Suspects Charged in the Murder of Eastvale Resident

BY IZABELLA SALINAS

Eastvale- The Eastvale Police Department arrested two suspects in the murder of Alicia Renee Lopez that occurred two months ago.

On Nov. 24, 2018, around 8 p.m. the Eastvale Police Department responded to "shots being fired" on the 1300 block of Jasper Loop in Eastvale. When officers arrived, they found the body of a deceased woman who was later identified as Alicia Renee Lopez, 28, of Eastvale. Upon arrival, responders also saw an adult male fleeing the scene but no additional information was available.

Eastvale Residents Exercise the Power of Petition

BY IZABELLA SALINAS

Eastvale- Eastvale resident, James Sinnema, started a petition on the website Change.org to bring residents together who share the same concerns for a proposed project in their neighborhood.

In November of last year, the building of a self-storage facility was proposed to the City Council. The property is located east of Hellman Avenue and north of Walters Street. The family owned company proposed a zone change of the land to become commercial.

Many residents were angered by this possible project because it would be located in a residential area near a school.

"A commercial use will not fit with the character of the surrounding uses," said James Sinnema in their Change.org statement.

The resident does not believe that this two-story storage building would be visually compatible with the surrounding area. Sinnema also expressed concerns with the storage facility leaving land only big enough for a small business to be built.

"As I've shared with Mr. Gossett, it seems if the Council were to grant approval for the storage facility and it is constructed, then the remainder parcel would only work for a convenience store such as 7-11," said Sinnema.

Sinnema and other residents believe that would increase the crime rate in the area.

"As an employee of a local Police Department, I can't begin to tell anyone the type of calls for service we get from these types of locations. We are only setting up our neighborhood up for failure. Crime rates will rise (thefts, graffiti, break-ins) traffic will increase and our home values will go down," commented Kristen Kannard.

Over 600 residents have signed the petition.

The public hearing for the possible development will take place on Jan. 23 at 6:30 p.m. at City Hall. ■

Corona Carjacking

BY IZABELLA SALINAS

Corona- On Jan. 9 at about 4:20 p.m., Corona Police responded to a call about a carjacking.

A 2016 Honda Accord was stolen in the 400 block of River Road while the owner was standing near it. The suspect was described as a Hispanic male and was later identified as Corona resident Eric Guzman, 20.

Nearly two hours later, officers located the stolen vehicle in the 200 Block of E. Olive Street. They tried to stop Mr. Guzman but instead they had to begin a short pursuit.

The pursuit ended in the 700 Block of N. Main Street after the suspect collided into a tree and then into two other vehicles. Eric Guzman was then transported to a local hospital and sustained minor injuries. The two women involved in the crash were also transported to a local hospital with injuries but they are now in Tint Your Windows at Mr. Tint.

STAFF REPORTS

Norco- Car window tinting is one of the best ways to improve the look and comfort of your vehicle. You can protect the interior of the vehicle from sun damage by tinting the windows. Sunlight and heat can cause your interior, like seats and the dashboard, to fade, crack and deteriorate. Window tinting reduces the sunlight allowed into the vehicle, which in turn reduces how hot it gets inside your car. Likewise, homes and offices heat up during the day, and trying to keep your air-conditioner ahead of the game can be costly.

Car window tinting also increases the value of your vehicle when done by

CHP Notes New Roadway Safety Laws for 2019

BY CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY PATROL

Sacramento– New laws approved by the California Legislature in 2018 will affect roadway safety in several ways, including helmet use on bicycles and motorized scooters, hit-and-run on bicycle paths, modified exhaust systems, and enhanced safety for refuse collection vehicles. To support its mission of providing the highest levels of Safety, Service, and Security, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) is highlighting several of these new laws.

Bicycle hit-and-run on bike path (AB 1755, Steinorth): The provisions of the felony hit-and-run law are extended to cyclists on Class I bikeways (bike paths). Currently, in the California Vehicle Code, a driver involved in a collision resulting in death or injury to another party is required to stop at the scene. This law clarifies that the same vehicle code also applies on Class I bikeways and allows law enforcement to hold individuals accountable for reckless behavior.

