio, amongst other apps, and additional content can be found at the Learning Lodge app store.

Board Game Night: After dinner, gather round the table a second time. From classic word games that challenge one to stretch the limits of his or her vocabulary, to trivia games testing science and world history knowledge, board games have the potential to bring the family together and also to educate. Be sure to check the box for age-appropriate guidance.

Wearable Tech: Wearable technology can inspire kids to learn and be creative while staying active. For example, the VTech Kidizoom Smartwatch DX offers motion-activated games, a stopwatch, calendar, 3D clock face and calculator so kids can work out simple math problems. It also includes a time-telling app featuring a friendly owl that helps kids learn to tell time, and additional apps are available for download on the Learning Lodge. The internal memory offers ample storage for budding photographers and videographers documenting the world around them.

Sweeten the Deal: Consider creating a rewards chart where children can track their progress as they meet learning goals. It can be an effective way to motivate kids to try new ways of learning and work hard to reach a goal. You can find many free downloadable charts online.

To make learning a priority in your home, get kids on board. They'll be inspired when they see that learning can be fun.

Frederick Douglass Liberty Act

SB 539 - Confederate States of America Ban Passes Final Senate Test

STAFF REPORTS

San Dimas – Legislation that would prohibit all public schools, buildings, parks, roadways and other state-owned property from using names associated with Confederate military and elected leaders passed off the Senate Floor on Tues., Sept. 8, and will be sent to the Governor for his signature consideration, according to a release issued by the office of Senator Bob Huff (R-San Dimas). SB 539, authored by Senator Steve Glazer (D-Contra Costa) and co-authored by Senator Huff, passed with a solid majority of 31 'aye' votes.

SB 539 would apply to all elected leaders of the Confederacy and military generals.

"This isn't a difficult vote for me," said Huff during the Sept. 8 Senate Floor debate. "It's not revisionist. It's not picking and choosing. It's a matter of moving on as one nation."

Huff agreed to co-author the measure after meeting with Senator Glazer following the shooting deaths of nine African-American men and women at a church in South Carolina. Both agree that the use of Confederate-associated names in California public schools, buildings, parks, roads and other public property only serves to promote the discriminatory agenda of the Confederate States of America. It is an assault on California's mission for racial equality.

There are currently two schools named after top Confederate General Robert E. Lee, one in San Diego and the other in Long Beach.

"If South Carolina can take action to remove the Confederate battle flag that flew over their State Capitol, we can certainly take similar action here,"

Senator Bob Huff

said Huff. "We should have no interest in enshrining the names of Confederate leaders, the secessionist movement or their ideals in our public schools, buildings, parks or other state property."

Senator Bob Huff represents the 29th Senate District covering portions of Los Angeles, Orange and San Bernardino Counties.

subsequently obtained and served a search warrant at a residence located in the 20200 block of Burnt Tree Lane, in the City of Walnut.

According to LASD, an elaborate and dangerous marijuana grow system was discovered at the location where approximately $2,000 in U.S. currency and 403 marijuana plants at various stages of growth were seized. Equipment used in the production of illegal marijuana and other equipment used to attempt to prevent the odor from filtering out of the residence were also documented at the location.

The illegal marijuana grow was precariously wired, creating an extremely dangerous fire hazard due to the large amount of electrical energy which could become overloaded.

Southern California Edison employees were notified of the dangerous fire hazard created by the illegal wiring. After quickly responding, they turned off the power to the residence and rendered it safe.

The investigation is on-going and there is no additional information available at this time.

Two male adults were arrested.

The combined street value of the marijuana plants is estimated at close to $400,000.

Anyone with information about this incident is encouraged to contact the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department's Walnut Station, Detective Mertens, at (909) 595-2264. If you prefer to provide information anonymously, you may call "Crime Stoppers" by dialing (800) 222-TIPS (8477), or texting the letters TIPLA plus your tip to CRIMES (274637), or by using the website <http://lacrimestoppers.org>.

obscene matter and unlawful sexual intercourse with a minor.

