"Our entire Eastvale community mourns the loss of Councilmember Ike Bootsma.", said Mayor Jocelyn Yow. "Ike was a remarkable and dedicated public servant who will be greatly missed."

Ike has been a part of the Eastvale community for more than 46 years. Several commu-

So many described Ike as honest and kind, who cared deeply about his family and about the Eastvale community. From holding Halloween events to dressing up as Santa during Christmas, Ike loved making the local kids smile.

A banner was placed at Eastvale City Hall in memory of Councilmember Ike Bootsma with the words: "Leader. Legacy. Loved. Ike Bootsma 1947-2021." In addition, at the monthly Just Move Campaign, the leaders paid tribute to Ike and described how he served the city for many years. City manager, Bryan Jones, also coined the phrase "Be Like Ike" in his speech, according to Matthew Olson's Facebook post. "It brought tears to my eyes," said Olson. "We can learn a lot from this gentleman and the service he gave to our community," added Olson.

Our Life: Who Determines Our Path

BY MICHAEL ARMIJO

While driving one day, I noticed a young man sitting on a park bench. You could tell he was in despair, the way he was just sitting there, staring at the ground. He looked like he had given up.

The man was wearing a muddy shirt, dirty tan pants, a large trash bag that he used as a backpack, and a pair of almost unrecognizable tennis shoes.

His hair was filthy and matted, and he sported an untrimmed beard that looked as though it had been chopped in sections with a dull pair of scissors.

He sat there as though he had no place to go. His head hung down; his eyes seemingly entranced on the ground. The scene reminded me of a small child, bored, thinking he didn't have a friend in the world. I could see hopelessness and sadness in this man's demeanor.

As the cars sped by on the street, the man got up and walked in a slow-paced journey to nowhere. Had he stepped into oncoming traffic, I would have been horror-struck, but not surprised. It would have appeared as though another tragic life had ended without a cause, without a clue, and without a care.

He didn't look angry, but had he been I could have imagined him attacking. Why not lash out at society if you don't care what happens to you? Why not "get even?" This is a sad logic, but as one who watches the news, its today's reality.

As I looked at the man, I wondered if society had failed him; but how much truth does that hold? How responsible is society for the ones that are lost? I believe we have to ask ourselves, who determines our path? Who maps out our life? We've heard so many excuses about responsibility through blame and denial that we allow ourselves to label our lives as dysfunctional. And then we wonder why we turn out differently than others.

After the experiences I've had in life, I now believe we are the creators of our own destiny. We determine where we go, who we are, and who we become. After pointing the finger at society for too long, we need to take responsibility for ourselves. HOWEVER, I will add that as parents, we ARE responsible for providing an honest and fair life, a loving and caring environment, a responsible and healthy example, and a thorough and extensive education for our children. Of course, we shouldn't condemn ourselves if our children do not turn out the way we had hoped. As human beings, there comes a point in time where we need to look ourselves in our own eyes and say; "I honestly did the best I could, with no regrets." Why wish for the chance to do things over, when that is not a possibility? You can only change who you are right now, and move forward doing your best.

I believe that there will be a day of judgment. And on that day we will be forced to look into our own souls and really see who determined our path. So to that young man on the park bench, I hope you are happy with your path.

real estate process, keeping our clients informed with a pro-active approach, and providing a successful and stressless experience from the start to the end of the transaction," said Dary and Judi.

With 15 years of experience in real estate, they provide a hands-on experience, walking with you every step of the way. As a husband-and-wife team, they also provide two times the availability and personal communication throughout the entire transaction.

"We have had existing customers tell us that our team (husband & wife) approach was an unmeasurable value and asset for them," they said.

Dary and Judi are hard-working Realtors looking out for your interests with integrity, honesty, and sincerity. Their business philosophy is "People Helping People" (Phil 2:4) and they will be happy to help in any way!

"We are always there for our clients and encourage them to contact us with any questions at any time," said Dary and Judi.

Dary and Judi are both licensed Realtors with California Department of Realtors and are members of the NAR (National Association of Realtors). They also hold a Housing Community Development (HCD) Sales license. In addition, they are proud to be part of the Advantage Real Estate Team, with a broker that has 35 years of experience, knowledge, and expertise. They are also surrounded by many colleagues with combined years of experience, which is truly an advantage.

