Eastvale Appoints Acting City Manager

STAFF REPORTS

Eastvale - On January 12, the Eastvale City Council unanimously appointed Henry Garcia as the new Acting City Manager while existing City Manager Bryan Jones' is still on paid administrative leave.

The City's news release stated that Garcia has 30 years of experience in public administration, and he was appointed to ensure fluid city operations during Jones' absence. The City did not say why Jones was taking a leave of absence because they stated that information is confidential. However, the news release said that City Clerk/Communications Director Marc Donohue and Community Development Director Gina Gibson-Williams have been jointly serving as Acting City Managers since Dec. 14.

Garcia has three decades worth of experience in professional public services work, including roles as city manager in Azusa, Colton, Rialto, and Moreno Valley. He has also helped Eastvale facilitate and draft the City Council's strategic plan in 2018 and 2021, according to the City's release.

"Mr. Garcia has the experience, familiarity and knowledge to step seamlessly into this role and continue the momentum, stability, and continuity the city has seen the last couple of years regarding business growth and service expansion," said Mayor Lorimore.

When Garcia's appointment was announced on the City's social media, community members expressed their concerns regarding Garcia's previous position as Moreno Valley City Manager. Garcia was employed while the City of Moreno Valley was facing a corruption investigation in 2013. Garcia resigned at the May 13, 2013 City Council meeting after the probe began.

At the Eastvale City Council meeting on January 12, City Council Member Brandon Plott

Eastvale Approves Two More Deputies

STAFF REPORTS

Eastvale/Norco - The Eastvale City Council recently approved to add additional law enforcement services, including two more deputies and an increase of daily patrol hours. During the City's mid-year budget process, they approved these changes to help Eastvale stay one of the safest cities in the State.

"The Eastvale City Council has always made public safety a top priority through previous strategic plan discussions and continued that commitment through the 2021-2022 strategic plan update," stated the City in a news release. "After the City of Eastvale residents supported Measure A, the City Council passed a resolution in April 2021, to enhance and elevate law enforcement services for the Eastvale community."

The City added two additional special enforcement team (SET) deputies during the adoption of the 2021-2022 fiscal year budget last year. But since then, the City has continued their commitment by adding additional patrol hours and more deputies. The City stated in a social media post that they do not have plans to form their own Police Department at this time. "We are committed to our partnership with the Riverside County Sheriff's Department," said the City in the post. "A special thank you to the Riverside County Sheriff's Department for their continued partnership and dedication to help keep our community safe!" said the City.

Tint Your Windows At Mr. Tint

STAFF REPORTS

Norco - Car window tinting is one of the best ways to improve the look and comfort of your vehicle. You can protect the interior of the vehicle from sun damage by tinting the windows. Sunlight and heat can cause your interior, like seats and the dashboard, to fade, crack and deteriorate. Window tinting reduces the sunlight allowed into the vehicle, which in turn reduces how hot it gets inside your car. Likewise, homes and offices heat up during the day, and trying to keep your air-conditioner ahead of the game

On Being Human

MICHAEL ARMIJO

Ever since I was in 7th Grade I wanted to be a writer. I didn't want to just tell a story or discuss life as it happened, but I wanted to share how I felt about things. I wanted to create emotion and somehow help someone understand that it's okay to be human. I thought if I helped people understand certain things, then they wouldn't have to go through all that I've endured (and Lord knows I've endured).

My family and friends have told me they like what I've written. They've appreciated how I've shared my life, feelings, and thoughts with them. This has given me some fulfillment, but not exactly what I had been reaching for completely. I guess throughout my life I've wanted to help people because I felt just a little bit different than everyone else, and when I wrote it made me feel a little bit closer to being human. Then one day, it finally happened.