According to the Santa Ana Police Department, the female victim first met the suspect when she was in his class her freshman year at Santa Ana High School. In 2013, Gonzalez arranged to meet the 16-year old victim in his classroom during school lunch breaks. There, Gonzalez allegedly engaged in consensual sexual intercourse with the victim on over nine occasions. This activity was initially not reported.

In 2014, Gonzalez approached a second female student and kissed her. As a result of that incident, Gonzalez was placed on administrative leave by the Santa Ana Unified School District. While investigating this incident, Santa Ana Unified District Officials discovered inappropriate electronic images of youthful looking females on Gonzalez' electronic media storage devices. Detectives identified one of these females by name, located her, and obtained her statement. Further investigation revealed additional images depicting criminal activity between Gonzalez and the victim occurring in 2013.

At this time, Detectives continue to investigate the possibility that there are additional victims. The Santa Ana Police Department is requesting members of the public to

Local Women's Group Donates Army Of Stuffed Animals

BY RAYMOND MENDOZA

SGV - Going to the hospital can be a scary experience for anyone, but for children and the elderly it can be especially daunting and seemingly unfriendly. To help keep their minds off their ailments, the Federated East Valley Women's Club is donating more than 100 stuffed animals to provide some much needed comfort.

According to Mary Matson, President of the Federated East Valley Women's Club - which is also a part of the General Federation of Women's Club (GFWC) - her group heard about the need for these stuffed animals from Volunteer Chaplain, Carol Gardner, at San Antonio Regional Hospital in Upland. Matson said this is the first time the club has ever donated stuffed animals to a hospital, but that the cause was seen as worthwhile and uplifting.

"It means comfort for all of our patients," Gardner said. "Just to hang onto something fluffy - it reminds them of home and it brings them peace."

Gardner also noted that she was glad the club got donations like stuffed animal snakes, pigs and tigers, because young boys are sometimes less enthusiastic about stuffed animals that are meant for girls.

Gardner said she and the hospital staff were thrilled with the donation from the Federated East Valley Women's Club, and that the group has agreed to give an annual donation of stuffed animals to continue to provide comfort to various patients.

"These (stuffed animals) will be given to children when they come into emergency, and they will take them home when they leave," Matson said. "They will also be given to ambulances drivers to carry on their truck, as well as to an accident scene. We know that this will be a heartwarming experience for us, in knowing that we are helping calm a scared child."

On Thurs., Sept. 3, the club met at the Peppertree Café in Glendora for anything but a normal meeting, since this time they were hauling their bags of stuffed animal donations with them - all ready to be used as comfort devices.

Matson said that the organization has a myriad of different charitable prospects and that currently the group donates to Relay for Life, Operation Smile, various academic scholarships, Chips for Kids, Military shelters, Read Across America, forest restoration, USO and Wounded Warriors, Ronald McDonald House, Roosevelt Elementary School with Box Tops for Education, Hope Partners, UNICEF International, eyeglasses for the Lions Club, cell phones for Soldiers, Domestic Violence Projects, and Santa's Helpers for Villacorta Elementary School in La Puente.

Matson noted that they most recently raised $2,290 for the American Cancer Society at Diamond Bar's annual Relay for Life event, and received a thank you note from UNICEF for their Nepal Earthquake relief donation.

The club shows no signs of slowing down after their most recent donation since Matson said they have their sights already set on a new venture - helping homeless veteran women and their children by donating to the National Veteran's Organization.

Matson said her club jumps at any chance to help out the needy and that they will continue to help various organizations in the San Gabriel Valley area, in any way that they can.

"There are many more projects that we have and will do, depending on the need."

Matson invites anyone in the area interested in joining the club to call her at (909) 418-0418.