The Shumakers work with sellers and buyers of all ages. For sellers, Dary and Judi will gather home comparable data from multiple resources to have a thorough list price analyze to share with you.

"We will customize an expert marketing plan that will maximize the selling of your home. We understand the importance of selling your home as one of your biggest assets, and we take it very seriously and provide you the professional trustworthy service every step along the way," said Dary and Judi.

For buyers, you will pay 0% fees, all while working with great agents that will work hard for you. "We are dedicated to helping you find the right home, at the best price, said Dary and Judi. "We want you to find the home that will make you happy and successful in real estate ownership. Whether you are thinking of buying now or in the future, it is important to have a professional with you who knows everything about the local market, the strategies to get offers accepted, and have access to all off-market properties and opportunities. We have the knowledge, tools, and connections to help you be successful in this competitive market."

Dary and Judi also love working with seniors. They are very experienced in helping the senior community (specifically Baby Boomers) with the downsizing from their existing home and finding their ideal retirement home. "We can help with all types of senior living lifestyles, from senior living condos, manufactured/mobile home parks-senior community living, apartments, etc. We will help make this next step an enjoyable experience, as much as we enjoy helping you through it."

They also offer a special discount for seniors, in addition to Military and First Responders!

Lastly, Dary and Judi are very knowledgeable about this industry. They wanted to share that there is an alternative to purchasing a residential/condo dwelling. "If buyers are unable to qualify for a FHA/Conventional loan or the approved amount is not meeting the amount for the location they want to purchase in, they may and should consider purchasing a manufactured home," said the Shumakers. "We are dual licensed and the benefit of us having a HCD license is we can sell brand new manufactured homes. We have worked with a lot of buyers over the years who felt they could never purchase a home. When we introduced them to another type of dwelling, manufactured homes, it then gave them hope and joy for them to be able to provide a larger and better housing for their family than their current situation, living with family or living in an apartment that they are outgrowing."

If you are thinking about buying or selling your home, call Dary and Judi for a free consultation today! You can reach Dary at 909-927-7028 and Judi at 909-437-6670. You can also email: daryandjudi@gmail.com or visit their website at daryandjudi.com.

nor Roosevelt High School.

"We are thrilled to bring this unique food truck festival experience to our commUNITY and create a foodie experience in Eastvale.", said Bryan Jones, City Manager. "It is also our goal to facilitate new and exciting experiences that will create more vibrancy for our great City."

The City decided to bring EATsvale to town because "Destination Eastvale" is listed as one of the goals identified by the City Council in the Eastvale Strategic Plan in January 2021. Therefore, EATsvale is a City hosted and organized event that is in concert with the current strategic plan initiatives.

This food truck event will allow food vendors who do not have a physical location in Eastvale to sell at an event, while also including restaurants that have a food truck in Eastvale, according to the City.

Preferences will be given to Eastvale residents who have a food truck and we will also be recruiting unique and gourmet food trucks from throughout Southern California. Food vendors at this event will encompass a wide variety of cultures, cuisines, food experiences, and much much more!

We'll see you at the next EATsvale event on Friday, June 18, 2021!

JCSD Receives The Prestigious Presentation Award

JCSD

Eastvale - The Jurupa Community Services District (JCSD) is proud to announce that it is a recipient of the Governmental Finance Officers Association (GFOA) Distinguished Budget Presentation Award for its 2020-2021 fiscal budget.

The award represents a significant achievement by JCSD and reflects the commitment of the JCSD Board of Directors and staff to meeting the highest principles of governmental budgeting. To receive the budget award, JCSD had to satisfy nationally recognized guidelines for effective budget presentation set by GFOA. These guidelines are designed to assess how well an entity's budget serves as a policy document, a financial plan, an operations guide, and a communications device. This is the second year in a row that JCSD has received this prestigious GFOA award.

"It takes a significant amount of hard work and dedication to produce a quality product like the 2020-2021 budget," said JCSD General Manager Chris Berch. "The JCSD team is not only dedicated to preparing such a document, but are focused on providing long term, prudent financial planning for all of our valued customers and stakeholders."

