Plott Appointed As Councilmember

Brandon Plott

STAFF REPORTS

Eastvale - At the June 23 City Council meeting, Brandon Plott was unanimously appointed to fill the City Council seat that was vacant, due to Councilmember Ike Bootsma passing away last month. Plott will fill the position until the November 8, 2022 election results are certified. The remaining two years of the District 5 term will be up for a Special Election in November 2022.

Councilmember Plott previously served on the City Council from 2016 through 2020 and recently served as Mayor of the City of Eastvale in 2020.

During the 2020 election, Plott announced that he was not running for re-election because he was going to spend time with his family. However, after he was appointed at the June meeting, he clarified why he is more than willing to serve on the City Council now. On a social media post, he stated he was going through a foster to adopt process at the time of re-election, so he was uncertain of the time constraints of running a re-election campaign. Since then, he and his wife were "successful and blessed of fostering a new baby boy." He has spent several months adjusting to the new addition to his family and stated, "I'm confident to dedicate my time to the City and to our Residents, while still spending quality time with the Family." He added, "As always feel free to reach out to me if you have any question. I'm always available."

Banners Go Up For ERHS Seniors

STAFF REPORTS

Eastvale - The Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS) Class of 2021 has officially graduated! Banners were recently displayed to honor the seniors that will be attending college next year.

The City partnered with ERHS to install 45 graduation banners along Scholar Way and Citrus Street for the seniors that were accepted to a 4-year college or university. Funds for the banners were approved by the Eastvale City Council in April 2021 to support the ERHS graduation banner program.

"In addition to being an important fundraising activity for the high school, the grad banners serve as a source of inspiration for the younger, school age children in in our community," stated the City on a social media post.

In a separate post, the City showed their excitement for the graduating class. "We wanted to take a moment to congratulate all of our Eleanor Roosevelt High School graduating seniors and say how proud we are of the dedication, perseverance, and strength these seniors have shown during this this past year," stated the City.

"We also want to congratulate and acknowledge all the other students who were promoted at our intermediate and elementary schools!"

William Radcliffe Is An Attorney You Can Trust

STAFF REPORTS

Chino Hills - Hiring an attorney can be very intimidating and let's face it the industry doesn't exactly have a "trustworthy" reputation. We should be careful and ask some questions when we do need an attorney. What questions should we ask before we actually hire an attorney? First, how long have they been practicing law? Second, who are they, what evidence do we have of their honesty and integ-

Our Life: When Are We No Longer Parents?

BY MICHAEL ARMIJO

It was only a 45-minute drive, but I arrived at the site. It took me another 10 minutes to find his "section," but we were soon in the vicinity of where his life was laid to rest. As I paced each headstone, I had an eerie vision of him lying beneath the surface, watching me pace the yard, while his spirit yearned for me. Almost as though he was screaming, "I'm over here," in a silent spirit.

I walked up to his plaque and I stared at the etching in the stone. I reluctantly read the words, "Cipriano Armijo, beloved man of God." And after kneeling down on the soft, damp, green grass, I relaxed my body over the 8 by 4 foot section of landscape that was the last home to daddy's body. I traced each word on the plaque with my hand, etching each letter of his name with my fingers.

When I knelt, I looked down upon the freshly cut, softened soil and confessed all the things that have happened since he left this earth. I explained to the ground, and to the bronze piece of metal that bears his name, my life without daddy with hopes his spirit heard my deepest fears and my strongest accomplishments. I told him that I had hoped he was proud of me, as my life had followed strange paths that have given me journeys of learning and routines of pain. Since his departure, life had become interesting and successful, yet painful and confusing.

When I sat at his gravesite, I realized what a misconception the phrase: "I no longer have parents, they died." Because when I knelt at his site I held myself accountable of my actions and perceptions of life, just as when he was alive. I relayed the message; "I know you're there, I know you're watching." As I crept to my knees, I still had a father and I still had someone to answer to.