City council recap

tations at local schools. The Council also presented a proclamation to Jodi Lepp, the 2015 Los Angeles County Fair Hero and Walnut Family Festival Grand Marshall. Lepp is the first Walnut resident to be named Los Angeles County Fair Hero, and she has more than earned it with her involvement in the community, ranging everywhere from assisting youth sports organizations to volunteering at school fundraisers.

The Council then approved the minutes from the Aug. 12 Council meeting, and opened the public hearing on a zoning ordinance concerning antennas and communications facilities. In response to residents' desire for a stricter ordinance, the Council amended the ordinance to require a 1,500 foot distance between telecommunication poles and any school, park, or outdoor recreation facility, and a notification requirement when a new telecommunication structure is erected within 500 feet of City borders.

The Council approved all items on the Consent Calendar, including a resolution allowing $469,120.18 in claims and demands; an addendum to the City website development; the award of a bid for a street resurfacing project; the appointment of Monica Lin to the Youth Advisory Commission; and the appointment of Flora Coday-Lamb to the Senior Citizens Commission.

Next, the Council discussed term limits, a hot topic of debate for several months now. Council members saw both the good and the bad in term limits. Councilwoman Nancy Tragarz noted that, as with any job, the City Council has a learning curve, and limiting the time to serve on the Council may lead to those most effective at their job being forced out of office. However, as other Council members agreed, new blood and fresh ideas were important. Councilwoman Mary Su supported the idea of term limits, but was against the idea of term limits forcing a break from serving on the Council, rather than a hard limit of how long one could serve on the Council, as was proposed. Councilman Tony Cartagena was against term limits, as he felt that a Council Member's time in office should be determined by voters as opposed to a predetermined limit. Both sides were considered, and the Council voted to put a three year term limit with a minimum two year break on the ballot of the next general election.

During reports and comments, the Council followed up on several complaints of vandalism in various parks and discussed the situation with the Sheriff's Department. The perpetrators have not yet been found, but patrols have increased and a Detective has been assigned to the case. Tragarz also announced the Walnut Fair on Sept. 25.

The Council adjourned with plans to meet on Sept. 23, at 7 p.m., in the Council Chambers at 21201 La Puente Rd.

Liposuction without the suction

Center in Upland, I was a bit skeptical about their amazing new technology actually working. The combination of Ultrasonic Cavitations and Radio Frequency was said to show amazing results without the inconvenience, pain and down-time of surgery. But the skepticism is over.

This non-invasive, liposuction technology works by using sonic energy and vibration to destroy and collapse fat cells, thereby facilitating the body's natural process to metabolize and move fat out through the lymphatic system. Unlike liposuction - and for a fraction of the cost - results can be seen immediately with no bruising, swelling, or scars.

The best way to describe it would be: imagine getting a huge bag and placing small water balloons inside. Then imagine tapping the bag until the water balloons break. This same concept is applied to Body Sculpting. It liquefies the fat and then the body processes the fat through the urine. Sounds different, but the body processes fat this way, and the results are immediate, with further results seen throughout the week.

When I experienced Body Sculpting myself, all I had to do was lie down and sit up while the three step process was administered. The ultrasound radio frequency was a bit different, as sound waves emitted through my body. That's what ultrasound is, an emission of sound waves. But this is at a higher rate, and this is how fat is broken down. And during the process, I could actually hear sound coming out of my ears. It took a moment to get used to, but eventually it didn't faze me a bit.

When it comes to my health, I am on it. I need to know all the facts, the downsides, and the repercussions. I am a diabetic, so I always have some type of risk. But what gave me confidence was that the technician was an RN, BSN, and Aesthetic Specialist – who also worked in an emergency room at a local hospital (yes, I checked).

I could not find anything negative about the procedure and I did see results right away (the before and after pictures were amazing). I completed three sessions, and I am pleased with the results so far. I would go back to do more.

I recommend Premier Body Sculpting, and I also recommend you check out their website, watch the video, and make the best decision for yourself.