There are over 1,600 participant agencies in the Budget Awards Program throughout the nation, and JCSD is proud to be among these recipients.

Unfulfilled Expectations(Part 1)

MARK HOPPER

Golf can be very enjoyable or very frustrating. Two things that take the joy out of a round of golf are expectations and comparisons. If a golfer expects to have a good score at the end of the day he may be very disappointed. After four or five hours on the golf course, the score may be far different than what the golfer expected or hoped for.

Expectations often result in frustration. This is not only true of a round of golf but in other areas of life too. Unrealistic expectations can cause a wife to become disillusioned. If she expects her husband to bring her flowers and buy her expensive gifts, she may become dissatisfied and disenchanted with her Prince Charming when he fails to fulfill her expectations.

The same can be true for a husband. If he expects a special dinner or an evening filled with romance, he may become bitter and frustrated when those don't happen.

The same can be true in the workplace. If you are expecting a raise or a promotion, you may be disappointed when you learn those aren't the plans your boss has for you this year.

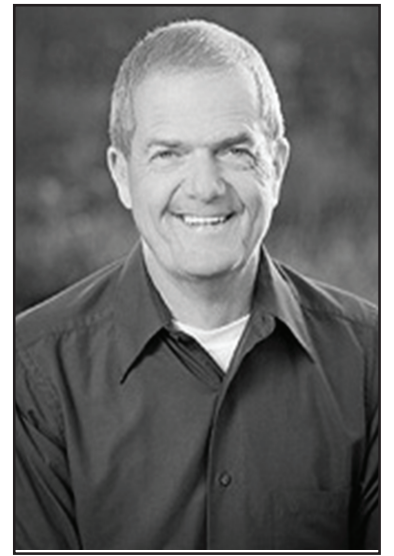

If you expect a coworker to help you with a project or presentation, you may be frustrated when you discover that they didn't get their part of the project done on time.

I am convinced that bitterness and resentment are rooted in unfulfilled expectations. Bitterness is like an acid that slowly erodes a relationship. The Apostle Paul encouraged his readers to put aside bitterness and extend forgiveness to those that have offended us (Ephesians 4:31-32).

If you want to enjoy a round of golf, I recommend you change your expectations.

And, if you want to enjoy your marriage or your job, let me encourage you to change your expectations. Be thankful you have a job and not resentful that you didn't get the promotion. Focus on the good qualities in your spouse rather than their faults. You will be glad you did and they will too!

Read 365 more stories and articles (one for every day of the year) in the book Let me Encourage You by Mark Hopper. You can purchase two copies for only $30 plus postage ($5). Buy one for yourself and one to give a friend. Order your copies at mark@efreedb.org.

Obstructions

DENNIS MORALES

"Trust in the LORD with all your heart, And lean not on your own understanding; In all your ways acknowledge Him, And He shall direct your paths." Proverbs 3:5-6

A newly licensed pilot was flying his private plane on a stormy day. He was not very experienced in instrument landing. When the control tower was to bring him in, he panicked. Then a stern voice came over the radio, "You just obey instructions, we'll take care of any obstructions."

Faith is following God's instructions, even when they don't make sense, even when they don't seem logical or rational. Faith means being obedient (Hebrews 11:1). Our instructions are to simply to "trust the LORD." I can't help but to think how God steers us through the storms in life. He also steers us around any obstructions that the enemy would mean for our distraction. When we find ourselves going through a storm, how quick we can be to try to take the rudder to try to steer through. Every storm has its elements. Debris, wind, rain, and diminished visibility. These obstacles can take you off course quite easily or distract us if we are focused on them. Obstacles in life can come in the form of division, jealousy, depression, anxiety, and fear. The enemy wants to simply take our focus off of what God is able to do and he tries to get us to focus on what we are not able to do. The more we dedicate ourselves to obey Gods instruction, the less we tend to worry about what we can't do. We find ourselves trusting what God is doing, and we find His direction. God is determined to guide us through the inevitable difficulties of life. When we trust God in the storms, we find that joy can be present even in the storm. We will many times find that even when we come to meet the storm, that the storm actually takes us where we need to be. Trust the Lord today and allow Him to take care of the obstructions and lead you through to His path. Due to school closures, Calvary Chapel Eastvale is temporarily meeting in a "Drive In format" at American Heroes Park in Eastvale. Livestream, YouTube Live, and Facebook Live are also available at 8:30am and 10:30am Sundays. All midweek services can be viewed on Facebook