I believe that parents are forever. Good or bad, their behavior and their actions stay in our memories. I believe that we never end our influence on our children, we never stop being parents. That's why it's so important that we do a good job each day while we're here on earth; we have no guarantee of how long we're going to be here. When we're gone, when our heart stops and our spirit rises to the world beyond our hearts and minds, we can only hope that we've loved enough, lived enough, and laughed enough for our children to remember our lives as a benefit to their own, because we do live in their hearts forever.

Someday, when our own children kneel on the soft, moist, green grass that lies our last home to our bodies, we can only hope the tears that fill our children's eyes and hearts are tears of love that yearn for us to forever watch over their joyous lives. This will remind them that we'll never, ever, stop being their parents.

...rity? Third, do we believe they actually care about us, our case and not just the money? Also we have to ask can we afford the legal fees and will this firm give me the most bang for my buck?

In a society where money is king and less costs more with every passing day finding an attorney that we can trust and afford can be like finding a needle in a haystack.

William Radcliffe is the attorney that not only answers these questions positively but exceeds expectations in his areas of expertise.

William became one of the youngest attorneys in California at the age of 23. He began his career 32 plus years ago working with his father John Radcliffe, a well-known and respected personal injury attorney in Covina.

In 1986 William married his wife Bonnie who was a legal secretary at a law firm in Ontario at the time. "Bonnie's Paralegal" processed uncontested divorces and became very successful while William continues to work with his father. After some time William decided to start his own law practice and with Bonnie's business serving as a client base it was a no brainer for them. William Radcliffe Law Offices became one of the first law firms that offered traditional attorney representation as well as assisting people in representing themselves in cases that didn't really need attorney assistance.

In the 1990's the business expanded their services to bankruptcies and a few years later added Wills and Trusts to their growing list of services. "Experience in the area of your need is important" says William. "I think someone who will try to keep the Client's legal expenses to a minimum is important and that is what got us to where we are today" William added. William said, "We know that not everybody can afford a large legal retainer and no one wants to spend more money than is necessary so if all they need is a paralegal we are there for them".

Whether you need traditional attorney representation or simply some legal assistance The Law office of William Radcliffe will assess your case and do "whatever it takes" to give you the most cost effective legal assistance plan available today.

"Every Client will receive hands on personal service from an attorney every step of the way through their case" says William. William Radcliffe law offices are always keeping their eyes open to what the latest needs might be for future clients. They are constantly looking at what other offices are doing and what the current trends are for the legal needs of the people. "We now see that mediation is a common trend in the industry today and that ties into our philosophy of helping our clients avoid runaway attorney fees". William Radcliffe is bringing these philosophies to Orange County to help even more people by showing them that there is somebody out there trying to help them with this need in an industry that just put simply doesn't have that type of reputation.

The main office is in Chino/Chino Hills but they also see clients in their home office in San Clemente where he and Bonnie reside. They are involved in the Children's Ministry at Saddleback Church in San Clemente and provide legal service to the public at the church's PEACE center.

Bankruptcy, Wills, Trusts and Divorces contested and uncontested services available at reasonable prices. You can contact William Radcliffe at (909)597-3633 or docoflaw@aol.com. Go to www.docoflaw.com for further information.

Changed Your Expectations (Part 2)

Mark Hopper

In my previous article I shared how unfulfilled expectations can result in frustration. That is true when you are playing a round of golf. If you expect to play well and get a good score, you may find yourself discouraged and disappointed by the end of the day. Your score may be a lot worse than you expected!

I believe there are many married couples who are disillusioned after years of marriage. They started married life filled with hopes and dreams. But as the years passed they found themselves frustrated and disappointed. Their married life has not turned out the way they expected it would.