Bicycle helmets (AB 3077, Caballero): Persons under age 18 not wearing a helmet on a bicycle, scooter, skateboard, or skates will receive a “fix-it” ticket. A citation is considered non-punitive and correctable if proof that the minor has completed a bicycle safety course and has a helmet that meets safety standards is presented within 120 days to the issuing law enforcement agency.

Helmet use on motorized scooters (AB 2989, Flora): Bicycle helmets are no longer required for riders of motorized scooters who are age 18 or older. Motorized scooters may operate within a Class IV bikeway as well as a Class II bikeway and on highways with speed limits up to 25 miles per hour. Local jurisdictions may pass ordinances to allow motorized scooters on highways with speed limits up to 35 miles per hour. It is still illegal to operate a motorized scooter on a sidewalk.

Certain vehicle exhaust violations no longer correctable (AB 1824, Committee on Budget): A fine will become mandatory, not correctable, when loud motor vehicles and motorcycles are cited. Previously, a driver or motorcyclist who was cited for modified or excessively loud exhaust or muffler systems could correct the violation to avoid a fine.

Passing waste service vehicles (AB 2115, Santiago): When approaching or overtaking a refuse collection vehicle with its amber lights flashing, drivers must move into an adjacent lane, if possible, and pass at a safe distance. If it is not possible, drivers must slow to a safe and reasonable speed. This law provides a safety margin for sanitation workers while they are actively working. ■ iff’s Department-Central Homicide Unit and the Jurupa Valley Station Investigators took over the case and urged the public to help with any information.

“The public’s assistance is needed as investigators work to find the person or persons responsible for Ms. Lopez’ death,” said the Sheriff’s Department in a press release on Dec. 11, 2018.

On Dec. 17, 2018, the investigators gathered enough evidence to issue multiple search warrants and arrest Anthony Salcida and Kenyatta Crockett. Both suspects have been charged with first-degree murder with special circumstances. Salcida, 34, and Crockett, 23, are both residents of Eastvale.

“This is still an ongoing investigation and we are unable to release additional information at this time,” said the Sheriff’s Department in their press release. Visit <http://www.riversidesheriff.org/press/chu18-1124.asp> to find updates on the case when they become available. ■

CarMax Appeals City of Norco's Decision to Deny Zoning Change

BY IZABELLA SALINAS

Norco- The City Council for the City of Norco has issued a notice of a public hearing to revisit a previously denied project proposal.

On Nov. 28, 2018, CarMax auto retail’s request to build a CarMax location on property located on the southwest corner of Second St. and Valley View Ave was denied. This property is currently classified as an “A-1 Zone Agricultural Low Density.”

This zone type “is intended to provide and encourage the development of agriculturally oriented low-density living areas designed to take advantage of the rural environment,” according to the Norco Municipal Code.

The property is vacant but in order for it to be used by CarMax, there must first be a zone change from “A-1 Zone Agricultural Low Density” to “Specific Plan.” City Council members, as well as many residents of the nearby neighborhood, voiced their concerns about the added traffic that the commercial building would bring.

Resident Theo Zoetemelk spoke in opposition of the project. He lives down the street from the project, noting that traffic is already difficult without the added flow of commercial traffic, according to the notes from the November hearing.

“The Commission hears about traffic issues all the time, no matter what project is being presented; having CarMax or any other business will not fix or worsen this issue,” said Vice Chair Jaffarian.

CarMax representative, Mark Ostoich, argued that the company would benefit the City as it anticipates employing 20-25 people from the local region and generating $40 to $60 million annually.

On Jan. 3, 2019, the City Council posted a notice of a public hearing to address CarMax’s appeal of the Planning Commission’s denial of the proposed zone change.

The notice of a public hearing stated that City staff has determined that the project will not create significant negative impacts pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and the City of Norco Environmental Guidelines.

“The hearing is for the Council to hear the claims and decide whether to uphold the decision or not,” said the City Clerk.

The hearing will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers located at 2820 Clark Avenue. ■

Tips for a Smooth Tax Season

BY STATEPOINT

Though Tax Day happens every year, it still seems to take many Americans by surprise. This year, don’t miss the deadline or let this crucial to-do loom large over your head.