In the first issue of our paper, I wrote an article entitled, "Some Things Are Forever." It was a story about my father's death, what had happened, and how I felt about it. It was one of the most fulfilling stories I had ever written as I spoke directly from my heart. A few days later something happened. I received a letter from someone I'll call Agnes - because that's her name. Agnes wrote of her father's death, what happened, and how she felt about it. She wrote of how her father died on New Year's Eve, and while everyone was wishing each other a Happy New Year, she just sat by a window with a heavy heart. She spoke of that one corner of your heart that will grieve forever, and that there is no replacement. She found comfort in my article, as she felt very alone.

"My hands are shaking as I write this," Agnes wrote. "This touched me and helped me at a time I needed it the most." I understood what she was saying, what she was feeling, and for the first time in a long time I realized that I wasn't alone, either.

My 7th Grade dream became a reality when Agnes opened up. She shared something because I shared something. She reminded me that we all have a common thread; we need each other to survive. I felt reassured that my grief was shared by many and that I will survive after all. I also realized something that we sometimes forget: we need each other's acceptance, each other's care, a soft word, a short note, or a sign of acknowledgement from one another. We need to know that in this harsh, rebellious world, there are people like us who care, who survive, who have the ability to live, love, and laugh. We need to stick together, because life can be a battle. And with the help of others, I have realized that dreams can come true. The different emotions that I've experienced throughout my life have often been a mystery to me. I've told myself that I am just like everyone else; I'm not any different than anyone around me. But a little thought deep inside quite often tells me, you're not completely like everyone else. When I look around at all the violence, pain, suffering, abuse and so on, I wonder what actually makes people human. Then I think of people like Agnes - who share their experiences, who've reached out to say that they care, who believe in community - and I realize that it's all-inclusive. I realize it's okay to be human after all.

addressed these concerns by saying Garcia had nothing to do with the corruption and that the District Attorney (DA) cleared Garcia of being involved. He explained that the investigation was surrounding a Moreno Valley City Council Member accepting bribes. Plott reassured the community that they looked into everything surrounding this investigation, researched the articles, and talked it over with one another.

He expressed his support of appointing Garcia by saying, "I have seen nothing but the best here when working with Henry, and I expect nothing but the best." However, he felt it was needed to bring up those concerns posted on social media. "I just wanted to comment on that and clear the air," Plott said at the meeting.

Council Member Jocelyn Yow added to this topic by saying, "I'll be honest with everyone, I had my reservations," referring to appointing Garcia. But she explained she reviewed each article surrounding the investigation and spoke to Moreno Valley Council Members. She concluded that Garcia's involvement was unfounded and he was the right choice for Acting City Manager. Yow explained that they need an Acting City Manager right now and Garcia has experience in the City and with City Staff, so he was the best choice at this time for this position. She admitted she would not have chosen him for a permanent position, but sees him in this temporary position for a few months at most.

Council Member Christian Dinco discussed the topic of a permanent position earlier in the meeting as he said Garcia being a CalPERS annuitant would benefit the City. Dinco explained that Garcia already has the city manager experience to fill their current need, but will not be interested in a permanent position in the future.

Eastvale Mayor Lorimore showed his support of Garcia's appointment in the City's new release. "With Mr. Garcia's depth of experience helping cities run smoothly, Eastvale will benefit from his knowledge in consensus building, strategic planning and goal setting to help further our strategic goals as we head into 2022," said Lorimore.

Garcia also expressed his excitement to be appointed as the new Acting City Manager. "The City has many goals to work on in 2022, and I'm honored to help guide City staff toward achieving the objectives set forth in the strategic plan," said Garcia. "By maintaining fiscal strength, protecting public safety, bolstering the city's infrastructure, and supporting local businesses, we will collaboratively expand opportunity in the City of Eastvale."

Fear of Heights

Mark Hopper

There are a lot of things you probably didn't know about your spouse before you got married. But when you begin married life together you may discover some things you weren't aware of. One of the things that I didn't realize was that my wife was afraid of heights. I learned this on our honeymoon when we met the church youth group on the back-packing trip into Havasu Canyon. I rode in a helicopter from the rim to the campground in five minutes while my new wife hiked into the canyon with most of the students for five hours.