Straight Talk With Danice

An Anonymous Letter

By DANICE AKIYOSHI, N.D.

Q: My husband is overbearing. When he thinks someone has done something unfair to him, he overreacts. Yelling, finger pointing, arm waving. Intimidation is his answer to almost all problems. He has even had tantrums on my behalf when I do not feel offended. He has become a real bully. I am embarrassed, but I don't know how to tell him to knock it off. In other areas he is a really nice man.

A: Having adult tantrums, and using intimidation as a form of communication is a sign of immaturity and low self esteem. Perhaps he is really hurting about something and feels it would be weak to address his suffering, so he masks it with anger. I don't know your husband or his issues, so I will address your situation. Whenever your husband displays a behavior in your presence that you find unacceptable, it is your right to tell him not to act that way in front of you again. If he decides to test you and does it again, remind him that you have communicated clearly once before, then leave his company immediately. Walk away, call a cab, do whatever it takes to set a new boundary. Do not nag, plead, or repeat yourself again. Make your statement, and then act on it. Since you say he is basically a nice man, he should catch on quickly and soften his approach when he's with you. Good Luck.

Transition

By PASTOR MARK HOPPER

On Sun., Aug. 30, I passed the baton to a younger pastor at our church.

I have had the privilege of serving as the senior pastor at the Evangelical Free Church of Diamond Bar for over 27 years.

As of Sept. 1, the church has a new senior pastor. His name is Tim Park. He has served as an associate pastor at our church for several years, and is well liked and very qualified to take on the leadership of our church.

Our church leaders have been working on this transition plan for many months. We presented this proposal to our church family in March, and it was unanimously approved at our church business meeting in April.

Actually, there was one "no" vote. Since the vote was by secret ballot, we don't know who cast it. Some suspect it might have been my wife! Just kidding! But it was encouraging to see the strong support for this plan.

Different denominations have different traditions and procedures when they transition from one senior pastor to another. Some reassign their pastors to new churches every few years. In other churches, the local Bishop or Presbytery appoints new leaders to each church.

In our church, the lead pastor and Elders make recommendations to the congregation on major issues like budgets, building programs and the selection of the senior pastor. I'm thankful that this proposal was so well received and supported by our church members.

There are many examples in the Bible where an older leader "passed the baton" to a younger person. Moses passed the baton to Joshua; Elijah passed to Elisha; and the Apostle Paul to his young disciple, Timothy.

It is not uncommon for businesses to follow a similar practice where an older leader passes the baton to a younger member of their staff. This can provide a smooth transition for the company or organization and help maintain their values and priorities.

I hope you will visit our church in the coming months and meet our new senior pastor.

We sure like him, and I think you will, too!

Pastor Mark Hopper is from the Evangelical Free Church of Diamond Bar, 3255 South Diamond Bar Ave. Sunday services are 9 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. For more information, call (909) 594-7604 or visit www.efreedb.org.

The Mindset Of The Successful Student

By NANCY STOOPS, M.A., M.F.T.

I know many of you helped your child get ready to start school again, or maybe even for the first time.

As parents, we bought them new clothing, backpacks, notebooks, organizers and all of the other necessities that they needed for school. We believed that in buying these things for them, we were helping start the year the right way - and that is a correct belief.

We started planning lunches (whether they were buying or bringing), and we made transportation plans for getting them to and from school. Finally, we helped them ease into a bedtime that is appropriate for school, because summer is over.

Even though we believe we have done all of the right things, we may be wondering why our children don't do well in school.

I think it's important to help your child adjust their mindset about school and about how they will do. What I'm suggesting is that we help our children prepare in so many ways for school, but we forget the emotional component in getting them ready.

It's very important that as we are helping them physically prepare for school, we must remind them of how very capable we believe they are. We must remind them and also give them the tools they may need to get through their long school days. We must teach them how to deal with bullies and help them find the inner confidence to be successful and happy students.