To have a smooth tax season, consider the following:

- Getting Started Early: If you can, get a head start on your taxes. Filing early is a good tactic for anyone, but particularly those with evolving or complex financial circumstances. Not only will doing so help you prevent the anxiety that comes with procrastination, you’ll receive your refund early – if you’re due one – or give yourself time to prepare to pay any owed taxes.
- Relying on Old Tricks: When it comes to tax preparation, sometimes, using old-school methods is the best way to go. Whether you are just getting started on crunching those numbers or you’re finalizing all the information, a printing calculator like Casio’s HR-170RC includes features that can aid in tax preparation and submission. This model also has some newer tools, like a built-in tax feature that lets you store a frequentlyused rate and pull it up at-will, slicing your calculation times by an impressive margin. Other functions include: a reprint key, a check function to scroll up to 150 steps of previous calculations, a grand total function for quick correction of mis-entries, currency exchange calculations and cost/sell/margin calculations.

- Doing Research: The list of what is tax deductible is more extensive than you might realize, so do your research. Keeping good records throughout the year of your expenditures can help you take advantage of these opportunities.
- Having a Refund Plan: Don’t just let your checking account absorb your tax refund only to spend it on an impulse buy. Whether you invest the money in your retirement, sock it safely away for a rainy day or put it towards the purchase of a big-ticket item, such as the down payment of a house, having a plan for your tax refund can help you make the most of the money.

This year, have a fuss-free tax season. With a little planning, you can file your taxes efficiently, without headache and at the greatest benefit to your finances. ■ utilize "eminent domain."

Eminent domain is the right provided by the Fifth Amendment in the constitution. It refers to the government's ability to take private property for public use. However, they must provide the property owner with "just compensation," which is determined by a property appraisal.

Lewis Operating Corporation plans to build 600 residential units, but their plan requires the dedication of certain land to the widening of Pine Avenue. This required land is part of the H&R Barthelemy Dairy Farm and has been in the Barthelemy family for over 70 years.

Lewis Operating Corporation has been trying to obtain the land since last year but has been unable to reach an agreement with the family. Because of this, the City has voted to acquire the land by exercising their right of eminent domain.

"For the public purposes set forth herein, the City of Chino is authorized to acquire property through the exercise of eminent domain," said the Chino City Hall Staff report.

The required easements for the project include a permanent easement of 110,766 square ft., slope easements, a drainage easement, a flooding easement, an access easement, and a temporary construction easement. An easement is the right to use another person's land for a specified purpose.

"Pine Avenue needs to be widened to accommodate existing and future traffic due to development in the area," said the Chino City Hall staff report.

Autism Mom: Happy New Year!

By MELODY KRAMER

I can't believe another year has come and gone. Though, I have to admit, I'm kind of glad to see 2018 behind me. This past year has been a little rough. It was filled with joy as well as sadness.

At the beginning of last year I lost my father. It was hard to say goodbye and I am still in disbelief that he is no longer with us. It was even harder trying to explain to my two autistic boys that their papa was gone. We also had to say goodbye to three of our pets. We lost two dogs earlier in the year and then, two days before Christmas, our cat passed away.

But, although we had great sadness during the year, we also had some precious moments. I look back upon the year and see the growth of my children, and how far they have come. I am thankful for all of the people in their life. These people (teachers, occupational therapist, speech therapist, psychologist, and more), who believe in them and work with them on a daily basis, have done a fantastic job.

I wish them all, and everyone, a prosperous 2019. I am anticipating a wonderful new year. I know the year will be full of challenges, obstacles, and frustrations. But I also know that the year will also consist of smiles, laughter, growth, flapping, spinning, and great moments. Little ones grow fast! I plan to take each day as it comes by embracing the moments, having patience, giving lots of hugs and staying positive. 2019 here we come!

Leafy Greens- 2 oz
Olive Oil- 4 tbsp
Sea Salt & Ground Black Pepper- to taste

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat the oven to 400°F (200°C).
2. Start by making the crust. Crack eggs into a medium-sized bowl and add shredded cheese. Give it a good stir to combine.
3. Use a spatula to spread the cheese and egg batter on a baking sheet lined with parchment paper. You can form two round circles or just make one large rectangle.

lar pizza. Bake in the oven for 15 minutes until the pizza crust turns golden. Remove and let cool for a minute or two.