One of the activities during our four days in Havasu Canyon was climbing down to the bottom of the Mooney Falls. This was a steep climb through a couple of small caves and down the face of the canyon wall using steel pegs and chains. My wife didn't want to participate in the climb to the bottom of Mooney Falls but I insisted everyone had to come. She wasn't very happy but she did make it down with the others. However, the climb back up was very frightening. She froze about half way up and couldn't move. It took a lot of pleading and encouraging to get her back to the top. I had no idea how afraid she was of heights.

A few years later we led a group of teenagers on a ski trip from Dallas to Colorado.

We chartered a bus that left on Christmas night and returned on New Year's Eve. We stayed at a church camp outside of Denver and enjoyed four days of skiing in the Rocky Mountains.

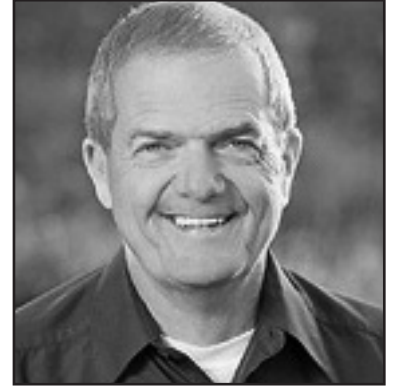

My wife and I had no experience skiing. But we were willing to try. The students were quick learners but we struggled to figure it out. After a day of basic lessons we ventured up the slopes on the chair lift. My wife didn't like being so far off the ground and was worried about getting off the ski lift at the top of the mountain.

Things went okay while we followed a level trail to the ski slope. When we turned the corner and looked at the slope it was breathtaking. It looked like we were going straight downhill. Did I mention that my wife was afraid of heights? It was a long fright-filled struggle down the slope. After that my wife decided she preferred to stay in the ski lodge and drink hot chocolate and leave the skiing to the younger students.

All of us are afraid of something – spiders, the dark, flying and heights. There are many verses in the Bible that say, "Fear not for I am with you" (Joshua 1:8 / Isaiah 41:10). Let me encourage you to face your fears and trust God to help you when you are in a fearful situation. You will be glad you did and He will too.

He Will Show You

Pastor Dennis Morales

"...Leave your country, your family, and your father's home for a land that I will show you." - Genesis 12:1

It can be tough after 2 years of pandemic to really gather up any hope for a better year this year, but we make the best of it and hope for a better outcome. Sometimes in God's economy, He will lead us to take a step of faith not revealing where He's taking us. Hebrews 11 is known as the hall of faith. We see many people in the Bible leading with steps of faith. They're ordinary men and women taking great steps of faith. God told Abraham to leave his homeland, and trust where He would lead him and his family. Hebrews 11 gives us insight to Genesis 12. It was by faith that Abraham obeyed when God called him to leave home and go to another land that God would give him as his inheritance. He went without knowing where he was going (Hebrews 11:8). God cares about your future (Jeremiah 29:11). So many people walk fearfully through the days and months because they don't know who to trust. But rest assured, God "will show you." God may not map out all the details for you. It would be nice sometimes to know everything now, like who we'll marry, where you'll be in 10 years, or what will be our profession. But God "will show you." He will take you one step at a time. When He takes you through a door, He will direct you to the next one. Abraham was called by God to leave his homeland and go to an unknown place that "God would show him." God chose Abraham from a place of idols and took him to a place of faith in Him. Put your trust in God (Proverbs 3:5-6), walk by faith, and "He will show you" (Hebrews 11:1). Corrie Ten Boom once said, "Never be afraid to trust an unknown future to a known God."

Happy New Year

Melody Kraemer

I don't know about you, but I am happy to see the New Year. 2021 had many challenges, more than I would like to admit. My husband and I even ended the year with a positive Covid test.

Thankfully by the Grace of God, my boys are fine and healthy.

We made it through Christmas, but the remainder of the year was a blur.