I think it can start with a conversation regarding what was good and what was bad about the last school year. Or perhaps what was easy and what was hard about the previous year.

Help remind your child of the tools they already have and take time to help them clean and sharpen them. Talk to them about what they are nervous about and calm them down by reminding them of all of their previous successes - and how proud you already are of them!

Local High School Seniors Recognized

Diamond Bar, Walnut High Seniors Named National Merit Semifinalists

By KELLI GILE

Walnut – 38 Diamond Bar and Walnut High School seniors have been named Semifinalists in the 2016 National Merit Scholarship Program. The nationwide pool of about 16,000 Semifinalists represents less than one percent of U.S. high school seniors in each state.

The following students have been recognized for demonstrating exceptional academic ability and potential for success in rigorous college studies:

Diamond Bar High: Crystal Chang, Eric T. Chen, Janet Du, Ran Gu, Melody C. Guo, Charlene L. Hsu, Renee L. Kau, Jung Hyun Kim, Prince S. Kim, Gloria Lee, Felix Lien, Letitia So, Angela Song, Frances T. Song, Hsuan-Te Sun, Jonathan Sun, Kyle Wang, Margaret Wang, Ava Y. Wu, Frances Wu, Jennifer Wu, Claire Yang, Adele Zhang, Jeremy Tan.

Walnut High: Alison Chang, Michelle Chang, Benjamin P. Hang, Jane Kim, Brian Y. Ko, Alvin Li, Doris Li, Dardrin Qin, Dalton Trinh, Derek Wan, Angel T. Wong, Daniel Yoon, Freya Zhu, Maxwell L. Zhu.

About 1.5 million juniors in more than 22,000 high schools entered the 2016 National Merit Scholarship Program by taking the 2014 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, which served as an initial screen of program entrants. The number of Semifinalists in a state is proportional to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating seniors.

These academically talented high school seniors will now have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 7,400 scholarships worth about $32 million that will be offered next spring by National Merit Scholarship Corporation, private companies, colleges, and foundations. To be considered for a Merit Scholarship, Semifinalists must fulfill several requirements including detailed applications, recommendations, essays, and SAT scores, to advance to the Finalist level of the competition.

Congratulations students, parents, and teachers on these outstanding accomplishments!

Leading the Longhorns as Principal of Lorbeer Middle School is former Diamond Ranch High School Assistant Principal, Angelique Butler, who has been with the District in a variety of teaching capacities for 20 years.

PUSD Welcomes New Administrators

By JULIETTE FUNES

Pomona – To welcome in the new school year, the Pomona Unified School District is introducing new administrators – including a new principal at Lorbeer Middle School – and celebrating promotions of staff members who will helm their respective departments and carry on PUSD's tradition of success.

"The passion these educators have will ensure that our students are academically challenged through engaging curriculum and will gain the skills needed for post-secondary success," Board of Education President Andrew Wong said. "Congratulations to our staff members on their new roles. I wish them all the best."

Leading the Longhorns as principal of Lorbeer Middle School is 20-year educator and former Diamond Ranch High School Assistant Principal, Angelique Butler. She replaces longtime principal Krystana Walks-Harper, a 26-year educator who is now the District's Associate Director of Pupil and Community Services.

Walks-Harper graduated from Garey High School and holds a bachelor's in psychology from the University of Maryland, a master's in education from Claremont Graduate University (CGU) and an administrative credential from Cal State San Bernardino. She is a doctoral candidate in education at CGU and oversees a variety of services at PUSD, including peer resources, National Academy Foundation schools, and parent support and involvement programs.

"I am proud to follow in Mrs.

Walks-Harper's footsteps and am looking forward to building on the tradition of providing a rigorous and engaging curriculum, as well as honoring the history of strengths and successes of Lorbeer," Butler said. "I firmly believe in the importance of developing a solid, collaborative partnership with our parents, so that we may meet all the needs of our developing students and offer them the highest quality of education."