4. Increase the oven temperature to 450°F (225°C).
5. Spread tomato paste on the crust and sprinkle oregano on top. Top with cheese and place the pepperoni and olives on top.
6. Bake for another 5-10 minutes or until the pizza has turned a golden brown color.
7. Serve with a fresh salad on the side. ■

5 Tips to Shed Those Pounds in the New Year!

By STATEPOINT

Maybe you want more energy, or perhaps you want to lose weight and keep it off for good. Whatever your goals, a new year means a fresh start to become the best version of yourself.

Here are five tips from Nutrisystem experts to get your scale moving in the right direction and support your long-term health.

1. Skip “diet” drinks: Of course, you know not to order the regular cola with your meal, but you figure the lower-calorie diet version is an okay choice. Not necessarily. One recent review of research found that artificial sweeteners often used in diet drinks may not be as beneficial for weight management as intended, and that drinking them regularly may be linked to an increased body mass index. If you want something fizzy, opt for seltzer with lemon or lime. But if you can’t stop dreaming of that diet soda, it doesn’t have to be completely off-limits. Just try to cut back. Moderation is key!
2. Drink more water: Every part of your body needs water to work properly. When you don’t get enough, your body can’t perform normal functions, which can drain your energy. More fatigue means less physical activity. Plus, mild dehydration is often masked as hunger -- prompting you to grab a snack when all you really need is water. Nutrisystem experts

- recommend drinking at least eight, 8-ounce glasses daily.
3. Slow down: It takes 20 minutes for the “I’m full” signals from your stomach to reach your brain. When you inhale your food, it’s much easier to eat more than your body really needs. One review of 23 studies found that fast eaters were about twice as likely to be obese, compared to slow eaters. To help slow down, take smaller bites, chew 10 to 15 times and put your fork down between each bite.
4. Don’t eyeball portions: “The super-sized meals at restaurants have given us a skewed view of proper portion size,” says registered dietitian for Nutrisystem, Courtney McCormick.
- Even if you’re tracking your food intake with an app or food journal, overestimating portions can sabotage progress.
- McCormick’s solution: Measure portions -- not forever,

- but for a while at the start. Doing so will help you get a visual of what portions should actually look like. You may also consider eliminating some of the guesswork with a program, such as Nutrisystem, that offers pre-portioned, nutritionally-balanced meals.
5. Reduce stress: Stress can cause your body to burn calories more slowly, which could lead to weight gain, according to a study. Plus, stress increases hormones that stimulate appetite, and the foods you’ll crave for comfort tend to be high in fat and sugar. Help manage stress with deep breathing, meditation, exercise, hanging out with friends or listening to music.
- More tips on jump-starting your weight loss goals can be found at nutrisystem.com.
- With these tips for the new year, you’ll be on the road to realistic weight loss achievement and have more energy for your day-to-day life.

every 26 hours, that equals a lot of chickens at the Voortman ranch!

Did you know that you can tell how fresh an egg is by how high the yolk stands up in the frying pan after you crack it? Voortman's will have your over-easies standing tall. Their fresh eggs are the highest in quality, with dark, nutrient-dense yolks. You will immediately notice a difference in your cooking and baking.

Have you ever wondered how long the eggs in the grocery stores have actually been sitting around? Despite the use-by date, there is really no way to know how long ago they were produced. With Voortman's, the eggs are selected daily, on site, and readied for you in their store.

Third-generation egg rancher, Eddie Voortman, says, “We are a local, family-owned business that provides fresh, quality products to the public.”

Customers of Voortman's rave about their all natural, cage free eggs, touting the freshness, and great pricing. One customer said, “They make the fluffiest scrambled eggs!”

The eggs come in all sizes and colors, depending on your needs. Whatever you choose, you will not be disappointed.

Voortman's is centrally located just minutes from Chino at 13960 Grove Avenue in Ontario (just north of Edison). You can reach Voortman's at (909) 465-1319; and Like them on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Voortmans-Egg-Ranch>.