There is a powerful song in the musical Les Miserables where a woman expressed her heartache about the way her life has turned out. It is titled – “I Dreamed a Dream”. Some of the lyrics are:

“I dreamed a dream in days gone by, when hope was high and life worth living – I dreamed that love would never die, I dreamed that God would be forgiving. Then it all went wrong”

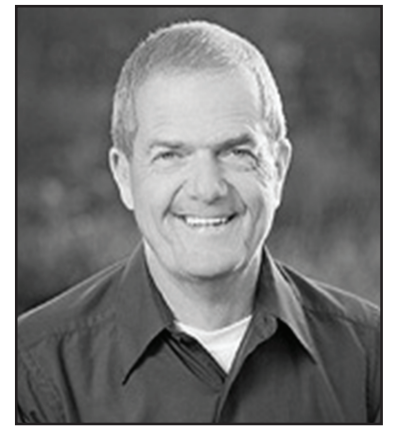

Those words may express how you feel about your marriage. But I want to urge you to not give up hope and don't give up trying. God loves to repair relationships and restore marriages.

One of the things that can undermine a marriage is unfulfilled expectations. Spouses can become bitter and resentful when their hopes and dreams are not met. One of the best things you can do is change your expectations. Don't wait for the other person to change – look for ways you can change your expectations with God's help.

Years ago we met a wonderful couple during my summer internship in El Centro, California. The husband was a cattle rancher. He rarely got home on time for dinner. His wife was frustrated. Dinner was ready and the kids were hungry. But she decided to change her attitude and not expect him to be home for dinner. She realized that cattle, fences and water pumps may need immediate attention. She decided to just feed the kids when dinner was ready and warm up dinner for her husband when he got home. She changed her expectations and it reduced the level of stress on their relationship. Let me encourage you to change your attitude and your actions. Change your expectations. Ask God to change your heart. Be willing to forgive others that you feel have hurt you (Ephesians 4:32). You will be glad you did and they will too.

Read 365 more stories and articles (one for every day of the year) in the book Let me Encourage You by Mark Hopper. You can purchase two copies for only $30 plus postage ($5). Buy one for yourself and one to give a friend. Order your copies at mark@efreedb.org.

Strength

Pastor Dennis Morales

Cast your burden on the Lord, and he will sustain you; he will never permit the righteous to be moved. Psalm 55:12

We read of Daniel being a fearless follower of God (Daniel 2). The Babylonians were trying to assimilate the young Jewish males in order to control them. They knew the young men had strong religious ties, so the Babylonians sought to change the names of the young men, change their worship, and change their diet. Daniel resisted the king's delicacies, purposing in his heart not to defile himself and honor God. Another occasion finds Daniel resisting mandated worship of the king and continued to pray to his God. Scripture says that “when Daniel learned that the law had been signed, he went home and knelt down as usual in his upstairs room, with its windows open toward Jerusalem. He prayed three times a day, just as he had always done, giving thanks to his God” (Daniel 6:10). As a result, Daniel eventually finds himself in the lion's den, where God delivers him. You can't help but to notice a truth in this Biblical account of Daniel. God delivers Daniel while in the lion's den. As we walk with the Lord, we can experience God delivering us from our troubles on occasion. Many times, our prayers are requests for God to take us out of any given difficulty. One of the things that may be hard to process is that sometimes God wants to deliver us while in the time of difficulty. No doubt, the Lord was with Daniel in the lion's den and God delivers him. What gave Daniel the strength to stand against the enemy? In Daniel 6:10, it says that Daniel “always prayed.” He was accustomed to praying. Daniel heard God often, and it would appear that Daniel drew strength from his prayers. Do you need strength today? You will find great strength in kneeling before the Lord (Philippians 4:7). Due to school closures, Calvary Chapel Eastvale is temporarily meeting in a “Drive In format” at American Heroes Park in Eastvale. Livestream, YouTube Live, and Facebook Live are also available at 8:30am and 10:30am Sundays. Starting Sunday JULY 11, Calvary Eastvale will be moving to a new location at Eastvale Elementary School.