Butler, a graduate of Pomona High School, holds master's degrees in economics and school counseling. She began her service with the District as a 6th Grade teacher at Emerson Middle School before moving to Diamond Ranch High School.

Other new appointments include:

Tamatha Williams, Assistant Principal at Diamond Ranch High School – In the District since 1995, Williams has served as a teacher, teacher specialist and academic coach. She holds a bachelor's in behavioral science from Cal Poly Pomona, a master's in education from Claremont Graduate School and a doctorate in education from Cal Poly Pomona.

Anthony Rice, Assistant Principal at Garey High School – The former dean of students at Pomona High School, Rice is leading as assistant principal at his alma mater. He joined the District in 1999 as a secondary teacher, and is a former football coach with a master's in Education.

Dr. Bryan Stoops, Dean of students at Garey High School – Stoops is a new hire from the Chino Valley Unified School District and holds a bachelor's in drama from UCLA, a master's in educational multimedia and a doctorate of education in organizational leadership from the University of La Verne.

Behrad Hosseinzadeh, Dean of students at Pomona High School – New to Pomona Unified, Hosseinzadeh comes from the Glendale Unified School District. He holds a bachelor's in criminal justice, a master's in history from Cal State Fullerton, and a master's in educational leadership and administration from Concordia University.

Jennifer Wagner, Director of Educational Technology – With the District since 1995, Wagner previously served as program administrator of Educational Services/Instructional Technology, bolstering technology programs, increasing tech resources for students and making tech devices more accessible.

Zoila Savaglio, Director of State and Federal Programs – Savaglio will oversee the office that ensures that state and federal programs are aligned to district initiatives, with a focus on increasing student achievement. She will coordinate such programs as Title 1, Gifted and Talented Education, English Language Learner program, Migrant Education program and the Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) process. She has been with the District since 1990.

Maryann Gonzalez, Coordinator of Child Development – Previously the child development program assistant, Gonzalez has been with the District since 1991 and holds a master's degree in human development.

Vicki Vazquez, Program Assistant of Child Development – Working at such locations as Long Beach Community College and Disney's Children Center, Vazquez holds a bachelor's degree in human development and a master's degree in human development leadership.

"I am confident that each of these amazing leaders and their expertise will continue to positively shape our students through high-quality instruction," Superintendent Richard Martinez said. "The Pomona Unified family welcomes all of these educators and we look forward to a successful 2015-16 school year."

happens behind the scenes, and make new friends while enjoying a sense of community.

Law enforcement, Firefighters, City personnel and a variety of booths dedicated to the betterment of the City were on hand to give an up close and personal glimpse into the resources available to Eastvale. Big and little kids alike were able to speak with members of the Bomb Squad, SWAT Team, Hazardous Materials Unit, Paramedic Squad, Mounted Posse, K-9 unit, as well as Firefighters and Police Officers. Wide eyes watched as the hook and ladder truck reached for the sky and future Sheriff's Deputies donned SWAT gear and sat in an assortment of vehicles.

The evening was rounded out with carnival games, face painting, a rock wall and bounce houses full of fun, and it was great to see a wide range of neighbors, City Council and Staff, business owners and people from surrounding communities come together on a unique and memorable night. There is a formidable force working behind the scenes for the City of Eastvale, and we should be proud to know we are in excellent hands.

Optimist Youth of the Year

has expressed a strong desire to serve the Pomona community as a Pomona Police Officer.

Grajeda is currently a 10th Grader at Pomona Catholic High School, and enjoys her family, playing basketball and, of course, being a Police Explorer.

The success of the Explorer Program has been made possible through the support of the numerous hours of mentorship and training by the Police Officers that volunteer as Explorer Advisors. Officer Ernie Rios has been an exceptional resource for Grajeda and the other explorers.

The Pomona Police Department thanks the explorers and advisors for their unwavering commitment to the community.