Now onto a New Year, which brings us a brand new slate, a blank book, to write/draw our story and we are the painters and authors of that story.

It's time to set those goals and figure out what we want for the year to bring. I'm vowing to make 2022 a beautiful year, a colorful one, and create magic along the way. Let's make those dreams of what we want and think about happen.

Each day, find the good and see those blessings in front of us. Let's shine and smile more. Let's all move forward to kindness and leave bitterness, hatefulness in 2021. Any mistakes, forgive yourself, forgive others, and leave it behind you.

It's time to move forward and write your most beautiful story ever. I wish you and your loved ones a very blessed, happy New Year.

You are the master of your own story. Write it well, and may 2022 be the year filled with nothing but God's blessing, and may all your goals and dreams become a reality.

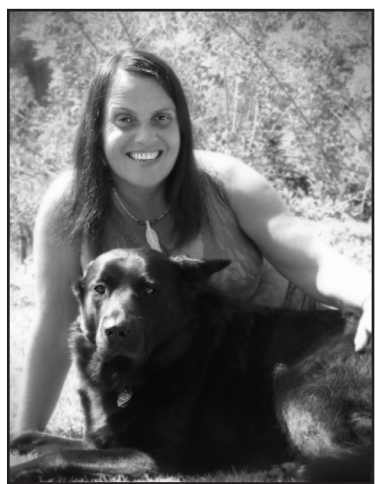

Philippians 3:13-14 (NIV) :

Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus.

Free Counseling is Available

Nancy Stoops

For the past twenty-five years I have had the honor of facilitating a free counseling group every Monday evening. Our group meets at the Walnut Senior Center located at 21215 La Puente Road in the city of Walnut. We meet year-round from 6-8p.m. every Monday unless it is a holiday. My contact number is 909 229-0727 should you have any questions. You do not need to have any appointment to attend this group you are all free to drop by anytime. This group satisfies many court mandated needs.

Even though this group meets at a senior center I invite people of all ages with all types of issues. This group helps parents, students, teens, children and all people that are just struggling in their lives. My goal is to just make our community be healthier and make its' population be effective in their lives and create successful human beings. We work on any array of issues that many people present day are dealing with. There is no reason for anybody to be stuck in an unhealthy place.

If you are tired of the fight between you and your child regarding homework or need some more effective ways to communicate this is the group for you. Maybe depression or anxiety seems to be holding you or a loved one back and finding solutions could be life changing. If you or somebody you know is struggling with drugs or drinking this group is a great place to get some coping skills to get clean. We talk about ways to deal with bullies and how damaging it can be for somebody's self-esteem. Bring in an issue and I promise you will feel hopeful and have new tools to help you confront the issue head on. Don't let embarrassment stop you or a loved one from getting the help you need to reclaim the wonderful life you are so deserving of.

machine can handle about 36,000 eggs per hour at its peak. If the average bird lays one egg about every 26 hours, that equals a lot of chickens at the Voortman ranch!

Did you know that you can tell how fresh an egg is by how high the yolk stands up in the frying pan after you crack it? Voortman's will have your over-easies standing tall. Their fresh eggs are the highest in quality, with dark, nutrient-dense yolks. You will immediately notice a difference in your cooking and baking.

Have you ever wondered how long the eggs in the grocery stores have actually been sitting around? Despite the use-by date, there is really no way to know how long ago they were produced. With Voortman's, the eggs are selected daily, on site, and readied for you in their store.

Third-generation egg rancher, Eddie Voortman, says, "We are a local, family-owned business that provides fresh, quality products to the public."

Customers of Voortman's rave about their all natural, cage free eggs, touting the freshness, and great pricing. One customer said, "They make the fluffiest scrambled eggs!"

The eggs come in all sizes and colors, depending on your needs. Whatever you choose, you will not be disappointed.

Voortman's is centrally located just minutes from Chino at 13960 Grove Avenue in Ontario (just north of Edison). You can reach Voortman's at (909) 465-1319; and Like them on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Voortmans-Egg-Ranch>.