Autism Mom: God Is Always In Control

Melody Kraemer

Sometimes I worry, I get frustrated, and anxiety fills my soul. I am uncertain about things and I get overwhelmed. Just the other day, I felt all these emotions and felt consumed with what we were going to do. I had bought Disneyland tickets and reserved our day for June 1st.

I started to panic a little after reading that there was no tram. Instead, you would have to walk from the parking garage to Disneyland.

Though my stress was more about, you had to walk back after a big day at Disneyland with two autistic boys.

Plus, I was reading where it was best to line up at the parking garage before they opened.

Oh, the thought of waking my boys up very early and getting them out the door, I could feel the stress rise within me. I started to think maybe I should have never bought the tickets and said a prayer, Dear God, what am I going to do, help.

Then out of the blue came an invite to spend two nights at The Howard Johnson Hotel in Anaheim by The Mommy Blogger Tribe I belong to. It just so happened it was from May 31st to June 2nd. I had no clue this hotel was right across the street from Disneyland and within walking distance until we checked in.

I couldn't have asked for more of a perfect two days at the hotel and a fun-filled day at Disneyland.

It's incredible how things work out when you turn them over to God.

Joshua 1:9 NIV Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go.”

Find Peace With Meditation

Nancy Stoops

I have been meditating daily since I was a teenager and now, I am sixty-five and am very peaceful in my mind, body and spirit. There are three different ways that I would recommend that you start meditation. The first one can be done daily with those of you that take walks. As you are walking pay attention to the rhythm of your walk. Practice paying attention to the rhythm as each foot moves. Make that rhythm all that you are focusing on. Any time your mind starts to wonder or think about anything take your focus back to the rhythm of your walk. The second way to meditate is to just focus on your breathing. You should be breathing deep from within your diaphragm not your chest. Once again just focus on your breathing just like the rhythm of your walk. If you get distracted or start to think, just go back to focusing on your breathing. The last one is to focus on a word. I like the word peace. So now close your eyes and just see the word peace. When your mind starts to think or you lose your focus just go back to seeing the word peace.

I would recommend you start practicing these forms of meditation for 5-10 minutes daily. Meditation is a very difficult skill to master so be patient with yourself.

Many of my patients were on pharmaceuticals for depression and anxiety and now nobody in my practice uses them anymore. I attribute much of this to the meditation that I include in their sessions and in my free support groups. You are welcome to come and experience a guided meditation and body scan two more forms of meditation led by me in my groups. My groups meet every Monday evening from 6-8p.m. and the first and third Friday of every month from 9a.m.-11a.m. and they are free. Just email me before each group at nancyjstoops@verizon.net and I will send you the link for the zoom group. This article was written by Nancy Stoops M.A., M.F.T. Nancy is a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist. She has a private practice in Diamond Bar and is currently accepting new clients; she is also a motivational speaker who can inspire your employees or group average bird lays one egg about every 26 hours, that equals a lot of chickens at the Voortman ranch!

Did you know that you can tell how fresh an egg is by how high the yolk stands up in the frying pan after you crack it? Voortman's will have your over-easies standing tall. Their fresh eggs are the highest in quality, with dark, nutrient-dense yolks. You will immediately notice a difference in your cooking and baking.

Have you ever wondered how long the eggs in the grocery stores have actually been sitting around? Despite the use-by date, there is really no way to know how long ago they were produced. With Voortman's, the eggs are selected daily, on site, and readied for you in their store.

Third-generation egg rancher, Eddie Voortman, says, "We are a local, family-owned business that provides fresh, quality products to the public."

Customers of Voortman's rave about their all natural, cage free eggs, touting the freshness, and great pricing. One customer said, "They make the fluffiest scrambled eggs!"

The eggs come in all sizes and colors, depending on your needs. Whatever you choose, you will not be disappointed.

Voortman's is centrally located just minutes from Chino at 13960 Grove Avenue in Ontario (just north of Edison). You can reach Voortman's at (909) 465-1319; and Like them on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Voortmans-Egg-Ranch>.