Autism Mom: Autism Tired

MELODY KRAEMER

We, as moms/parents, get tired. Oh, do we get tired! Though mom tired and autism mom tired are two different things. Autism tired is everything that is mom tired amplified up at least ten times more. Every moment is watching, listening, caring for a child as if they were two years old though they are ten years old.

My boy has no idea what danger is. We have high locks on the doors, and we have installed a gate in front of the house. Every little thing like paper, paperclips, small objects, you name it has been in my child's mouth. One time it was a bee. One time getting off the bus, it was an open safety pin. If I say spit it out only four times for the day, it's a good day. One day he decided to get the electric razor and shave his head.

The most used phrase in our house is, where are you?

Yes, as parents, we all get tired and emotionally drained.

Though as children grow, they go through stages of life. An autistic child can, like my child, stay at the same stage of childhood mentally for many years before they advance. However, the outside of their body continues to grow with their age. There are many challenges and obstacles to raising autistic children. If you are raising an autistic child(ren), know you are not alone and many others know how tired you are, including me.

Galatians 6:9 NIV

9 Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.

Happy Mother's Day Mom

NANCY STOOPS

This month was Mother's Day and so I dedicate this one to my wonderful mom. She was an amazing woman. No matter what life threw her way she just kept going. She passed away two years ago at the age of ninety-four years old. She had lost both of her sons and her husband but she refused to give up and I admired her so. She tried to enjoy each day and did it with a positive attitude. I know it's that attitude that had kept her alive all those years.

Let me tell you about my mother's heart. She was so loving, kind, and is always giving to others. She would always lend an ear to hear somebody else's troubles and was just such a good human being. She was very generous with what she had and would never let anybody go without. She was continually helping her friends and her family. She just wanted the people she loved to have what they needed and to be happy.

I'm very proud to have had this wonderful woman as my mom. She has taught me many valuable lessons and was always there for me. As a little girl, she told me I could fly and I believed her. She taught me there are no limits for what I can become and what I can do in this world. She always praised me, so that I would grow into a confident woman and it worked. So, mom, I thank you for believing in me and teaching me to believe in myself. I want you to know I wouldn't be who I am without all of your love, guidance, encouragement, support, and all of the faith you have always had in me. I want you to know that it will always be an honor to be your daughter and that every year that you were here with me was a gift!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Councilmember Bootsma passes away

will be remembering Ike at their next Meeting on Wednesday, May 26. They encouraged the community to say a few words about Ike via in person or online.

Ike was one of the youngest children of nine, to Dutch immigrant parents Trynje and Jim Bootsma. The Bootsma family started their dairy in 1938 and were one of the first to settle in Chino Valley. Ike started a successful Calf Ranch in Eastvale in 1974 until its closing in May 2007. "The Calf Ranch was an important component of the dairy industry, where they raised calves for Dairy replacement," according to a City news release. "Ike started what became known as "contract" raising. It was a very good enterprise and worked well for the Dairy industry and for his family."

Ike then served on the City Eastvale City Council from 2010 through 2016, along with four terms as Mayor from 2013 to 2016. "While on the City Council, Ike represented the City on several regional boards, including Western Riverside Council of Governments and the Riverside Transit Agency," stated the City. Ike and his wife, Squeaker, were also very active with the Eastvale Kiwanis Club and have helped raised money each year to provide Eleanor Roosevelt

High School students with college scholarships. They were active in the Eastvale Roadway Adoption Program and have kept city streets free of litter by participating in monthly street clean up events. In addition, Ike was an active member of the local Eastvale Chamber of Commerce. Ike was then re-elected to the Eastvale City Council in November of 2020, representing District 5.

Ike Bootsma is survived by his wife, Squeaker, and his children Shaun Bootsma, Heidi Tillman, Mike Kirk, Metchelle Bootsma, and six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Memorial service information is not yet announced to the community.
